The Tribune editor has been making garden this week, chiefly by proxy.

Eugene Fruit growers Association has orders for $10,000 of their 1914 product.

Fishing and hunting licenses can be obtained by applying to Thompson & Dugger, just west of the postoffice, Sweet Home.

For Sale—Indian Runner duck eggs, 50 cents per setting of 13. See or write to William W. Billings, Foster, Oregon.

Dusty roads on the 17th of March is an unusual condition for Oregon, especially in the mountain districts. But such is the case in Sweet Home at the present time.

The government will commence the erection of the new postoffice building in Albany next Monday. The ground-breaking ceremony will occur next Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Thompson and Ed Story went up to Cascadia Tuesday, for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Geisendorfer, proprietors of the soda springs at that place.

Prof. Allen Simons, of the Pleasant Valley school, came over to town after school hours Tuesday. He reports the Pleasant Valley school in a flourishing condition.

A Salem dispatch states that it is currently reported in political circles that Governor West may be an independent candidate for governor should the democrats turn down Dr. J. C. Smith at the primaries in May.

R. J. Miller, of Halsey and one of the best known democrats of Linn county, has filed his notice of intention to become a candidate for the nomination for recorder of conveyances of Linn county, subject to the voters of the democratic party. Bob is a first-class man and is well qualified for the place. He will undoubtedly be the nominee and the Tribune believes, stands a splendid show of election.

H. M. Myer, one of our hotel proprietors mayor of our city, etc., is a wise guy and a most successful schemer. The time for planting the large hotel garden being at hand, Henry concluded that most important business at Dallas required his personal attention. So he persuaded Lee Bilyeu, a silent partner of the hotel who resides in Lebanon, to come up and take his place, pending the business visit. It is reported that Henry is keeping posted as to the progress of the garden. When it is completed, he will be at home again.

Of course there are many worthless dogs in the world and Sweet Home has her share of them. The dog is not to blame because he is of no account. Like a bad boy, proper training has been lacking. No dog, however, is so worthless but what he is too good to be poisoned with strychnine. If they must be killed, there are other ways far more merciful. Several dogs have been poisoned lately, but as the antidote was quickly given, most of the dogs survived. The wretch who is low enough to scatter poisoned meat about premises, ought to be forced to take a killing dose of his own medicine.

COUNTY POLITICS BEGIN SIMMERING

school superintendent are holdovers, there are no candidates for these places.

For treasurer, W. W. Francis, present incumbent is the only announced republican candidate. His democratic opponent has not yet come out of the woods.

For county surveyor, A. L. Geddes, present incumbent, republican and Walter M. Eaton, democrat, both of Albany, have announced themselves.

For coroner, W. M. Fortmiller, of Albany and present incumbent, is the only announced nominee. As Mr. Fortmiller has so far seemed as willing to sit upon the carcass of republicans as that of a democrat, there is no probability that he will have any democratic opposition.

As all of the above named gentlemen are both worthy and capable, the Tribune expects quite a busy and warm campaign during the summer and fall.

Eight Hour Law Upheld

Salem, March 17.—The attack of Frank C. Stettler, a paper box manufacturer of Portland, on the constitutionality of the minimum wage law for women and children, failed today when the supreme court upheld the validity of the law. The court also upheld the constitutionality of the 10-hour law for men employed in mills and factories and all manufacturing plants. Both opinions are based on the same underlying principle that the law does not violate the Fourteenth amendment of the federal constitution, which provides that "no state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States, nor shall any state derive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, or deny to any person within its jurisdiction equal protection of law." The court held that the laws properly come within the police power of the state.

Woman Mayor Has Her Husband Arrested

Portland, March 17.—On complaint of Mrs. John Larson, who is mayor of Troutdale, her own husband was arrested today on the charge of selling liquor to minors.

When Mrs. Larson asked the district attorney of Washington county to investigate alleged law violations in Troutdale, she did not know that her husband, a saloonkeeper, would be among those arrested today.

Mrs. Larson recently discovered that liquor was being sold to youths under age. Several boys were arrested yesterday and in the juvenile court accused Larson and other saloonkeepers of selling them intoxicating drinks.

Millinery Opening

Mrs. Ida Cook will be at Sweet Home, Friday and Saturday with her new stock of spring and summer hats. She will be located at the central telephone office.

S. P. Tax Over $50,000

Fifty-five thousand, one hundred and forty-nine dollars and eleven cents were paid to County Treasurer Francis this week by the Southern Pacific railroad company in Linn county. Only districts lying along the right-of-way of the railroad will secure school and road apportionments from this amount and the rest will go into the general tax. Coincident with this was the payment of the smallest tax on the books thus far, which was levied on a dog, and amounted to ten cents. The Corvallis & Eastern recently paid something over $9000 levied on their property.

Another large tax paid by an individual was $7192.30, paid by A. C. Schmitt on personal property, the Savings Bank and the First National Bank. For the First National $4744.36 was levied; for the Savings Bank, $1264.12, and on personal property, $599.02 and $584.88.

Panoramic View of Crater Lake National Park

Oregon's great natural and scenic wonder, Crater Lake, is shown in a unique and striking manner in a panoramic view recently issued by direction of Secretary Lane. The characteristic features of the landscape are brought out into a realistic manner by harmonious combinations of color and shading so that the national park is shown as it would appear to a person flying over it. The lake, which is almost in the center, is a dark blue, the valleys and meadows are shown in a light green, the cliffs and ridges by shades of brown and yellow, the roads in light brown and the streams in light blue. The lettering is printed in light brown which is easily read on close inspection but which merges into the basic colors when the sheet is held at some distance. This view, which may be purchased from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C., for 25 cents unfolded and for 40 cents folded in a cover, measures 16 by 18 inches and is on the scale of one mile to the inch. It is based on accurate surveys and gives the observer an excellent idea of the configuration of the surface.

No Announcement of Federal Reserves Before April 1

Washington, March 16.—There is said to be no prospect of announcement of reserve cities under the new banking act before April 1, at the earliest. The same statement applies to the personnel of the federal reserve board. President Wilson has been informed by the treasury officials that there is little likelihood of the organization necessary as a preliminary to the operations of the board being effected for at least another two weeks.
