No. 5

School Board Progressive

The school board of District No. 95, composed of Mrs. J. F. Sims, chairman; E. D. Myers and Archie Lindley, held a meeting Friday evening and transacted considerable business.

The main question to settle was whether the district would meet the outside competition for high school students and pay transportation to and from school. This question had been a burning one for the past two or more years, and with the opening but 17 days away, the school board climbed onto the progressive wagon and said "Yes, we will," and appropriated $3 per pupil per month for transportation to all outside the district. Prof. Watenpaugh is now busy getting in touch with parents and prospective pupils, and it is expected the largest enrollment in the history of the school will result. A wise move, we believe, and the school board should be congratulated.

A typewriter was ordered purchased, and a telephone ordered installed in the principal's office. The plumbing was also ordered placed in good repair.

School starts Monday, Sept. 21, and the following are the instructors: H. L. Watenpaugh, principal, and Miss Edith Pentney, assistant; Mrs. Kenneth Sims, domestic science; 6th, 7th, 8th grades, Emmett Caldwell; 3d, 4th, 5th grades, Mrs. Alta Rodgers; 1st and 2d grades, Mrs. Grace Edwards.

Presbyterian Notes

Rev. J. Y. Stewart will hold regular services in the Christian church Sunday morning. The subject of the sermon will be "The Greatness of the Man in the Kingdom of Heaven." Services at Mt. Pleasant at 2 p. m.

The Presbytery of Willamette will meet in the First Presbyterian church in Albany on Tuesday, Sept. 15, at 7:30 p. m., and continue in session all day Wednesday, including evening. These meetings are public and all are invited to attend. "The Interests of the Home" will be the subject Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Miller are moving to Newport for the benefit of Mrs. Miller's health. L. C. Osborn and family will occupy the Miller home.

Attention, School Children

It has been decided to enter a float in the Linn County Fair on Children's Day again this year, we are informed. The Scio float won a silver cup last year and it is hoped that the float this year will be even better than the one last year.

For the purpose of finding out how many children in the grades will go, a box has been placed in the Couey store, where the children will write their names on a piece of paper and drop it in the box. Before doing this a child should consult its parents so that the number will be accurate, and as Tuesday, Sept. 15, is the last day for filing, the time is short and the children have to make it snappy. Primary pupils must be accompanied by parents, but trucks will be furnished, one for the girls and one for the boys, in the other grades. Do it today.

Further information can be had of Prof. Watenpaugh or Mrs. Alta Rodgers. Let's win the prize again this year.

Building House to Save Rent

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hassler will move about the 20th of this month to the Grandma Compton property, west of the school house. Mrs. Emeline Hassler, who now lives on route 3, will move to her property now occupied by her son, Henry, as soon as he gets moved to the Compton property.

Otis and Clifford Compton, who have been occupying the Grandma Compton house, have taken out a permit from the city to erect a one-story two-room frame house on ground owned by their mother, Mrs. Jane Compton, in the southwest part of town. The boys believe it is cheaper to own their own home than to pay rent, even if taxes are a little high.

Will Attend O. A. C.

Ray McKnight came home Sunday from Mill City where he had been working for the past two years, and is making preparations to enter O. A. C. this fall where he will take the course in engineering.

Misses Estella Vsetecka and Anna Dolezal, graduates of the Scio high school, class of '25, will enter O. A. C. this fall. Miss Dolezal expects to train for a teacher in vocational work. Miss Vsetecka has not fully decided, but will probably take the course in pharmacy.

Twelve Days Until

The county fair is almost upon us and there is only 12 days until it opens its gates for the people to see what promises to be the best county fair ever staged in Linn county. It will be noticed that the fair starts on Tuesday, Sept. 22, and ends Friday night, Sept. 25, thus ignoring the old belief that a fair must be held over Saturday in order to bring people in and thus make Saturday a banner day in attendance at the fair and in business for the merchant. Business and pleasure never did mix.

Two pageants will be given again this year under the direction of Mrs. Charles Childs, who so successfully conducted the pageants last year, and will be given on Wednesday evening a combined band concert and musical entertainment will be given. Friday is Children's Day, and every school boy and girl will be admitted free.

On Friday the schools of the county will vie with each other for special trophy cups and diplomas in the grand parade on the race course before the grandstand, and in maypole winding exercises. The Officers Reserve Corps of O A C will provide a special racing and amusement program that will please all. The entire racing program for the four days will be under the direction of the Officers Reserve Corps, which is a guarantee of clean races.

The livestock is growing, and the largest exhibit of purebred stock is to be there ever in the history of the county fair. We understand Ed Posvar is preparing some of his fine cattle for entry, and if all those we mentioned last week enter, this community ought to bring home the prizes.

