FOUR-FOOTED MINERS.

Timidity and Skill Displayed by the Gophe in Underground Boring.

In Southern California a number of nteresting miners are found, and one very attractive fellow is a long-tailed gray squirrel that constructs the most astonishing tunnels. The most skilled worker, however, is a gopher, known to science as the Geomys Mexicanus.

Ten or twelve years ago they reigned supreme in the now fertile valley of San Gabriel, that lies east of the famons city of Los Angeles. From my General Manager of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, died at Welcker's hotel, in Washington.

It might be assumed that the bags or pouches were used to carry out the dirt and stones removed; but, curiously enough, they use them for exactly the reverse, and for carrying seeds or food. As soon as a gopher makes up its mind that its mining operations have been observed it invariably crawls out, or partly crawls out, of the mine or burrow, and, filling its pouches with sticks and sand, backs quickly in. in that city, six of the employes meet its tail seemingly guiding it to the hole with unfailing regularity, the animal never turning but always backing, and moving so rapidly that it seems almost six others were badly injured. A large canvas sheet was stretched over the sidewalk. Three men jumped on this way as well as another. The soil and

A DROP OF RA'N.

It Becomes a Microscopic Ocean by the Time It Reaches the Earth.

It might be supposed that rain-water, oming from the sky, would be perectly pure. Far from that. While the capor condenses into rain-drops, small amounts of nitrate and nitrate of ammonia are formed and dissolved in the nascent drop; the drop finds in the atmosphere oxygen, nitrogen, carbonic seid, ozone, ammonia, ready and eager to be dissolved; they are all taken up, and with the drop begin their journey earthward. While the drop is falling. it attracts dust floating in the air containing all the mineral elements of the earth's crust, especially salt, magnesia, silica, lime, etc. They all dissolve in it and travel downward. Nearer the surface coal and tar particles from smoke, sulphur gases and effluvia are gathered and either dissolved or carried along mechanically, germs of myriads of low organisms constantly floating in the air are harbored and shel ered, and by the time the drop dashes into thouands of minute particles against a stone, it has become a microscopic ocean, containing all the elements of the earth's surface and the beginning of an active life. When people use eistern water they have abundant opportunity to observe the impurity of rain water. After the rain water had struck the soil it hastens to enter it, but during the short passage through the sod it takes up great cargoes of impurities, the product of rotten vegetable substances, and where man dwells, of human activity, shiftlessness and filth. -Science.

-The Napa Reporter says: "A company or an agent gets a piece of poor land and pays probably $5 and acre for it. The land may be a lot of rocky hills or it may be a sandy waste or marsh land. It is cut up into los 25 by 100 feet and the place is named. It is called a town, but there is no lown there. When divided there are town there. When divided there are probably twenty lots to the acre. The company then has a large number of short, blank deeds printed, and when a lot is given away the deed is filled out and $3 charged for it. If there are twenty lots to the acre the land brings $60 per acre, minus the cost of twenty deeds, which is probably 20 cents. Buying land at $5 per acre and giving it away at $60 is profitable."

-Commenting upon a recent suggestion of an electric lamp for farmers, the Electrician states this matter has received attention in Southern Russia, where the Stepanoff primary battery is to some extent employed during the threshing season. The only chance the Russian wheatgrower has to dispose of his crop on favorable terms is to get it on the market at the earliest possible moment, before the American and Indian freights arrive. A REPRIEVE FOR THE CONDEMNED. Wretched men and women long condemne to suffer the tertures of dyspepsia, are fille with new hope after a few doses of Hostetter Stomach Bitters. This budding hope blossoms into the fruition of ce tainty, if the Bitters is persisted in. It brings a reprieve to all dyspeptics who seek its aid. Flatulence, heart-burn, sinking at the pit of the stomach between meals, the nervous tremors and insomnia of which chronic indigestion is the parent, disappear with their hateful progenitor. Most beneficent of stomachies! who can wonder that in so many instances it awakens grateful eloquence in those who, benefited by it, sprak valuntarily in its behalf. It requires a graphic pen to describe the torments of dyspepsia, but in many of the testimonials received by the proprietors of the Flitters, these are portrayed with vivid truthfulness. Constitution, billousness, muscular debility, malarial favors and rheumatism are relieved by it.

"What's the matter now, Phil?" "W'y, sah, it hab jes' come to my mine plain dat de white folks ain't got it in da hearts ter treat er cullud man wid 'sideration.' "What new proof have you that the white folks are ill-disposed towards the negroes?" "I'd like ter know whut new proof er man wants, when de ole proof is still in its prime, but of yer wants er new proof, I ken gin it ter yer. My wife has been cookin' at Squar Watson's house. Wall, sah, da 'buzed her so yistidy chenin' dat I hatter take her erway frum dar."

"What did they do to her?" "Oh, da hu't her feelin's an' com plexion shameful, sah-pizenous." "But how?"

"Well, sah, I went ober dar yistidy ebenin' 'bout de time I thought dat mer wife bad done cleaned up de supper things, an' w'en I got dar she allus wuz er perlite lady-she axed me ter sit down an' eat er snack. I wuz so anxious ter see her dat I didn't eat nothin' 'fo' I lef' home, an' I sot down, I did, an' drawed er b'iled ham up ter me an' i ad gunter make mer po' wife 'joy herse'f-fur dar's nuthin' er lady likes rao' den ter see her husban' eat-w'en Squar Watson he come out in de kitchen, he did, an' tole me ter git outen dar. Tole me. sah, flat-footed -tole me ter git right out. Dat's whut he done, sah, an' I ken prube it by er lady dat doan lie 'bout er little thing. Tole me ter git outen de house—shoved de ham away an' ordered me out."

> "Then what did he say to your "Didn' say nuthin' ter her."

"But how did he abuse her?" "Didn' I dun tole you dat he shoved de ham erway ?" "Yes, but was that abusing her?"

"Look yere, is it possible dat yerse'f doan know de fine lines o' de human feelin'? Doan yer know dat we'n er some pusson comes er shovin' de vidults erway, dat it hurts er feelin's?

Ain't von been in s'ciety ernuff ter know dat er lady likes ter see-oh, dar ain't no use'n talkin' ter er white man, fur da's all standin' tergeder er- $1000 gin de nigger. Hub, it gwine take many er year ter cibilize dese w'ite folks till da un'erstans de fine lines o'

The Seven Cuticura Boys

These seven beautiful boys owe their beauty of skin, luxuriance of hair, purity of blood, and freedom from bereditary tains or humore of the skin or scalp to the celebrated Curreura Remeners.

For eleansing, puritying and beautifying the skin of children and infants, and curing torturing, distincting, scaly and punity diseases of the skin, scalp and blood, with loss of hair, from infancy to old age, Curreura, the great skin cure, and Curreura Soar, an exquisite skin beautifier, prepared from it externally, and Curreura Bastonery, the new blood purifier, internally, are infailible.

Your most valuable Curreura Remenes have done my child so much good that I feel like saying this for the benefit of those who are troubled with skin disease. My little girl was troubled with skin disease, my little girl was troubled with skin disease, and I tried several doctors and medicines, but did not do her any good until I used the Curreura Soar externally, and by the last of Augus he was so nearly will that we gave him only one dose of the Resourers about every second day for about ten day tonger, and he has never been troubled since with the horrible malady.
