

BROWNSVILLE.

Blackman, of Albany, was on our streets on Tuesday last. F. M. Jack and J. K. McHargue, on Wednesday left for Portland. The water is extremely low in the Calypsoa river at the present time. Mrs. C. H. Cable and son "Eddie," on Wednesday returned from Portland. During a number of days past the thermometer has marked 96°. "Muchly tropical." Mrs. Jay A. Bishop and children, of East Portland, are visiting relatives at the farm of Mr. Temple. The Misses Coshow, Miss Deila Starn, Frank Starn and Bert Cable paid Waterloo a visit on Saturday. John Stringer, former proprietor of the Brownsville bakery, is at present engaged in business at Seaside, W. T. W. R. Kirk and Peter Hume on Monday left for Seaside to purchase wool for the Eagle woolen mills of this place. The Eagle woolen mills are purchasing a large supply of wool, which daily through town on its way for delivery at the factory. Misses Hullo and Jesse Rad who for the past week have been visiting the Misses Coshow, on Thursday returned home to McMinnville. Now the small boy goes in swimming, and he sometimes catches something besides the cramp when he is caught going in swimming. Thomas Kay and family on Wednesday returned home from the eastern states, where they have been since their return from England. W. M. Morrow, of Seaside, a practical and expert mechanic, who arrived in town on Thursday has secured employment with G. A. Dyson. Rev. J. R. Kirkpatrick, who on the previous Sunday preached at the C. P. Church to a large and appreciative audience, on Monday morning returned home to Lebanon. The wife and family of Mr. Curran, head dyer at the Eagle woolen mill, on Saturday arrived from San Francisco. They will reside in the Gross house, east of the Baptist church. O. P. Coshow, wife and child, on Thursday left for the Findley soda springs. Mr. and Mrs. C. E. The Eagle woolen mills company, at their roller process flaring mills, Brownsville, will purchase 40,000 bushels of wheat for which the highest market price will be paid. Bring on your wheat, no storage charged. A large number of our citizens are taking advantage of the clear warm weather to visit the cool mountain canyons and luxuriate on fried venison and trout, clear cool spring water, and enjoy the shade of the aromatically fragrant pines. Charles Miller, of Lebanon, is attending to the prescription department of the drug store during the absence of the proprietor, G. C. Starnard, who, on Tuesday, accompanied by his wife, sister and Miss Le Roy, left for a month's recreation in the mountains, visiting the Belknap hot springs, Clear Lake, and the upper and lower soda springs on the Santiam river. The county bridge crossing the Santiam river at Waterloo, under supervision of J. M. Haden, foreman of construction for contractors Hoffman and Bates, is under way and gradually stretching from shore to shore. The entire length of the bridge, which is on the combination Pratt truss style, is 370 feet. The center span will be 200 feet at an elevation of 27 feet above high water mark. The contract was taken by Messrs. Bates and Hoffman, in consideration of $5500, who, when this contract is completed will build the Stayton bridge, which consists of one 300 ft. span and two 150 ft. spans, to be built on the combination Pratt model, the principal timbers being covered with galvanized wire. Mrs. Sages on Saturday returned home from Philomath, where for the past week she has been visiting family friends. T. S. P.

SECRET HOME.

July 15. Daniel Rumbaugh and daughter are off in the mountains. There are many old acquaintances going off into the mountains for recreation from nearly all parts of the country. Mr. Joseph Rowell and Miss Rosa Woodruff were married on the 4th of July. Report is there are others to follow soon. Mr. A. F. Hamilton bought out Mr. Geo Rowell's dry goods last week. Rowell will only keep a general grocery hereafter. Our genial schoolmaster, Mr. Michener, returned home last week. We trust that he will undertake our school again this winter. Our genial mail carrier's family is over the mountains and he is baching. He is unused to that, and a terrible bache he will make of it. Farmers are busy with their hay and harvest. Hay is light in this section of the country. Think the wheat will be good. Our gardens need rain. Mr. John Mingleo is convalescent. Mr. A. Wiley's son is not expected to get well—he has the dropsy. Is being attended by Drs. Unger & Lamberson. Drs. Taylor & Unger are stopping at the Independent. Now is the time to get teeth extracted and new ones put in. Give them a call; they come well recommended. Mr. Geo. Rowell has a new buggy and new horse. He is on the streets of our city a large part of his time. This shows prosperity in the store and mercantile business. Mr. A. F. Hamilton sold his fine team of matched grays to Mr. John Davis, who will do his freighting for the present. Davis is always around when there is a bargain. Mr. Eggleston, of Corvallis, and a company of surveyors passed through here en route for Corvallis. They have been east of the mountains surveying the rail road to Snake river. Mr. John Doucra returned home from the mountains yesterday, where he gathered a large quantity of blackberries for himself and John Jones; reports a good time generally. Our postmaster went to Brownsville last week and got lost in that large city. Can't tell what was the matter. He went with John Davis, and it may be they took too much dinner or something.

WIRTSBURG.

Mr. King, the sawyer, visited his family, near Crawfordsville, on Saturday and Sunday last. Mrs. O. Jennings was visiting in the burg yesterday. Mr. Gleason made the burg a short call this morning. Mrs. Fry and her daughter are visiting friends on the Albany prairie, this week. Two new boarders at the boarding house, Mr. Dobson and Mr. McQuinley. Mrs. Ella Wirtis thinking of erecting a dwelling about one mile from the burg. Mrs. Grant Sidney is stopping with Mrs. Al. Story while he is harvesting on the prairie. Mrs. Woolsey saw a black bear yesterday near her camp; she is living in a tent. A bear is not a pleasant visitor. He was seated on a log eating berries and seemed to be contented. The new mill is sawing lumber as fast as can be expected under the circumstances, as their dam is not built yet, and their lumber track has not been laid. I wish to inform the dear readers of The Express that our town is improving very fast. There has been three new buildings built on Main street and one on Buck street the past few weeks, and lumber will be hauled, in a few days; for another new building about one-half mile from the burg. OUR CEMETERY. A former correspondent of yours wrote something like this: "People say 'Is not a Methodist grave yard?' No it is not. True a methodist donated it, and the Methodist church appoints trustees to look after it, but further than this it is public." Although it seems to me that one might as well say that the Methodist church building does not belong to the Methodist but to the public, yet as the writer considers the city cemetery belongs to the public and seems to know whereof he speaks, I wish to ask him(?) a few questions to be answered through your paper. Who appoints the trustees? How often are they appointed? How often do they make their reports and to who? What are the trustees reasons for not printing a full report of all money received and paid out from time of receiving land as L. suggested? Do you not think it strange, that until they had read your communication, many prominent Methodists here did not know that the Methodist church managed, or rather mismanaged the cemetery? I hope the writer will answer these questions in as kindly a spirit as I have asked them. C. The Oregonian says that Dr. Talmage is now on his summer vacation, but will combine business with pleasure. His advance agent is now on the road arranging dates for lectures by the great sensationalist. Mrs. Noyes, of The Dalles, Or., is missing, says the Tazewell Ledger. Her son is in Theonia looking for her, and with the aid of Chief of Police Chesney, hopes to locate her. Mrs. Noyes was in Portland, headed towards the Sound on July 2nd. Mr. Noyes has not heard of his mother since. The old lady was accustomed to travel and her disappearance is to her son a great mystery. "However could you think of falling in love with such a homely fellow? His figure is something awful." "Yes, but he has a lovely one in the bank."
