

FRIDAY, JULY 27, 1888.

H. Y. Kirkpatrick, Publisher.

POLITICAL BUGABOOS.

The campaign has not developed very far, but it is plainly to be seen already that it is to be another campaign of bugaboos. On the Republican side the bugaboos to frighten recent republicans is free trade; on the Democratic side it is the surplus. Once more the intelligent voter of America is to be solemnly assured that if he votes this way he is sure to bring disaster, and if he votes that way sure to bring ruin on the country. The intelligent voter will believe neither side. Neither party has any desire to bring either ruin or disaster. Both know that any such achievement would be the signal for immediate defeat and overthrow. Both have the strongest possible reasons for desiring to avoid any such result. It is a man easily frightened, or else one who has had little to do with American politics, who gives himself up to the idea that the country is lost if the other party gets into power. This country is greater than any party. Neither the election of Harrison nor the re-election of Cleveland means ruin or disaster to the country. One set of politicians will go in and another out—that is about all.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[From our regular correspondent.]

WASHINGTON, July 20. The American party is to hold its national convention in this city August 14 for the purpose of nominating candidates for President and Vice President.

Among the private pension bills passed by the House last week was one for the relief of John Chaska, who was wounded in forty-seven different places during the late war.

The number of bills introduced in the Senate at the present session is largely in excess of the number ever before introduced at a single session. They already number over 3300 and are still coming.

Senator Antonio Flores, President of the Republic of Ecuador, was given a formal reception at the White House by the President recently.

Chaska, the Indian half-breed, and his wife, formerly Miss Fellows of this city, are visiting here. They attract much attention, and the wife seems to enjoy the notoriety. Chaska appears to be indifferent.

A bronze statue of Gen. Phil Kearney was set up in the statutory hall at the Capitol this week. It was given by the state of New Jersey.

A constitutional amendment to be submitted to the states, providing that the manufacture, importation, exportation, transportation and sale of all alcoholic liquors as a beverage shall be hereby forever prohibited in the United States, and in every place subject to their jurisdiction, has been favorably reported to the Senate.

The protective tariff has no enemy more to be feared than the man who locks all attempts at its readjustment and reduction. If this country ever abandons the idea of protection (in its proper sense) it will be because its friends have by their unreasonable course rendered impossible its readjustment as changing conditions require. Protection must protect; when it ceases to do that it is no longer protection. It must protect the industries that need protection, not those which have outgrown the need. Our present tariff is a war tariff. It was fashioned to protect industries as they were a generation ago. Infant industries have grown since that time to Samsonian strength. The country has developed unmeasurably in every direction. To claim now that there is need for the same degree of protection, or a still higher degree, is to disprove all the claims that were advanced for the theory then or can be advanced now. If a convalescent man is given a pair of crutches and assured that their use will assist him in recovering his strength, what is he to think if, thirty years after, the same physician assures him the crutches are just as much needed as ever, and perhaps indeed he needs even a stronger pair?—California Prohibitionist.

Yes, my son, I know the political fever has already commenced, and it will grow hotter with the weather; but don't you meddle with politics, as I am grieved to see you have already done to the extent of ruining two suits of clothes with kerosene oil and the cast of your stomach with whisky—it would be better for you to-day, socially, morally, physically and financially, had you drunk the kerosene and poured the whisky on your clothes, although your patriotic exhilaration would have suffered—but when you do go into real politics, when you triumph, triumph grandly, magnanimously, mercifully. But when the hour of defeat comes, as come it will, let me advise you to "die easy." Don't kick; don't struggle after you are dead. It distorts the countenance, contracts the limbs, lends the features a hideous expression of agony and hate, and terrifies the mourners. When your time comes "die easy." Don't kick against manifest destiny. Remember it is hard to fight the fates.—Bob Burdette.

Mrs. Garfield is rich. Gen. Garfield's estate netted the widow about $40,000, and in addition she received $25,000 insurance on his life. Congress, it will be remembered, voted her an annual pension of $5,000 and gave her besides $40,000, which would have been the balance of the salary due the President at the end of the first year in office had he lived. The amount of the popular subscription raised directly after Garfield's death, when invested for her in government bonds, aggregated $312,000. It will be observed, therefore, that she is quite comfortable when it comes to hard cash, and her yearly income must be at least $25,000.

Eight hundred of the teachers from the East who have been attending the National Educational Association Convention in San Francisco, will come through Oregon on their way home.

W. C. T. U. AND SUNDAY COLUMN.

"Peace on Earth and Good Will to Men."

A LETTER FROM THE HOLY LAND.

JERUSALEM, March 12, 1888.

