THE LEBANON NEWS.

June 16, 6:16 P. M. J. H. STINE, LEBANON.—We have won the wet test against all others, by 2 1-2 seconds. Oyster supper. C. C. HACKLEMAN. Local and General. Everybody should visit Band hall next Thursday evening. Dr. A. H. Peterson has our thanks for the first cherries of the season. They were delicious, indeed. Dr. J. A. McAllister will lecture at Band hall, Lebanon, on Sunday, June 20th, at 2 o'clock. Subject, Theology. Sufficient notices for the formation of a G. A. R. Post has been obtained, and the post will be organized as soon as possible. Mr. Charles Holt, one of Jefferson's agreeable young men, has been conducting the business affairs of our druggist, J. A. Beard, during his absence at Vancouver. Our city was honored a few evenings ago by the presence of Gov. Penoyer. The object of his visit has not been publicly known. The few who met him gave him a cordial reception. C. A. McDonald, gave a very interesting lecture at the Academy last Monday evening on the Missionary tour of Paul the Apostle. The subject was well handled and reflects great credit on the lecturer. In another column will be found the report of the teachers in charge of the public schools. To Prof. Stubbfield and Miss Griggs, the people are greatly indebted for the successful manner in which the school has been conducted, during the past year.

Notwithstanding the late frosts which were thought to have shortened the crop, cherries are quite plenty, and are being retained at 25 cents per gallon. On Sabbath last at the M. E. church, Rev. Clark Smith returned missionary, delivered a large attendance, a lecture on 'The Kingdom of God is within you,' and his native products, wheat, corn, etc. Father J. Dennis on the evening of Wednesday last at the M. E. church, delivered a lecture on 'The Kingdom of God is within you,' also treating on 'Fools that think they are Wise, Corns,' &c. The disciples of Isaac Walton are meeting with good success; the Callpoo is at the right stage for successful fishing, and daily large strings of fine speckled beauties are brought into town. On Friday night a team of horses hitched to a hack, the property of G. McKinney while standing before the post office, becoming frightened started to run and succeeded in overturning the hack before it was stopped.

Henry Archibald of this place has leased the Findley soda springs for a term of two years. Many improvements will be made on the premises, and guests at the hotel or camps, will be treated in a comfortable manner. The Misses Archibald accompanied by their brother Henry, who leased the Findley soda springs, started for that place on Wednesday last. It is the intention of Mr. Archibald, to thoroughly renovate and remodel this summer resort, making ample provisions for the comfort of all visiting the place.

On Thursday last at the Brownsville creamery, a test trial of the improved Drake churn took place. In eight minutes water was produced, of a firm solid texture, the cells unbroken, as was shown by examination with a magnifying glass. The churns are on exhibition at the stores of G. A. Dwyson and F. F. Croft.

On Saturday June 18th, the Prohibition League, of Halsey, will at that place give a temperance picnic in Powell's grove. A lecture will be delivered by Col. George Woodford, also other distinguished speakers. The Halsey and Tangent brass bands will give a grand open air concert, there will be singing, also a ball match game. A Fitzgerald, who has been turning his attention to raising cows, has thoroughly demonstrated the fact that the soil in this locality is well adapted to the culture, all varieties of vegetables and fruits, of which he is at present reaping a full yield. For the past two weeks he has supplied the town demand with strawberries, that for size, color and palatable flavor, are hard to beat. For sale at C. E. Stannard's.

It is a noteworthy fact that in our town business men, mechanics and laborers all seem to be busy and prosperous, all who are willing to work are seldom idle. It is also a happy state of affairs that the majority of our citizens pay strict attention to Sabbath observance, the churches are well attended, great interest is evinced in Sunday school exercises, the average attendance at the Baptist church numbering 125. For over a year "His Honor" has not held court, on case of "drunk and disorderly," appearing on the boards. Calhoun remains unattended, and the town marshal's duties are light. Ditto fec.

Remember the M. E. church sociable at Band hall, next Thursday evening. M. E. Church, Festival. The Ladies' Aid Society will give a festival, at the Band hall on Thursday evening June 23. Ice cream and strawberries will be served. A large collection of fancy articles will be on hand for sale. The proceeds go towards the erection of the new M. E. church. All are cordially invited.

