

Local and General.

Dr. Powell returned from San Francisco, on Sunday last.

Misses Flora and Vesta Mason, of Albany, were the guests of Miss Manilla Montague, a part of last week.

Thos. Peckler has taken the contract of hauling 300,000 feet of lumber, from Lidley's mill to the O. P. railroad.

Wells, Fargo & Co. have placed an express letter box at Hardy's jewelry store, which is quite a convenience.

C. B. Montague has further adorned his magnificent property on main street, in completion of a very nice barn.

The picnic given by the Rock Hill Union Sunday school, on June 30 was a grand success. Many were in attendance.

Judge Miller's address on the Fourth at Sweet Home, was highly appreciated, by all who had the pleasure of hearing him deliver it.

Wallace & Thompson, the live grocers of Albany, will occupy handsome quarters in Judge Flinn's new brick when completed.

Mrs. William Reed is visiting relatives and friends at Walla Walla, W. T. We wish her a very pleasant visit, which she will no doubt realize.

"Flirtation whist" is the latest. The defeated parties are doomed to retire to another room and entertain each other. The strategy in the game is in getting the right partner.

The land commission issues a circular which states that lands bordered on streams, lakes or other natural bodies of water are not subject to entry under the desert land law.

Prohibitory constitutional amendments will be submitted to the vote of the people this year, in Texas in August, in Tennessee in September, and in Oregon in November.

On Monday morning last, Messrs. William Danera, J. C. Gordon, and Rufus Hart, started with a band of cattle for the mountains, where they will pasture them during the summer season.

In another column will be found the "ad" of B. H. Barker, located at Soda-water and Waterloo where he dispenses the finest confectioneries, cigars, tobacco, etc. Give him a call when you go to the springs.

Mr. F. Prince, under the efficient care of Dr. Courtney, has recovered from his dangerous illness, sufficiently to be able to visit Eastern Washington Territory, where he hopes to still further regain his health.

Dr. A. H. Peterson has removed his dental office to Dr. Powell's store building, where he will be glad to meet his many friends. He also has charge of W. C. Peterson's jewelry business, in the same building.

On Sunday next an excursion train will be run to this place from Albany. The objective points of the excursionists will be Waterloo and Soda-water. Conveyances will be at the depot to take them wherever they want to go, at reasonable rates.

A grand bowery dance will be given at Jennings & McPherson's saw mill, on the evening of July 22nd. A large platform has been erected for the occasion, and all who attend will have a good time. The best of music will be in attendance. Tickets $1.50.

In order to compete with the Northern Pacific and Canadian Pacific for northwest business, the Southern Pacific will soon put another line of steamers on the northern route. Two large steam colliers are now being converted into passenger steamers.

G. E. Hardy was seen wandering towards the country on Monday, with a double-barrel shot gun. Upon his return it was learned he had been hunting. He "bagged his game," in his vest pocket. Hardy's best game is checkers. So says Doc, Johnson.

T. J. Villa, D. D. G. M., T. O. O. F., of Seio, was in town last Friday on his way to Brownsville, to install officers of Calpooya Lodge, at that place. Mr. Villa, we understand, goes to California, for a few weeks recreation, when he will probably return to Lebanon.

Wm. E. Spier and J. McIntosh, have leased the warehouses on the Narrow Gauge road. Also the Aumsville mill. Farmers will find it to their advantage, to consult these gentlemen, as to prices for grain and shipping rates, as they will be able to give them the very best.

It is generally understood that the rate on wheat, oats and barley will be reduced all along the O. R. & N. Co's. road this season one dollar per ton. This is something, and as the inland empire will have about six hundred thousand tons, will give the people a profit of $600,000 dollars.

We are sorry that Capt. N. B. Humphrey of Albany, on account of an attack of rheumatism, could not fill his lecture appointments at Waterloo and other places during this week. Rev. H. P. Webb was on hand, though in his usual good spirits, and made good impressions for prohibition.

The ton cat sits upon the shed and kindly warbles to his mate, Oh! when the world has gone to bed, I love to sit and mew-till-late; But while that ton cat sweetly sings, Up jumps a boarder, mad with hat, He shoots that cat to fiddle strings, He also loves to mutilate.

On Wednesday of last week, Samuel Coyle, son of Stephen Coyle, while riding a "bucking" horse, was thrown on his head and shoulders receiving a severe shock. Dr. Conroy was broken and found his collar bone was broken. Due surgical assistance was rendered and the patient is recovering fast as possible.