We arrived in Joppa Sabbath morning, February 20. Approaching Joppa from the sea one will be struck with the beauty of the scene. The strange sensation of looking upon a land sacred above any earthly place, the country of Jacob and David and Ruth and Rachel, amongst which the prophets of Israel taught, and the Saviour of all men lived and was crucified; to the stony hillside town of Joppa, to which the cedar wood was sent for the temple, the port from which Jonah sailed on his tempestuous voyage. Down by the shore to the south is the flat-roofed house that tradition says is where Peter slept and had his vision. The rude stairway we ascended and which led to a view which gives us all that is needed for the hour—the wide heavens above and in front the wide sweep of the blue Mediterranean sea, its nearer waves broken by the reefs. Fishermen are standing and wading among the rocks, such as might have been there of old, recalling to mind the apostles and their long-forgotten nets by the lake Gennesareth, the first promise of the future call to be fishers of men.

The town of Joppa is beautiful from the sea, but the reverse of this is true concerning its streets, which are dirty, narrow and winding. The houses are built promiscuously, and although the picturesque view from a distance commands no admiration from a nearer view. Donkeys and camels heavily laden may be met in the streets, but the wheeled vehicles are seen. The city until recently has been surrounded by a stone wall, which has been taken down by the Turkish government and the stone sold for building purposes. We visited a missionary school which was established by an English lady several years ago, and heard them recite scripture verses and sing, and they seemed very bright children. A very interesting feature is the orange groves in and around Joppa, which are very extensive and the fruit is exquisite. On the trees myriads of ripe luscious oranges may be seen, oval in shape and very large. Other fruit, too, lemons, pomegranates, apricots, figs and dates also come to great perfection. For miles around the scene is of luxuriant beauty. We saw the foundation of the house where Peter raised Dorcas to life (see 9th chapter of Acts).

We left Joppa Monday morning, coming over to Jerusalem in carriages. We had a good dragon with us, which could point out the places of the Bible, and we would open our Bibles and read right on the spot. We stopped at old Ramoth, and then came over from which we could see the sea, the mountains and many villages. We came through the valley of Ajalon (see Joshua xii), passed the traditional birthplace of John the Baptist, the sight of Emmaus and the valley of Gihon in which Solomon was anointed king of Israel, and Mizpah and Kirjath Jearim, the Ark of the Lord rested twenty years (see 1st Chronicles, xlii, 5-8).

From thence our course leads us to the top of a very high hill, with deep valleys on one side as the wild, high table land is approached, and we cannot crowd out of our thoughts the many associations connected with the road we are traveling. Along this highway the Ark of the Lord was borne in triumph to Jerusalem, and at some point on the line of this route Christ joined the two disciples who were on their way to Emmaus. From age to age thousands of Israelites have wandered their quiet way along this road in order that they might attend the feasts at Jerusalem. After reaching the hill of the Mount of Olives and a sight of the city—the old Jerusalem—burst upon our view. It was about 5 o'clock in the evening when we reached our hotel, very weary and our eyes tired from seeing the grand sights which had greeted our vision during the day. But the next morning we were thoroughly rested and ready to proceed on our inspiring march.

Perhaps you would like to have me describe my first impressions of the Holy City. There is a stir and a sound of moving to and fro, the buzz and hum of a multitude such as might have been heard two thousand years ago. I feel now that there is need for the same degree of protection, or a still higher degree, is to disprove all the claims that were advanced for the theory then or can be advanced now. If a convalescent man is given a pair of crutches and assured that their use will assist him in recovering his strength, what is he to think if, thirty years after, the same physician assures him the crutches are just as much needed as ever, and perhaps indeed he needs even a stronger pair?—California Prohibitionist.

Yes, my son, I know the political fever has already commenced, and it will grow hotter with the weather; but don't you meddle with politics, as I am grieved to see you have already done to the extent of ruining two suits of clothes with kerosene oil and the cast of your stomach with whisky—it would be better for you to-day, socially, morally, physically and financially, had you drunk the kerosene and poured the whisky on your clothes, although your patriotic exhilaration would have suffered—but when you do go into real politics, when you triumph, triumph grandly, magnanimously, mercifully. But when the hour of defeat comes, as come it will, let me advise you to "die easy." Don't kick; don't struggle after you are dead. It distorts the countenance, contracts the limbs, lends the features a hideous expression of agony and hate, and terrifies the mourners. When your time comes "die easy." Don't kick against manifest destiny. Remember it is hard to fight the fates.—Bob Burdette.

