Entered at the postoffice at Scio, Oregon, as second class matter.

No. 14

Street Work Costs Money

The regular monthly meeting of the city council was held last Thursday night, all members being present except Councilmen Gill and Large.

A communication from the State Accident Commission, saying that the city marshal came under its protection on May 28, 1925, and requesting payment therefor, was read. This was news to the city fathers, but as the cost is small, the city complied. The recorder was instructed to draw a warrant for $4.89, which pays up to Dec. 28, 1925.

The street committee reported grading and graveling the streets as far as the road fund would permit, and the committee was highly complimented on its efficient and economical work. Property owners on the improved streets bore half the costs of graveling.

The following bills were read and ordered paid:

Grading and graveling the streets.....	$525.80
Scio Tribune, publishing the budget.....	9.60
Cliff Compton, removing the rubbish from streets.....	.50
State Accident Commission.....	4.89

J. W. Parrish, labor.....	10.00
Scio Mill & Ele. Co., rent.....	20.00
E. J. McAdoo, salary and ex	8.33

Total paid out.....$657.22

The council adjourned to meet at the call of the mayor.

Was 81 on Nov. 4

W. Wilson, who lives about four miles west of Scio, celebrated his 81st birthday on Wednesday, Nov. 4, and his relatives and a few of his friends remembered him. A gift that he prized most highly was a box of cigars Mrs. Jane Perry, a daughter living at Wolf Point, Mont., sent him, it being the first full box of cigars he ever had. Those enjoying the day with him were Thos. Quigley and family, Con and Kelly Donohue, and James Hay of Silverton.

Called to Bedside

Mrs. Ella Munkers received a message last Friday from New Munich, Minn., that her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Lucius, and grandson, were both very sick and would have to undergo an operation. She leaves Saturday to be at the bedside. The many friends here of Mrs. Lucius and her son are hoping for a successful operation and a speedy recovery.

Thanksgiving Carnival

Bills are out announcing a carnival and festival for Nov. 25 and 26, to be given by the Z C B J lodge of Scio. There will be two brass bands and an orchestra, with a big seven o'clock dinner Thanksgiving night and a dance. A good time is promised by the management.

A. D. Hale of Salem was in Scio on business last Saturday.

Read Me Carefully—Rules Governing Prizes

Until Thursday morning, Dec. 24, 1925, the following merchants will give tickets with purchases for the various amounts as are set forth in their respective ads, with cash sales or with produce, where the stores can handle produce. Also with amounts paid on accounts. Each store will give three prizes—a first, second and third, and each will be worth the effort to secure.

The giving of tickets will begin Saturday, Nov. 14. Ask for them. The cash register must ring to secure the ticket giving a chance on the prizes—no tickets on charge accounts, unless such accounts are paid before dates of drawing. Drawing for first half of the prizes will take place on Wednesday, Dec. 23, and the last half on Thursday, Dec. 24. No business man nor any member of his household will be allowed to take chances—this is for our country friends and town people who are not connected in any line of merchandising or profession. Holder of the lucky ticket, or some member of his household, must be present on days of drawing. Remember each of the following give three prizes:

There's Kelly, Bartu and Cain,
With Couey, Gill and Mumper,
And Fred Bilyeu, Densmore and Jordan,
Will make the program a hummer.
Morrison, Bruce and Weasely,
Cyrus & Brock, the Scio Tribune,
Assisted by the Confectionery,
Will help carry the tune.

Mrs. Myers is Hostess

Mrs. E. D. Myers was hostess for the bridge club at her home last Friday afternoon. Vari-colored chrysanthemums with asparagus fern were tastily arranged about the rooms.

Mrs. W. F. Gill took first prize and Mrs. M. B. Cyrus, the consolation. After the games the guests were invited into the dining room for refreshments. The table decorations and place cards were of yellow.

Mrs. M. B. Cyrus substituted for Mrs. E. J. Holland, a club member who was absent.

A Large Squash

In the window of the Mumper feed store is a squash which is the largest so far exhibited in this section of the valley. It was grown on the Peterson ranch southwest of Scio. It weighs 197 pounds, is 32 inches high and measures 78 inches around.

It has been estimated that this squash would make from 50 to 60 pies. If any of the pie makers of the community have a different estimate let us have your figures.

Gives Benefit Dance

The Mill City band gave a benefit dance at the local Z. C. B. J. hall Saturday night. The affair was well patronized, good order was maintained throughout the evening, and everyone enjoyed the excellent music rendered by the band.

The Mill City lodge of the Z. C. B. J. is building a new hall and the proceeds from this dance are to go into the building fund.

First Game of the Season

A double header basketball game between Scio High school teams was played at the gym last Friday night. The junior girls defeated the freshman girls 18 to 2; and the freshman boys were trimmed by the sophomores 14 to 11. Miss Mildred Couey refereed the girls' game and Buell Miller refereed for the boys.