Of the many trustworthy employees on the O. & C. R. N. Co. more are more accommodating than Engineer Caskey, and Conductor Houston of the Lebanon branch. We, with many others, take pleasure in commending these gentlemen, for their very courteous and strict adherence to business. Mr. Houston, as conductor, has made many friends since running to Lebanon.

On the way up from Portland last week, we had the pleasure of Resolving Scott's company, and from him learned some things of interest, to the people concerning the little road, which we will refer to in another issue. We regard Mr. Scott, as very much of a gentleman, and acknowledge a number of compliments, through the generosity of him, and the agreeable employees of his road.

A natural bridge, closely resembling the one in Virginia, has been discovered in Cole's valley, about thirty miles from Oakland, Oregon. The natural bridge so closely resembles the one in Virginia that it is a matter of no trouble to see any distinguishable characteristic, save in height. The dimensions are as follows: Length, 191 feet; breadth, 15.25 feet; height, 68 1/2 feet; span over arch, 12 1/2 feet.

Dr. J. H. Johnson is about to leave us. He contemplates going to Lebanon, Ore., the fore part of June. He came here with his family about a year ago, an entire stranger, and has won the esteem of all, both as a citizen and physician, more so as the latter, he having the utmost confidence of all in his profession. His wife will also be missed in the church as she has been a powerful acquisition to the choir during the past year, being always willing to assist in any public demonstration when needed.—Omelia (N. Y.) Union.

The Doctor and family arrived here safely. While he has not decided, it is to be hoped they will permanently remain in Lebanon.

New Livery, Feed and Sale Stable.

Walt C. Peterson & Co. have opened a first-class livery feed and sale stable on Maple street, between 1st and 2nd streets near J. O. Boland's harness shop. They have new buggies, new hacks, new harness, and reliable teams, and everything in first-class condition, and will accommodate the public with any mode of conveyance at very reasonable rates. This energetic firm, has our best wishes for success, and no doubt will succeed. While the management of the concern has fallen to Walt, it will in no way conflict with his jewelry business.

Waterloo Springs.

I do not desire in speaking of this place, to call attention to the soda spring here, for every person in the county, and in fact in the State, knows of it and its medicinal properties; but I desire to inform you many readers that, as heretofore, Mr. Gosch is prepared to accommodate all persons desiring to visit this place for their health. He is prepared to furnish campers with anything in the way of groceries, canned fruits, meats, etc. Tourists will find the best of food and other accommodations. All comers will find the table spread with everything desired by the most fastidious. Mr. Gosch's experience as a cook at this place has taught her how to please the taste of persons who are, or have been sick, and for this reason the public cannot find a better place to spend a few weeks than here. Any person desiring to visit Waterloo, who will notify George Gross by mail, before arriving at Lebanon, will be met by him and conveyed to his place, at reasonable rates. F.

Resolutions of Indignation.

HALL OF LEBANON ENGINE COMPANY, No. 1, LEBANON, OR., July 1, 1887.

At a regular meeting of Lebanon Engine Company, No. 1, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, On the 15th, 16th and 17th days of June, 1887, a tournament of the Northwestern Firemen's Association was held at Vancouver, W. T.;

WHEREAS, Lebanon Engine Co. No. 1, of Lebanon Oregon, sent a duly accredited hose team to said tournament to take part therein; and

WHEREAS, Said hose team did attend said tournament and did there, in an honorable manner, compete with various other hose teams for the various prizes offered; and

WHEREAS, Said hose team did in a fair and honorable manner win the second prize in the championship hose race; and

WHEREAS, The Judges of said tournament decided unanimously in favor of said Lebanon hose team; and

WHEREAS, The board of directors of said tournament—composed of three members from Astoria—did wrongfully appeal from the unanimous decision of said Judges, and contrary to the testimony of five disinterested witnesses, and disregarding all rules of decency and fair dealing, award the said second prize to Astoria company, No. 1, whose time was two minutes 14 1/5 seconds, as compared with Lebanon's time of 1 minute 44 1/5 seconds. Therefore be it

Resolved, That this company will not quietly submit to so gross and palpable an injustice to our hose team; and be it further

Resolved, That the action of said board of directors was inequitable, selfish and dishonest, and that they are a disgrace to the Northwestern Firemen's Association, as well as to the Astoria fire department, which they belong.

