THURSDAY, Dec. 24, 1925

Much that passes for philosophy is no more than a good digestion.

So far we have heard no complaint against the weather man in Oregon. While he has been treating the middle states with cold, snow and ice, it is balmy in Oregon.

So far we have heard not a word from our query of two weeks ago, which was printed on the front page. The query was not a joke. Our announcement will be made in January, and it may be a surprise.

The man who doesn't believe in newspaper advertising usually asks his friends to tell their friends about him—and that is "not" advertising. Returns do not come in, so advertising does not pay. People rely on newspapers for what they want to buy. Think this over.

It is said the desire for automobiles and radios is growing so fast that practically all available money is tied up in them and that banks are refusing that kind of loans. In that particular, many people agree, as it will hasten normalcy and thus bring the people to a stern realization that luxuries are not to be had without sufficient income to own and maintain them. A recent survey of the cost per mile to operate an automobile in the state of Washington shows it to be nearly 12c. Where is the installment purchaser who can afford such luxury? And it seems that the banks have found out—he doesn't exist.

TOO MUCH SPEED

Although many people appear to be of the contrary opinion, it is quite generally agreed that "you can't make human beings good by statute." Is it not time to conclude that neither can people be made careful by law and to attempt to reduce the perils of street traffic by means different from those that have been relied upon in the past? Just what will prove effective will have to be decided after thorough study of the conditions that have grown up. It seems obvious, however, that measures of prevention rather than of punishment will yield the greater benefits.

We are now in the season when the streets are quite commonly wet and very slippery. Common sense tells us that automobiles cannot be safely driven as swiftly on wet as on dry streets. Yet too many drivers are deaf to the voice of common sense. This type changes its habits not at all when conditions favor skidding. If it avoids collisions this can be accounted for only on the ground that there is such a thing as "luck."

Of course, it is impossible to legislate sound sense into the mind of that type commonly called "sap." If we are to have the possible maximum of safety in the streets the "sap" must be legislated out of the driver's seat. This perhaps falls into the category of things "more easily said than done." The "sap" must be proved before he can be deprived of his citizen's right. The real question is, what proof shall be required?

As the laws are usually administered there is no interference with habitual menaces to life and property until they have an "accident." Little is done to prevent accidents. Hundreds of "saps" could be identified when the streets are wet by the sliding of their cars at points where they should be under perfect control. Too much speed on wet pavements is as dangerous as driving while intoxicated. Something can be done about it.

Steiwer Is Pleased

Frederick Steiwer, candidate for the republican nomination for U. S. senator, has been active during the past weeks visiting prominent citizens and political leaders in various sections of the state, and says he is well pleased with the popularity with which his candidacy is being received.

Mr. Steiwer does not contemplate making an active speaking campaign for some time. He is contenting himself with visiting old and making new friends. He has a strong and active following among the former students of the U of O and the O A C, as he is a graduate of both institutions. Mr. Steiwer is but 42 years old and is fit for the office in age and ability.

GILKEY STATION

Dec. 22.

Mrs. Pansy Shepherd was hostess to the ladies' club last Thursday. The rooms were tastily decorated with Christmas trees and artificial snow. After the business session, a short Christmas program was enjoyed, after which presents were taken from the tree, each one present having brought a gift. This being the regular election, Mrs. Anna Mespelt was elected president, Mrs. Minnie Goar vice-president and Mrs. Lizzie Gilkey secretary-treasurer.

A large crowd attended the all-day meeting at the Riverview school house Sunday. J. M. Harrington, the evangelist who has been conducting the meetings, went to Marion to hold services Monday night, and will go on to Salem to begin a revival Jan. 3.

Miss Annie Klamer fell about 16 feet from a ladder in the barn Friday, striking her side on a manger, breaking three ribs. Dr. Prill was called to attend her. Her sister, Mrs. John Rieh of Albany, is here taking care of her.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Whetstone and children, Lloyd and Mary Beth, visited at the J. F. Sommer and T. M. Holt homes Sunday afternoon.

Albany visitors from here Monday were R. H. Struckmeier, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mespelt, Mrs. E. H. Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. John Shepherd, Wilson Young, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Holt and Mrs. J. H. Kelly.

James Johnston was host to the Farmers' Union Saturday night. A Christmas tree was a feature of the evening after the business meeting.

Mrs. Wilson Young has been on the sick list the last few days.

The school and Sunday school are preparing a Christmas program and tree for Christmas eve at the Riverview school house.
