

BROWNSVILLE.

Prof returned from Portland James Wilson on Thursday returned from Corvallis.

Born, March 7, 1890, to the wife of Mrs. W. O. Stannard is suffering from an attack of ill health.

Henry McFarland is suffering from an acute attack of neuritis.

See H. N. Thompson's big ad. in this week's issue of THE EXPRESS.

Mrs. Frederick Anderson, of Coburg, is visiting her friends at this place.

D. S. Smith, ex-sheriff of Linn county, was in town on Monday last.

Donald Melton returned from the upper Callipoolia logging camp on Friday.

Miss Hattie Chesney, of Albany, paid Brownsvillers friends a visit on Monday.

F. Betts, who for some days past has been in Albany, on Friday returned to Brownsville.

W. J. Hollister has sufficiently recovered from his late sickness to again attend to business.

Mrs. Royal Grover, who for the past two weeks has been extremely ill, is improving in health.

Dr. A. at Oakville, Or., March 2, 1890, in Cooley, aged 10 years, brother of S. A. Cooley of this place.

Rev. A. Le Roy is making improvements and additions to his property preparatory to a removal to the same.

E. M. Jack has purchased from C. E. Stannard the grocery and confectionery business located at the post office store.

John Cooley has somewhat recovered from his illness, but is yet confined to his bed by a complication of distressing complaints.

Rev. A. Le Roy has purchased the property, consisting of dwelling and four lots, formerly owned by O. P. Coshov, Jr.

Married, Mar. 5, 1890, by Rev. Robt. at the residence of the bride's parents near Crawfordsville, C. H. Elewick and Miss Eva Chance.

At a meeting held at the North Brownsville city hall, Monday, March 4, R. N. Thompson was elected to serve as school director for the following three years and A. W. Stannard clerk to serve during the next term of one year.

The "Ollentianpanbang" band were out in full force on Monday night, and for an hour or more created an indescribable din, but it was on account of the same old story—"some one married."

"Royal Alloy," the best known substitute for gold, does not tarnish or corrode in appearance and wear equal to 18k gold spectacles, finest lenses, perfect and clear, $2 per pair at Pillsbury's.

Died, March 7, 1890, Mrs. Florence Snyder, aged 27 years, wife of the late S. S. Snyder. The funeral ceremonies were conducted by Rev. Carpus Sperry, on Friday, at the residence of Joe. Harrison.

R. N. Thompson who on Saturday left for San Francisco via the O. & C. R. R., will visit friends in San Jose and Petaluma. Mrs. Thompson will accompany him on his return home at the expiration of two weeks.

At the North Brownsville city hall on the 18th of March at 7 P. M., there will be held a meeting of the legal voters of school district No. 32, for the purpose of considering the levying of a tax of $1000, to be used for school purposes and improvements.

A visit to the store of G. C. Cooley & Co., South Brownsville, will convince the most skeptical that they carry one of the largest and best-assorted stocks of general merchandise, also that their line of boots and shoes, which are from the celebrated factory of Parker Bros., Lynn, Mass., and also J. N. Smith's kid shoes for ladies and misses, cannot be excelled for style, finish, guaranteed stock and reasonable prices.

The reception at the Baptist church, tendered to Rev. A. Le Roy and wife on the evening of Saturday last, was a most enjoyable affair. Rev. Elworthy of the part of the committee, delivered an interesting and interesting remarks, O. P. Coshov, Jr., delivered an address of welcome for the church, and A. W. Stannard for the Sunday school. Mrs. Croft also delivered an address of welcome in behalf of the missionary society, which was responded to by Mrs. Le Roy. The meeting was also addressed in response by Rev. Le Roy in his usual eloquent and interesting manner. Some choice musical selections were rendered by the choir, and the balance of the evening was passed in the enjoyment of a social, pleasant time. T. S. P.