Resolved, That we as a company, hereby express our confidence in the integrity of Captain C. C. Hackleman, and the members of his team.

Resolved, That we extend our thanks to Mr. Hackleman and all the members of his team for their gallant conduct and refined deportment at said tournament.

Resolved, That we hereby extend our thanks to the Vancouver fire department, and the citizens of Vancouver in general, for their courteous, and their hospitable treatment of our hose team, during their stay in Vancouver; also to the Albany hose team for favors rendered.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to THE LEBANON EXPRESS, Albany papers, Oregonian and News; and that a copy of the same be forwarded to the Vancouver and Walla Walla fire departments; also the ex-board of directors.

E. E. MONTAGUE, President.

A PROSPEROUS COUNTY, CV.

A Resume Descriptive of the Many Flourishing Localities of the North-eastern and Southwestern Linn County.

Linn county is bounded on the north by the north fork of the Santiam river, lying between it and the south fork of said river is the north-eastern part of the county, known as "Columbia." Up the north fork is the route selected for the O. P. railroad which is destined to connect with the C. & N. W. road at Boise City, Idaho, making another transcontinental route, and opening up some of the finest valleys in this part of Oregon. Up this valley lives some of Linn county's best and prosperous citizens who will be largely benefited by the completion of the O. P. road, as it will open up a country more or less rich in mineral, and containing the finest of farming, grazing and timber lands.

Coming south, we find Thomas creek valley. This is a fertile valley in which is located the busy and thriving town of Scio, which commenced its growth in 1858; was incorporated in 1866, and now contains 600 inhabitants, several churches and fine educational institutions.

For a long time remote from railway communication, Scio's growth and development was retarded; but with the advent of the Narrow Gauge road it commenced improving and has continued to do so until now, with the proposed O. P. road, it bids fair to grow and prosper as only a lively town can, for the surrounding country is most agreeably diversified, affording fine timber, grazing and farming lands.

The climate here is salubrious, and the streams afford good sport for the angler. Scio is the trading point for a large area of country above on Thomas creek, and on Crabtree creek, which is the next stream south.

CLAYTON VALLEY are school districts No. 1 and 2, which shows that some of the first settlements in Linn county were made in this vicinity. Some of the finest farms are to be found in this fertile valley, while huge bodies of timber, very little of which has been used, may be found in the mountains above.

Proceeding south, the next point is Beaver valley which, though small and narrow, is very fertile, and many well-to-do people have here nice homes and are enjoying life. Lying between this valley and Crabtree, is the famous

FERN RIDGE, a fine farming country, containing a large and flourishing school district with 67 scholars. Here, too, the soil is very productive, and all the various grains and grasses are grown abundantly, proving that the ridge ground, if not steep, is very valuable for farming. Still further south is the beautiful

HAMILTON CREEK, rich and productive. The timber on the head waters of this stream is not to be excelled in Oregon. Near the mouth of the creek is located the steam saw-mill of Jennings & McPherson. Further up, at the Glass falls, they are building a large water-power sawmill. Still further up is the Cedar Flat country, where is located the shingle mill of Vroom Bros., where a splendid article of cedar shingles are being manufactured. On the lower part of Hamilton creek is the large stock ranch of Francis Bellinger, containing 2200 acres of fine grazing and farm land. The next point of interest, south is

WATERLOO CREEK, which winds its way through a fertile little valley in which good, kind people live and enjoy the comforts of life usually bestowed upon industrious and frugal inhabitants.

We now come to the beautiful SOUTH SANTIAM RIVER, flowing down from the snow-capped peaks of the Cascade mountains, the receptacle of the waters of the streams before-mentioned, which, after joining with the North fork near the prosperous town of Jefferson, is soon lost in the deep Willamette. Situated on the south bank of the South Santiam, fourteen miles southeast of Albany, the live and prosperous county seat, is our own beautiful, wide-awake little city of LEBANON, which was incorporated in 1878. The population at present is about 700 inhabitants, and within the incorporated limits have been erected as fine churches, school and business houses, and private residences as will be seen in any of the larger cities, which speak volumes for the enterprise and pride of our citizens and business men. Here is located the Santiam Academy, a grand monument to the memory of the pioneer of the town, Mr. Rabston, and Mr. Morgan Kees and Hon. Luther Elkins. It will always flourish as a vigorous seat of learning, and, as in the past, many will go out from it fitted for high and honorable positions in the councils of the State and nation.