Good Will Campaign On

With this week, and each week until Christmas, page 5 will be used by the Scio merchants for the good will campaign they have launched. The merchants on that page are the Scio livewires, the ones who keep their stocks fresh and clean, and who are the largest taxpayers in the city—they make it possible for our people to have safe and economical places to trade in this community. Read their ads, get your tickets and win a prize without a cent of extra cost to you.

Prizes will be displayed next week and how to get the tickets will also be told next week.

T. A. Frewen, who is keeping the old Portland fire team, reports one of them accidentally getting caught in a piece of loose barbed wire and badly lacerating the hock joint on one of its legs. Mr. Frewen is at a loss to know how the wire got in the pasture where the horses were grazing.

W. J. Collins, foreman of the construction crew that has just finished repairing the Pacific States line into Scio, helped to build the local system in 1898. This was his first trip here in 20 year. The crew went from here to Arlington.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Coffey and Lionel McKnight returned Saturday evening from the Coffey orchards in Southern Oregon where they had been for some time engaged in picking and shipping their crop of apples.

Miss Leta Couey spent the last of the week with friends in Portland.

No Hopes for Victim to Live

The latest from the bedside of Joe Schwindt, who was shot by his 15-year-old son, Johnnie, on Wednesday morning, Nov. 4, the bullet entering the head at the base of the brain and plowing along the brain cell, says he has relaxed and has no chance to recover.

Johnnie is still in jail, has been assigned to the women's department because of his age, and the sheriff says he has a ravenous appetite and reads constantly. The law firm of Hill, Marks & McMahan have been retained to defend Johnnie.

Mr. Schwindt has put up a hard fight to live, rallying enough a few days ago to tell his wife he would get well.

Is Aged 97 Years

P. R. Bilyeu went to Albany Tuesday to meet his brother, Joseph of Seattle, who came to attend the birthday dinner at the home of their mother, "Aunt Nancy" Bilyeu on Wednesday. Mrs. Bilyeu attained her 97th birthday on November 10th. A family reunion and dinner on Armistice Day fittingly celebrated the event.

Grandma Dart is now making a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Geo. Sandner.

Louis Ray and son, Lyle, spent Tuesday at Ben Darby's.

Mr. Meiser is reported quite sick at Albany.

Frank Hottinger, a former resident of Linn county, died at his home in Portland of pneumonia. Burial took place Tuesday morning at Sublimity.

Joe Gassner and family, Ben Darby and wife and granddaughter Sylvia spent Sunday at the Charles Peters home.

Andy Shindler and wife spent Sunday with her folks, Harry Freeman and family, of Crabtree.

R. F. Darby and family attended church at Albany Sunday.

Louis Geisler made a business trip to Jefferson Monday evening.

Andy Shindler and wife motored to Salem last Wednesday.

Several from this community attended the show, "The Thundering Herd," in Stayton Sunday night.

There was some misstep in the proceedings of the road meeting of District No. 14 last Saturday, and a new call is published for Nov. 28.

Car Skids into Ditch

On Tuesday of last week as Mr. and Mrs. George Bilyeu and Mr. and Mrs. George Morrow were enroute to Eugene their car skidded into the ditch between Haisey and Shedd.

Mr. Bilyeu says his tires were worn smooth and that it had rained just enough to wet up the oil on the pavement, and in rounding a curve the car skidded, turned completely around and ran backward into the embankment. When it stopped it tipped to the left side.

Aside from fright and a shaking up none of the occupants of the car were injured, except that Mrs. Bilyeu has a slight bruise on her wrist.

The rear bumper and left fender of the car were badly bent, the windshield was broken and the top demolished. Mr. Bilyeu was assisted to Eugene by a tourist from Missouri. He had the top replaced with a Rex top.

They returned to Scio Monday. Between Tangent and Albany they saw a car which had had a similar accident but on the opposite side of the highway.

For Mrs. Munkers

Mrs. Oscar Lindley and Mrs. Nell Bilyeu gave a chicken dinner Monday evening at the Lindley home in honor of Mrs. Ella Munkers who is leaving soon for Michigan. The dinner was followed by an evening of 500. Con Donohue won high score and Henry Lukenbach, low score.

Those present were Mrs. Ella Munkers, Mrs. A. W. Hagey, Mrs. Mae Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Will Kalina, J. L. Kelly, Con Donohue, Henry Lukenbach, Oscar Lindley.

A strange coincidence of this gathering was that the birthdays of five of the eleven present were in November.

Celebrate Birthdays

Members of the family gathered last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Carpenter and enjoyed a dinner with them on the occasion of their birthdays. Mr. Carpenter was 87 last Sunday and Mrs. Carpenter was 79 on October 25th.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roadarmel, Mr. and Mrs. Rola Shelton and daughter, Ardith, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Holland and baby, Mary and Raymond Harris.

Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter each received a number of nice gifts.