Mrs. Garfield is rich. Gen. Garfield's estate netted the widow about $40,000, and in addition she received $25,000 insurance on his life. Congress, it will be remembered, voted her an annual pension of $5,000 and gave her besides $40,000, which would have been the balance of the salary due the President at the end of the first year in office had he lived. The amount of the popular subscription raised directly after Garfield's death, when invested for her in government bonds, aggregated $312,000. It will be observed, therefore, that she is quite comfortable when it comes to hard cash, and her yearly income must be at least $25,000.

Eight hundred of the teachers from the East who have been attending the National Educational Association Convention in San Francisco, will come through Oregon on their way home.

Abraham's oak, by the side of which his tent was pitched when he entertained the angels who visited him just before the destruction of Sodom. We have been here two weeks yesterday and have plans in store for another week, but we are so very busy that time flies very rapidly.

MRS. W. F. HARNED.

THE CHILD RECOVERED.—My little girl, aged seven years, was afflicted with a severe cough and cold. She could not sleep but coughed almost incessantly. I was induced by a friend to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and was astonished at the immediate relief it gave her and the cure it produced. I would not be without it in the house for any price. I have tried many remedies for coughs and colds, but this is superior to anything I have ever tried. Prof. J. M. Mehan, Capital City Commercial College, Des Moines, Iowa. Sold by M. A. Miller.

Try St. Patrick's Pills and compare their effect with any other kind made. They contain the good properties of the older preparations in the market combined with the most valuable medicines discovered in modern times. As a Cathartic and liver pill, St. Patrick's are perfection. Sold by M. A. Miller.

Go to Joe Harbin for general blacksmithing. Machinery and wagon work a specialty. All work warranted.

The Appetite

May be increased, the Digestive organs strengthened, and the bowels regulated, by taking Ayer's Pills. These Pills are purely vegetable in their composition. They contain neither calomel nor any other dangerous drug, and may be taken with perfect safety by persons of all ages.

I was a great sufferer from Dyspepsia and Constipation. I had no appetite, and was constantly afflicted with headache and dizziness. I consulted our family doctor, who prescribed for me, at various times, without affording more than temporary relief. I finally commenced taking Ayer's Pills. In a short time my digestion and appetite IMPROVED my bowels were regulated, and, by the time I finished two boxes of these Pills my tendency to headaches had disappeared, and I became strong and well. Darius M. Logan, Wilmington, Del.

I was troubled, for over a year, with Loss of Appetite, and general Debility. I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, and, before finishing half a box of this medicine, my appetite and strength were restored. C. O. Clark, Danbury, Conn.

Ayer's Pills are the best medicine known to me for regulating the bowels, and for all diseases caused by a disordered Stomach and Liver. I suffered for over three years with Headache, Indigestion, and Constipation. I had no appetite, and was weak and nervous most of the time.

BY USING three boxes of Ayer's Pills, and at the same time dieting myself, I was completely cured. My digestive organs are now in good order, and I am in perfect health. F. Lockwood, Topeka, Kans.

Ayer's Pills have benefited me wonderfully. For months I suffered from Indigestion and Headache, was restless at night, and had a bad taste in my mouth every morning. After taking one box of Ayer's Pills, all these troubles disappeared. My food digested, and my sleep was refreshing. Henry C. Hemmenway, Rockport, Mass.

I was cured of the Piles by the use of Ayer's Pills. They not only relieved me of that painful disorder, but gave me increased vigor, and restored my health. John Lazarus, St. John, N. E.

Ayer's Pills,
Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Sold by all Druggists and Dealers in Medicine.

MRS. G. W. RICE,

Milliner, Lebanon, Ore..

—HAS JUST RECEIVED HER—

Spring Stock

—OF—

Millinery Goods

—CONSISTING OF—

Hats, Bonnets, Flowers, Ribbons, Etc., Etc.

Call and get Prices on Goods which are

VERY LOW.

THIS SPACE IS RESERVED FOR

KNAPP, BURRELL &amp; CO'S.

NEW AD

NEXT WEEK.

WALLACE &amp; THOMPSON'S

store is located at Albany, Linn Co.

Oregon, about twelve miles nor-west of Lebanon. They have

beyond a doubt the finest

stock of choice

FRESH

Goods ever displayed in Albany. The store is twenty-two feet wide and one hundred feet deep and chuck full of

GROCERIES

Provisions, Crockery and Glassware. These goods were bought largely from First Hands, thereby saving all the profits of the Middle men, and storage at intermediate points, which enables us to sell very

CHEAP

Giving our Customers the benefit of at least Ten per cent.

and very frequently Twenty-Five

The way we do this is not altogether a secret

It is simply because we buy

FOR CASH

in large quantities, thereby getting the benefit of all discounts and rebates, besides our sales are large and daily increasing. We turn our stock every sixty days

or six times a year, thus insuring you always

to get the best and the freshest. Remember

we sell strictly for the CASH

Or Produce.