Among our manufacturing establishments are the Lebanon flouring mills, recently leased by Messrs. Unger and Wasson, who have recently improved them so as to be able to produce as good flour as any of the mills in the county. These gentlemen deserve the patronage of the people and will no doubt merit it.

The furniture manufactory of Mr. E. Gosch, and the planing mill of Mr. Nickerson, and the sawmill of G. W. Wheeler are all Lebanon enterprises, and deserve the kindest consideration of all admirers of home manufactures.

Lebanon enjoys the advantage of being a trading point, over any other town back from the Willamette river, or even on the main thoroughfare from Western to Eastern Oregon, and is the main out-fitting point for all parties crossing the mountains.

Here, too, is the home of THE EXPRESS, which congratulates itself upon being the representative of a town whose citizens, in common with those of the surrounding country, are energetic and keep abreast with all public improvements. Recognizing this, and appreciating the encouragement shown it since it came to Lebanon, we take pleasure in sending to its many readers this week, enlarged to eight columns, promising further improvements as they are deemed necessary for the well-fare of its people who support it. To this end we invite notes of local interest from the many places mentioned in this article.

WATERLOO FALLS. Six miles up the Santiam river from Lebanon, are the Waterloo falls, one of the best natural water-powers in the State. Here is a very desirable location for any kind of manufacturing establishments, especially lumber, as large bodies of timber lie adjacent easy of access. There is now on foot, under the direction of Mr. John Wirt, a very plausible scheme to organize a manufacturing colony for this place, and we believe it is only a question of time when this great power will be utilized to the benefit of the entire county. At Waterloo is also to be found one of the finest soda springs that ever gushed out of the solid rock. It attracts many tourists and invalids annually.

SODAVILLE, so called on account of the soda springs at that place, is situated on a bluff overlooking the valley. From this eminence a most delightful view of the country surrounding Lebanon, Albany and other places is to be obtained. The springs are public property, and during the summer season the little town is enlivened by every festive occasion, some of which are held during the heated term. The drive from Lebanon, four miles, is a very pleasant one, which also makes the place attractive. A first-class hotel under the management of Mr. Klum, furnishes ample accommodations for all who go there.

SWEET HOME VALLEY. Seventeen miles from Lebanon up the Santiam river, is the beautiful little valley above-named. Among the numerous well-to-do stockmen and farmers in this vicinity are J. E. Morris, C. G. Moran, the Ames brothers, J. Shea, E. A. Morris, Mr. Russell, Mr. Riggs, Mr. Jackson, Mr. Gilliland, and others. At the lower end of the valley is the village of Sweet Home consisting of three stores, two hotels, one blacksmith shop and a tannery. The district school numbers about 40 scholars and is in good condition financially, which indicates the prosperity of the community. In the upper part of this valley is located the flouring mill owned by L. K. Brooks.

SEVENTEEN MILES UP FROM SWEET HOME TAKES US TO CANYON CREEK, a very inviting mountain resort, and stopping place, where Mr. W. R. McKinnon entertains tourists and travelers in first-class style. Here is to be found the finest hunting and fishing grounds in the mountains.

Above this are the Findlay Soda Springs, Upper Soda and Fish Lake, all of which are places of summer resort, visited by hundreds of pleasure seekers every season.

THE CALPOOYA. South of the Santiam river at Sweet Home are the fertile hills that reach over to the Calpooya river, which furnishes Crawfordville, Brownsville and Albany with the best of lumber. Between these two rivers the country is settled by a prosperous class of farmers and stock growers of whom we take pleasure in mentioning Z. B. Moss, Col. Phillip, J. I. and J. A. Matlock and H. Hamilton. At CRAWFORDVILLE we find quite a trading point, where are two general stores, one ax factory, one hotel, one tannery, and a planing mill under the management of the Glass Bros. The good people of this village have a fine church and a flourishing school; also a Good Templars' lodge in splendid working order. We will not doubt have a good report from that precinct on the vote in favor of prohibition.

Eight miles below on the Calpooya is the busy town of BROWNVILLE, noted for its large woolen manufactory and extensive flouring mills, and the large saw and planing mills under the management of the Moyer Bros. These enterprises give employment to a large number of employes and put in circulation a large amount of money which greatly adds to the prosperity of the place. There is also a furniture manufactory owned by C. E. Rockwell which is doing a fair business.

