ECZEMA

Dries right up!

If you just realized how easy it is to stop fiery, itching, burning eczema by simply building up the red-blood-cells in your blood with S. S. S., you wouldn't waste another minute trying to do it any other way.

That's the only way to relieve irritated, broken out skin of any sort. You lack rich, red blood. Impurities are in your system. The blood is so weak it can't fight back and overcome the enemy, so the impurities break out through the skin.

S. S. S. builds the blood back—builds millions of new red-blood-cells. Eczema dries right up. Boils, pimples, blackheads, ugly blotches and irritating rashes all disappear.

Clear up your skin. Get S. S. S. All druggists sell it. The larger bottle is more economical.

Simple Chords

The simplest chord in music is a note with its third, either major or minor, and a fifth whether played together or in the form of an arpeggio. The more extended chords in general use are, the chords of the seventh, ninth, eleventh and the thirteenth, and their inversions. Several of the latter are known by different names when they are inverted.

A Lady of Distinction

Is recognized by the delicate, fascinating influence of the perfume she uses. A bath with Cuticura Soap and hot water to thoroughly cleanse the pores followed by a dusting with Cuticura Talcum powder usually means a clear, sweet, healthy skin.—Advertisement.

Bikes in Persia

Bad roads and great distances have discouraged bicycle riding in Persia, but clerks in cities are just beginning to use the vehicles as a means of transportation.

An air of importance is worn by some men and sung by others.

Woman's Life Saver

Mother of nine convinced. One dose of Beecham's Pills are the remedy for sick headaches and constipation.

"Your pills certainly have done 'Wonders' for me. I am thirty-eight years of age, been married thirteen years and am the mother of nine children.

"I was suffering from headaches and constipation for nearly fifteen years when I happened to read one of your ads in the paper. Having a headache that day I went to the drugist and bought a box of Beecham's Pills. I took a dose. That dose was a 'life-saver' to me. Since then I have had no more headaches, and my health is good. I recommend them to whomever I meet."

Mrs. H. La Vigne, Jersey City, N. J.

BEECHAM'S PILLS are "life savers" to all suffering from constipation, biliousness, sick-headaches, and other digestive ailments.

Broken Line and Drapery in Mode

Flaring Skirt Returns and Is Prominent on Autumn Fashion Card.

This season promises to be splendid for many women. Not only the perfect 36, but those whose dimensions begin two numbers beyond will be able to reflect the glass of fashion, observes a fashion authority in the New York Times. It is an interesting experience to sit through Parisian presentations of advance models, for in the audience are debutantes, belles and brides, whose gaze is fastened to the syphlike mannequins gliding and striding through their paces the length of velvety salon floors. The alluring things they wear appear to have been made for their type alone. Every model fits perfectly the slim shoulders, narrow hips and the pouter pigeon walk of the smart girl of today. The terms "bearing" and "carriage," once so important among elegantes, are as obsolete as elegance. They say that even at its silliest the pouter pigeon walk is not nearly as absurd as the Grecian bend, the stylish tread of great-grandma's day. Be that as it may, both are gauche and the return to normalcy in these matters is evident with the new clothes for autumn and early winter.

The new movement is unanimous, and the broken line, the sinuous bias, subtle drapery and inserted godet have changed utterly accepted style. The revolution has come gradually, but the way of the tube frock was the way of ease, and monotony alone created demand for something.

The "acid test" of art appears to have been applied this year to the fashion ateliers of Paris. The older houses that have held for generations a magic in their names are finding this year a challenge hitherto unmet in other couturiers who are establishing new ideals in styles. One most conspicuous among these is Mouliere, long known to the old Faubourg of Paris, who has lately been discovered by the more traveled American and English women of fashion. This designer declares for the conventional, for correct form, and declines the opportunity to become famous by way of the sensational. His things are first of all de-

Durable Leather Flowers Can Be Made at Home

Leather flowers, which are very attractive, used as trimming on felt hats or as boutonnières, can be made at home. They will be more durable, also, as the leather in those purchased ready-made in the shops, is of a cheaper grade.

The first step, after having bought a piece of leather, is to decide on the design of the flowers and leaves and cut them out. It has been found a good plan to make a circle with a compass and draw a diameter across it as a guide, then the semi-circles can be divided into as many petals as desired. After the flower has been worked out in the rough, as it were, it is then easy to shape it with a pair of scissors.

Moulding the petals comes next. Wet the leather well and run a blunt instrument (a handle of a teaspoon will do) several times down each petal from end to end. If this is done from the outside, the petals will be convex, if from the inside, concave. The tips of the petals can be rolled up by the thumb. Leather is very pliable while signed for the individual, each type a separate and distinct creation.

Red and brown flannel is used to develop this charming street frock. Metal threads in many rich colors outline the design on the tunic, making a most interesting outfit.

The woman with a preference for a specific type of dress, or who declines to accept the most popular mode, finds an ally in Mouliere. The charm of Mouliere gowns is their simplicity and even balance, most attractively illustrated in those for morning and afternoon. These are designed with much versatility. The flaring skirt is, of course, shown in many of these daytime frocks, the effect being accomplished with a deep circular flounce, the widening line of which begins just below the hips, with one or more bias ruffles or with inserted or applied godet. This model is made with equal success in soft crepes, satins, fine wools and velvets.

Animals and Insects to Decorate New Jewelry

Paris has taken up the wearing of animals and insects in silver, mounted on long-shaped brooches. The pin is quite plain. The lizard or snake is curled around it. As a rule, the ornament is kept on a small scale, and from a distance cannot be distinguished from the pin, around which it has wrapped itself. It is often only the tiny emerald pin-point eyes that attract attention to the animal at all. The same design is used for bracelets—the simple silver hoop being decorated with a silver ornament generally highly conventionalized, the eyes again being the only indication that it is intended to represent an animal. Rings in silver, but beautifully wrought, the workmanship bringing up the price almost to that of a gold ring, are also seen with similar designs.

Laces Liked

Laces, especially guipures, are much in vogue. All-over lace is used in vests and the fashionable flare insets seen in the skirts. Insertions are seen, from two to ten inches wide. Net top laces also are very widely used in the manufacture of frilly jabot effects, and other classes of neckwear. Imitation carrickmacross is popular too.

It is wet and dried quickly before a strong fire, will generally retain the shape given to it. The leaves are made in the same manner as the petals, veins can be drawn on them with a knitting needle.

The assembling of the various parts is the next step in this interesting occupation. The outer petals should be larger in size than the inner ones and decrease in size until the center is reached, one fitting into the other. The center holds the whole flower together and can be made in a number of different ways—a tiny artificial flower, a bead, small beads in wire circles, a piece of rich brocade or even of the leather wound around a button or bead, a wire thrust through the material used and wound around the petals on the outside completes the flower and without the aid of a needle and thread. The wire used should be very fine.

If one desires to vary the flowers or make them more elaborate, the petals can be painted or tinted.

A blue light of 1,000-candle power can be seen 600 feet away.