It will be a big fair, no mistake.

Stock Sold Well

The dispersal sale of the fine Holstein herd of R. R. Preever Monday was well attended, and the dinner served by the Crabtree ladies aid was all one could wish. The sale started as per schedule, and in the hands of a good auctioneer, fair prices prevailed, ranging from $25 to $185 per head, and averaging $140 per head. Mr. Preever expects to winter in California, and in the spring will return to Albany, where he has purchased property.

To Men Only

No doubt the Z C B J hall will be well filled tonight, when Rev. Matthews of Gervais comes here to deliver an address to men only, which is scheduled for 8 o'clock. All men of any or no religious beliefs are invited.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bilyeu went to Eugene Tuesday.

Schools to Open

The schools of this community are getting ready to open their doors this month, and the best indication of this fact is the "happy" faces exhibited by the children of school age. So far as we have been able to get information the following is the school, teacher and date of the opening:

Bergen Hollow, Miss Velma Gearhart (2d term), Sept. 21.

Mt. Pleasant, Miss Mabel Schultz, date not set.

Cole school, Mrs. Gobelby (2d term), Sept. 21.

Sam Gaines school, Miss Lois Holteem, Sept. 21.

Jordan, J. N. Bilyeu (3d term), Sept. 21.

Bilyeu Den, Miss Margaret Miller, Oct. 5.

District No. 1, Miss Bonita DeVaney, Sept. 21.

Providence, Mr. Gibbons (2d term) date not known.

Munkers, Mrs. Blume, began last Tuesday.

Shelburn, Miss Doris Meisner, Sept. 21.

Riverview, Ralph McDonald (6th term) date not set.

Arnold school, Miss Kish (2d term), Sept. 21.

Richardson Gap, Mrs. Jessie Colwell (2d term), Sept. 21.

Shindler, Miss Jessie Cox (2d term), Sept. 28. An unusual thing occurs in this district, where all the officers are in one family, the Shindler's, which speaks highly for them.

Crabtree, Mrs. Flo Young, the grammar, and Miss Hazel Meyer the primary; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Troxwell the high school. Both opens Sept. 21.

The Oakview, and DeVaney school could not be learned as to teachers and date of opening.

Ox Yoke Delivered

On Tuesday of this week, Albert Randall and wife, Mrs. Sarah Gamber and Miss Daisy Buckner, in the Randall auto, from Monmouth; Mrs. Ed Myers and daughter Helen, Riley Shelton and wife, in the Myers auto, from Scio, journeyed to the beautiful, historical, hospitable home of Joseph and Robert McCune and their sisters Mary, Katie and Amelia McCune, farm, situated about 10 miles south of Albany, in Linn county, and delivered at this home a pioneer ox yoke at the request of Esther C. Humphrey-Tschanz, she being a dear friend of the McCune family.

The visitors enjoyed the kind hospitality of this pioneer home, and a bountiful repast at the noon hour. The yoke is to have its place beside an old oak tree in the yard, where their grandfather used to put the yoke after unhitching his oxen when the day's work was done.

Ethel Rhoda Married

While in Salem Saturday, Sept. 5, 1925, Ethel Rhoda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rhoda, and David Pearce, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Pearce, sprung a surprise on their friends and were quietly married by Judge J. T. Hunt. After the ceremony, the happy couple returned to the home of the bride's parents, where lunch was served to a number of friends of the newlyweds. They will be at home to their friends in Bilyeu Den after Sept. 15.

Alonzo Gusman, a Mexican, was found guilty by a jury Tuesday on the charge of assault with intent to kill. Sentence will be passed Saturday.

City Has New Recorder

The regular monthly meeting of city council was held last Thursday night at the city hall, all members being present except W. F. Gill, who is away on his vacation.

The public property committee reported having repaired the sidewalk along the city property on Mill street. The committee was also given power to gravel Mill street on the south side of the school property.

Complaint having been made that sanitary conditions were not right in the southwest part of town, the health committee reported having made investigation and found nothing wrong.

According to report made to the council, everything seems favorable for the county court to make Main street a market road to link up with the market roads now leading and will lead to the city limits.

Complaint was made that leaks in the water mains throughout the city were becoming worse, and the water committee reported it had been unable to get anyone to repair them. If the leaks are allowed to continue it will mean extra taxes to replace, then what? The time to fix anything is when trouble begins to show.

The resignation of City Recorder Ollie MacDonald, which was tendered at the August meeting and held over one month, was again taken up. The council was reluctant to accept the resignation as she was a competent official. On unanimous recommendation of the council, the mayor appointed Mrs. I. V. McAdoo to the office, and she was immediately sworn in.

The following bills were allowed:

Gordon Wesely, painting sign at Jefferson	$ 25.00