Brownsville is an old town and its population is made up of a class of people whose object in life, among other things, is to do good; consequently a number of first-class churches, and two large institutions of learning adorn the town. Many of the citizens are wealthy and some very fine residences indicate their prosperity.

THE EXPRESS heartily congratulates its many former patrons on the abundant harvest now ready for the sickle, with every assurance of advanced prices over several previous years, for all kinds of products which means additional prosperity for all.

Waterloo Notes. July 13.

Mrs. Lyons and invalid son are stopping at Waterloo.

J. G. Gross is still at the old stand doing a good business.

Mr. Ketch and family of Brownsville, are stopping at Mr. Gross' for rest and recreation.

Waterloo is on the boom. Gold has been discovered on the bar below the old mill and is being mined with good success. Some say that with a sluice they could make $5 per day.

Several hundred people visited the spring last Sabbath, and pronounced the soda water as good as ever.

There is a shanty on the spring, and it is a nice place to sit and enjoy the cool breeze, flowing up the river from the north.

Mr. Vader, and family of Grass Ridge, are camping in the grove just below the falls, and near his mining claim where he is getting $1.00 per day with a rocker. Do not get excited over a $1.00 per day with a rocker, for that is only equal to $5.00 or $6.00 per day with a sluice, and there are several places up the Santiam, that are as good as this and even better; but the gold is very fine and hard to save. Nevertheless Mr. Vader understands mining, and is saving it in good paying quantities.

Call at E. Gosch's furniture store and get his low prices on furniture and hardware.

July 12.

A severe frost visited these parts, last Sunday morning.

Mayor E. C. Wheeler of East Portland, is in this city.

Hereafter the Revere house in this city, will be run on the European plan, that is without meals.

Yesterday Mrs. M. J. Cardwell died at her home, near Miller's Station.

Born—in this city July 11th, to the wife of Sheriff Smith, a deputy boy.

An excursion from this city to the Cascades, is announced for next Saturday. Fare for round trip only $3.50.

The county court in conjunction with the Marion county court, has decided to build a bridge across the Santiam at Nehalem.

Mrs. Berry was thrown from a wagon near Harrisburg yesterday, and had her right arm broken twice, besides receiving other serious injuries.

Parties here are willing to take half the stock in a $40,000 paper mill, and there is some talk of furnishing a stock company, for the erection of mills of that kind.

Geo. Humphrey went to Ashland yesterday to arrest W. R. McDonald, of Harrisburg, whom it was claimed was endeavoring to leave the state to defraud his creditors.

A trouting party of three gentlemen from this city, went to Eugene City last Saturday evening, and returned Monday, coming down the river in a boat. They captured about fifty pounds of trout.

Last Saturday C. H. Spencer went to the Bay for a few weeks rest. Monday he received a telegram that his little girl was dangerously ill, and Tuesday morning he paid $100 for an extra train to bring him home.

Seven years ago the Knights of Phythias Lodge of this city, gave one of the most entertaining picnics, ever given in the state. There is some talk of their giving another, after the farmers have garnered their crops.

The contract for building the O. P. round house, has been let to Clark & Co. of this city, and work has commenced. Work on the other buildings will commence soon. Mr. Clark is unable to get brick-layers at $3.00 per day cash.

At the last meeting of the citizens in regard to building a woolen mill, a committee on subscription was appointed, and books ordered open for the sale of stock. The business has been incorporated under the name of the Albany Woolen Mills Association, with a capital stock of $100,000.

Sweet Home Celebration.

We reached the celebration grounds at an early hour and securing position, waited for events. We had not long to wait, as the people came at an early hour to avoid the heat of the day. At an early hour the Sweet Home band, followed by the Crawfordville band, the glee club and others came marching in with flags and banners flying, drums beating, and after making a circuit of the grove, took their places on the grand stand.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Mend, of Lebanon.

Song by the glee club.

Reading Declaration of Independence.

Music by the Sweet Home band.

Oration by F. M. Miller Esq.

Music by the Crawfordville band.

Dinner. A bountiful repast was furnished for the land boys, and speakers of the day. The others forming themselves into groups of friends and acquaintances, partook of roast chicken, beef, ham, biscuit and butter, and plenty of pie and cake.