We have the agency of five

Large Southern Peach orchards. This fruit we are receiving daily, fresh from the orchards. It is noted for its

fine flavor and good keeping qualities, and buying it as we do (direct of the growers) in

Yours Truly,

WALLACE &amp; THOMPSON.

MRS. G. W. RICE,

Milliner, Lebanon, Ore..

—HAS JUST RECEIVED HER—

Spring Stock

—OF—

Millinery Goods

—CONSISTING OF—

Hats, Bonnets, Flowers, Rib-

bons, Etc., Etc.

Call and get Prices on Goods

which are

VERY LOW.

THIS SPACE IS RESERVED FOR

KNAPP, BURRELL &amp; CO'S.

NEW AD

NEXT WEEK.

WALLACE &amp; THOMPSON'S

store is located at Albany, Linn Co.

Oregon, about twelve miles nor-

west of Lebanon. They have

beyond a doubt the finest

stock of choice

FRESH

Goods ever displayed in Albany. The store is twenty-two feet wide and one hundred feet deep and chuck full of

GROCERIES

Provisions, Crockery and Glassware. These goods were bought largely from First Hands, thereby saving all the profits of the Middle men, and storage at intermediate points, which enables us to sell very

CHEAP

Giving our Customers the benefit

of at least Ten per cent.

and very frequently Twenty-Five

The way we do this

is not altogether a secret

It is simply because we buy

FOR CASH

in large quantities, thereby getting the benefit of all dis-

counts and rebates, besides our sales are large and daily

increasing. We turn our stock every sixty days

or six times a year, thus insuring you always

to get the best and the freshest. Remember

we sell strictly for the CASH

Or Produce.

We have the agency of five

Large Southern Peach orch-

ards. This fruit we are receiving daily, fresh from the orchards. It is noted for its

fine flavor and good keeping

qualities, and buying it as we do (direct of the growers) in

Yours Truly,

WALLACE &amp; THOMPSON.

MRS. G. W. RICE,

Milliner, Lebanon, Ore..

—HAS JUST RECEIVED HER—

Spring Stock

—OF—

Millinery Goods

—CONSISTING OF—

Hats, Bonnets, Flowers, Rib-

bons, Etc., Etc.

Call and get Prices on Goods

which are

VERY LOW.

THIS SPACE IS RESERVED FOR

KNAPP, BURRELL &amp; CO'S.

NEW AD

NEXT WEEK.

WALLACE &amp; THOMPSON'S

store is located at Albany, Linn Co.

Oregon, about twelve miles nor-

west of Lebanon. They have

beyond a doubt the finest

stock of choice

FRESH

Goods ever displayed in Albany. The store is twenty-two feet wide and one hundred feet deep and chuck full of

GROCERIES

Provisions, Crockery and Glassware. These goods were bought largely from First Hands, thereby saving all the profits of the Middle men, and storage at intermediate points, which enables us to sell very

CHEAP

Giving our Customers the benefit

of at least Ten per cent.

and very frequently Twenty-Five

The way we do this

is not altogether a secret

It is simply because we buy

FOR CASH

in large quantities, thereby getting the benefit of all dis-

counts and rebates, besides our sales are large and daily

increasing. We turn our stock every sixty days

or six times a year, thus insuring you always

to get the best and the freshest. Remember

we sell strictly for the CASH

Or Produce.

We have the agency of five

Large Southern Peach orch-

ards. This fruit we are receiving daily, fresh from the orchards. It is noted for its

fine flavor and good keeping

qualities, and buying it as we do (direct of the growers) in

Yours Truly,

WALLACE &amp; THOMPSON.

MRS. G. W. RICE,

Milliner, Lebanon, Ore..

—HAS JUST RECEIVED HER—

Spring Stock

—OF—

Millinery Goods

—CONSISTING OF—

Hats, Bonnets, Flowers, Rib-

bons, Etc., Etc.

Call and get Prices on Goods

which are

VERY LOW.

THIS SPACE IS RESERVED FOR

KNAPP, BURRELL &amp; CO'S.

NEW AD

NEXT WEEK.

WALLACE &amp; THOMPSON'S

store is located at Albany, Linn Co.

Oregon, about twelve miles nor-

west of Lebanon. They have

beyond a doubt the finest

stock of choice

FRESH

Goods ever displayed in Albany. The store is twenty-two feet wide and one hundred feet deep and chuck full of

GROCERIES

Provisions, Crockery and Glassware. These goods were bought largely from First Hands, thereby saving all the profits of the Middle men, and storage at intermediate points, which enables us to sell very

CHEAP