Col. George Woodford. Col. George Woodford suddenly appeared on the platform at a crowded audience at the Dalles, and as suddenly the magnetism of the man was felt. "To your feet, and sing out!" resounded from his commanding service while he gave the loudest example himself and the roof of the M. E. church echoed back the inspiring words. "And crown Him Lord of all!" Col. Woodford has a commanding presence; he is a noble looking man, his voice and manner is telling, and he perfectly understands the art of gradually interesting his people, captivating them first and then capturing them for the cause he loves. You don't reckon time while hearing Col. Woodford speak. It goes as an evening bell when you find from one to two whole hours fled, and you are not aware of having drawn more than one whole breath the while he speaks without notes and hot from the heart.

The sequences of his arguments, each perfect in itself, are only broken by the humorous anecdotes, that nobody seems to enjoy better than the Col. himself everything that he deals with is real, fun and all.

When he comes to this county let the country folks roll up in waves to hear him talk. To obtain Col. Woodford's services address, Mrs. H. R. Briggs State President W. C. T. U. corner Front and Wood streets Portland.

Ice-cream, strawberries and cream, and other delicacies at Band hall, next Thursday evening. F. H. Roscoe & Co's.

Scio and Vicinity.

In a conversation with the early settlers of Linn county, there is none of them but what would refer with pleasant recollections to the historical scenes and associations incident to pioneer days concerning Scio, Lebanon and Brownsville. These three thriving towns came into prominence, as we understand, at about the same time, in 1850—and occupy positions in the most fertile portions of the garden county of the state. "The forks of the Santiam, or "Canada," embraces the finest agricultural and grazing lands to be found anywhere in Oregon. The foothills contain a large population of people principally engaged in stock-raising and lumbering. These two interests being more profitable than raising wheat at 50 cents per bushel, the foothill resident has been, as a general thing, more prosperous than those with large farms in the valley; and this, to a great extent accounts for the prosperity of the towns above referred to.

The principal subject of this article, is a beautiful spot situated on the banks of the middle fork of the Santiam river, which at this place furnishes a most efficient water power which is being utilized by manufacturing enterprises of different kinds.

The citizens of Scio are a most hospitable, kind and highly respected people. Their hospitality on every occasion for the public welfare, knows no bounds, as all will testify to who visit them as co-workers for good. They are a frugal, energetic and industrious people. The town and surrounding country assures the visitor of these most agreeable traits of character: nicely arranged residences, beautiful fruit-orchards, and a fine school system, first-class churches and school houses, and an abundant supply of clear, health giving mountain water, and other inspiring evidences met our high appreciation, during a recent visit there, would certainly give any one a very favorable opinion of this prosperous little foothill city.

Among the manufacturing enterprises at Scio, are the extensive and favorably known FLOURING MILLS. Now the property of Robert Pentland, Esq., which are under the efficient management of M. E. Bilyeu, as miller. These mills were erected in 1854 and depend almost altogether on the local trade. The water power is more than ample at all times, and the mills are kept in constant operation, producing a splendid brand of all kinds of flour. Mr. Pentland and his excellent work are highly esteemed by their friends throughout the country, always being identified with every good work.

THE SCIO SAW AND PLANING MILLS. Are the property of Mr. D. Myers who is extensively engaged in the lumbering business. The sawmill is located some distance up the river in the mountains while the planing mill is at the town. He makes a specialty of all kinds of rough and dressed lumber, moldings, sash, etc. The business is under the efficient management of Mr. Jeff. Myers, one of Scio's live, energetic young business men. Since the operation of these mills began a new school house and several other substantial buildings mark the enterprise with which they are doing a good business. The lumber they are manufacturing is principally yellow fir and of a first-class quality.

THE CABINET SHOP. Of William Abbott, is another of the enterprises of Scio worthy of favorable mention. The proprietor is manufacturing a very nice line of furniture and doing various other kinds of work. We are glad to know this shop is receiving a good patronage, as all home manufactures should.

THE MERCHANTS. Of Scio are in the enjoyment of a good trade. Their stores are large and well stocked with goods, and those with whom we became acquainted were very agreeable and liberal, not only in their business, but also in manifesting their strong determination to help in every good work for the benefit of their town and community.

JOHNSON & SHELTON. Have a commodious store well stocked with general merchandise, which they are disposing of at a small margin. They are well and favorably known throughout the county, and hence enjoy the confidence of the people and a good trade.