After dinner we all enjoyed the speaking, lecturing, singing and music, but listened as best I could, I heard not one word about the little boy that made such sad havoc among his father's cherry trees, with his hatchet, and as he grew older made sad havoc in the columns of the British invaders and finally led our three millions of people on to victory, Independence, peace and prosperity.

Messrs. H. C. Moran and Mr. Wright, marshals of the day, deserve special credit for preserving such good order, and having things so nicely arranged.

In the evening about forty couple stopped for the grand ball given by Richard Watkins, and all joined in making it a success. Music was rendered by Prof. J. Woodruff, J. Watkins, and a member of the Sweet Home band.

A fine supper was served at both of the hotels.

During the entire day and evening, I saw no drinking, no hoodlumism, and everything passed off in first class style.

No need of a lockup at Sweet Home, when the crowd is made up of the quiet farmers, their families and friends from the surrounding country.

Are We Degenrating?

The old hackneyed phrase of, "things didn't use to be so," and that other one that implied that they had giants in physical strength and endurance upon the earth in the days of our grandfathers, has been rung into the ears of the people so long and so often that it has produced almost a belief in the statistics of the world. The people are almost convinced that they are all sick and that the human race is growing constantly weaker and more effeminate.

The actual truth of the case is just to the opposite, as statistics will show. Instead of degenerating, the human race is advancing. Length of life is being increased and the average case of strength and endurance are greater instead of less.

Yet so firmly has the belief that we are all sick, become rooted in the minds of people, that the world is full of advertisements for the cure of the supposed ills that affect us, and the quickest road to a fortune is often found in the manufacture of such articles.

Many use high license sort of a buffer to stave off prohibition. They try to make out that it is a more effectual way of shutting up saloons than prohibition. Experience, the certain test, shows that this is not so. It does nothing to reduce drinking.

The entire community was thrown into a whirl of excitement last week, by learning several shots in rapid succession. M. A. Miller shot and killed Hi prices at his drug store. No arrests.

Twine! Twine! Twine! 12 and 15 cents. Every ball warranted, at F. H. Roscoe & Co.

Farmers can save money by buying their machine oil of J. A. Beard, Lebanon, Oregon.

Call an examine the new furniture received during the past week, by F. H. Roscoe & Co. they now have an endless variety of chairs, lounges, tables, stands, rockers, bed stands, bed room sets, and everything else usually carried in a first-class furniture store. They propose to sell at prices that defy competition.

Lots of new buildings going up now, and E. Gosch is selling lots of furniture and hardware.

The celebrated Mitchell wagons for $80.00 cash, at F. H. Roscoe & Co.

Buggies and hacks, cheaper than any place this side of Portland, at F. H. Roscoe & Co.

Money to loan, by Curran & Monteith, Albany, Oregon.

Buy for cash, so far cash, and give farmers the advantage of low prices, is the way F. H. Roscoe & Co. does business.

DIED.

PESTLAND.—At his residence in Scio, Linn county Oregon, on the morning of July 5, 1887, of pulmonary phthisis, ROBERT FOSTER, aged 32 years.

ROBERT FOSTER was born in New Castle, England, in 1855; he came to America in 1871, joined the immigration for Oregon the same year. His first residence in this state was at Portland, where he created the first water works for that city. From there he came to Albany, and from there he removed to the Dalles. In 1878 he came to Scio and purchased the Soda spring mill, which he has owned ever since. He was also the owner of a fine farm and other property, and was regarded as one of the most enterprising men in that vicinity, and was highly respected by all who knew him. He was constantly identified with all moral and religious enterprises and at the time of his death was taking an active part in favor of the prohibitory amendment, and before the people. His sudden death has cast a gloom over the community and it is to be regretted that a man of such eminent qualifications as a useful citizen should be stricken from us so suddenly—surviving but one hour after the attack. His noble wife and four children, three daughters and one son, survive him. Those who knew him best will cherish his memory the longest. Peace to his remains.

CLARK.—At the residence of her father, E. Gosch, in Lebanon, Linn county, Oregon, on Wednesday, July 6, 1887, of cerebral congestion, MARY E. wife of Jas. E. Clark, aged 25 years, a beautiful and virtuous woman, was interred in the Providence cemetery.

CORROW.—In Providence cemetery, Linn county, Oregon, June 25, 1887, of quick consumption, Mrs. BERTHA CORROW, aged 65 years, 10 months and 5 days. Deceased leaves a husband and three children. To receive her remains from north.