W. E. PRICE. Is also extensively engaged in merchandising. He carries a large stock, dealing heavily and liberally in clothing and dry goods, and is a pleasant gentleman to deal with.

J. S. MORRIS. Druggist, is the accommodating, peevish and proprietor of a neat store; keeps a well assorted stock of drugs, paints, oils, etc. Mr. Morris, as a gentleman in every way worthy, has our best wishes for future prosperity.

J. A. CARBY AND SONS. Are successors to Mr. Villa in the harness and saddle business. They are both competent, energetic young men and will no doubt succeed in their new venture.

GILL & SMITH. Hardware merchants, are doing a good business, and are also agents for all kinds of farm machinery. These gentlemen keep in stock a large assortment of everything in their line.

THE PRINCIPAL HOTEL. Is under the management of William Brenner, a young gentleman noted for his genial and accommodating qualities. His house has a good patronage and we congratulate Mr. Brenner in the success he is attaining.

There are number of other businesses represented by enterprising men, but as this was our first visit to Scio, and being quite busy during the short stay, it was impossible to get acquainted with them all. We close this sketch of Scio and will hope good citizens and business enterprises, with many pleasant thoughts concerning our initial visit among them.

THE SHEEP LAW. Wm. Reed purchased eight head of sheep over in Linn county the other day, says a Corvallis paper but there is nothing strange about that. He started to take them over to Corvallis, but according to the new law, sheep cannot be moved from one county to another without a stock inspector's certificate setting forth that they are free from any infectious or contagious disease. It will cost Bill just three dollars for a certificate and it is a question whether or not eight head of sheep are worth three dollars more in Benton county than in Linn. The river still divides Bill and his sheep.

From Tallman.

June 15. Mrs. Wilson has been quite sick the past week. Mr. Thompson and family are visiting in Albion. Smith & Hammond, expect to open a store here in the near future. Last Wednesday, a party of pleasure seekers, went up on Peterson's Butte, to enjoy the pleasure of climbing to its lofty heights. They left our town at Mr. Jagger's barn the evening previous, armed themselves with a lunch basket, and to the order—"forward march," we proceeded on foot. Soon our leaders brought up in the rear. Four of our number thought they would try the shortest way, and were soon making their way through burnt logs and stumps and had the honor of reaching the top first, the rest gaining the summit about seven o'clock being an hour in ascending. We were well paid for our labor for the view was grand. On the northwest and south the prairie stretches for miles over what was once beautiful farms dotted with houses, interwoven with timber, and also six cities and towns could be seen. After enjoying the view for an hour, we then turned our attention to the lunch basket, and dinner was soon announced. Our "table" groaned under its burden of good things to numerous mention. Jokes, jests, etc. followed and such as "pass the bread" which which was a chocolate, but their joy was mistaken in the name. The lads, their sisters and cousins, and old maid aunts, must have been out on a picnic too; at least thought so by the way they impudently descended and all vowed we would as soon go up hill as down, unless shoes were made larger. To appreciate such days prepared for us as soon announced. These wishing a view of Linn county, should ascend to the top of Peterson butte, is the advice of Prof. Stubbfield, Jay Swank, Burnie Marks, Ova Thompson, Norman O'Connell, Mack Donnie, and Miss Estie, Lizzie, Zora and Sadie Marks, Julia and Rova Swank, Elia Thompson and Elia Dennis. AUNT POLLY.

At the last meeting of the county court the matter of bridging the river at Melama was continued. The resignation of John Gaines as sheep inspector, was accepted, and R. Koldeveer was appointed to fill the vacancy.

A string of real estate men, returned from yesterday from East Portland, tied up with strings and handgags. Monday evening he was out riding and the horse became frightened and ran which they are doing. He received severe but temporary injuries. It is reported that a company of eastern capitalists has purchased all the outstanding bonds of the O. P. railroad, and that all necessary money will be secured at once to push the work forward to a junction with the Chicago & North-western at Boise City.

Last Sunday afternoon Ben Jones and Sol Stock, two traveling men from Portland, hired a team at a livery stable and drove to Corvallis. When near the town the horse became frightened and ran away, overturning the vehicle, throwing the occupants out and then sunshing up things generally. Damage about $50.
