

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Threshing is about over. Did you borrow this paper? The best job work is done by the EXPRESS.

Several refreshing showers fell during the first of the week.

Mr. J. O. Gross will give a dance at Waterloo next Friday evening, August 30.

The marshal put Jim Keeney in the cooler for being drunk and swearing on the streets.

M. A. Miller will close out his stock of mixed prints at cost for the next thirty days.

Mrs. Davidson, of Pomeroy, W. T. was in town this week visiting her sister, Mrs. S. W. Hindman.

Mr. R. C. McClure was made the happy father of a nine pound girl, last Saturday. Mother and child doing well.

All parties knowing themselves indebted to Swan Bros. will confer a favor by calling and settling, as they are in need of their money.

Messrs. J. A. Beard and J. A. Roberts made the flourishing little village of Sweet Home a visit this week.

Charles Hindman, of Portland, son of S. W. Hindman, was in town this week with a band of horses which he brought from Camp Polk.

Geo. Smith and family, of Albany, were in town Sunday. Mr. Smith returned home in the evening, but left his family here for a short visit.

We wonder what is the matter with the editor-in-chief at present. It seems as though he had lost something—probably his heart—and he is cross! Oh, my! we can hardly stand him. We do wish—

KIND READER—Do you owe THE EXPRESS anything? Well, it may be a small matter to you, but the aggregate of several hundred delinquent subscribers is considerable to the printer. Just step in and make us feel good by the "eloquent clink of a dollar or two."

On Wednesday, August 25, the Oregon Conference, of the M. E. Church, meets in Portland. This conference embraces all that part of Oregon west of the Cascades, and will be presided over by Bishop T. A. Bowman, D. D., L. L. D., of St. Louis.

Misses Frankie Burkhardt, Onetta Crouch, Jessie Raiston and Ora Harkness made us a pleasant call this week and brought us a large beautiful bouquet, for which they have our thanks. Call again, little friends.

On Monday afternoon about one o'clock James Keeney, in a very ungentlemanly manner, accosted West Fleetwood, whereupon "Fleet" went for him in good style and soon had the best of it. Both men had been drinking. Keeney was arrested and put in the lock-up.

Last Thursday evening a large number of the young people gathered in at Mr. Folles' and gave Miss Nettie Amos a surprise party, it being her birthday. The young ladies prepared a nice supper for the occasion, which was very much enjoyed by all present. About twelve o'clock all took their departure, wishing Miss Nettie many happy returns of the day.

Rev. D. E. Bushnell, D. D., lately of Weynesburg, Pa., has received a unanimous call to the Cumberland Presbyterian church of Eugene, Or., and we are informed that he will be on by the first of October to take charge of the work. Dr. Bushnell has the reputation of a fine pulpit orator, an earnest Christian worker and a successful pastor. We congratulate the church at Eugene in thus securing one that stands in the front rank and who is able and willing to work in the good cause.

N. H. Allen, of Albany, was in Lebanon a part of two days this week in the interest of "more lights and better lights" for our town. Mr. Allen has had successful experience in the electric light business for several years. It is believed that electric lights can be furnished cheaper than oil, and all towns and cities that have adopted them, we notice, never go back to oil again. We confidently trust that a company will be formed at once which will push the matter. We understand that one-half the stock will be taken by two of our citizens, and if those who have money would look to their own interest, they would find here a safe and paying investment.

NEWS ITEMS.

Mr. Sam Miller is visiting his brother, F. M. Miller.

Hop checks printed on short notice and in the best style.

F. M. Miller is having an addition put to his dwelling.

It is rumored that T. C. Peebler will erect a new building soon.

Born, to the wife of James Hooker, on Saturday, August 17, a girl.

Mr. Frank Miller went to Eugene last week, returning home on Monday.

A large number of Indians came in from the reservation this week to pick hops.

F. M. Miller's new building near the Methodist church is under good headway.

Mr. B. F. Roscoe, wife and little girl of Albany, was in our town last Sunday.

B. F. Bodwell has rented and moved into the dwelling just north of Rev. J. R. Kirkpatrick's.

Another party of jolly pleasure seekers, from Lebanon, left for the mountains this week.

Rev. Martin Hickman is erecting a neat dwelling in the Kirkpatrick addition to Lebanon.

The firm of Gean & Ritter has dissolved partnership, Mr. Gean taking charge of the business.

We do not hear certain young people talking of street lamps and back streets for the past few days.

Mrs. J. R. Kirkpatrick and Misses Bellroie and Beuna Kirkpatrick left for Newport yesterday morning.

We have printed over 1800 hop checks this week, and have orders for job work coming in at all times.

The track of the Albany street car line is being cleaned off, preparatory to running the street cars next week.

Our exchanges are nearly all full of timber land notices. There seems to be a grand rush for the timber lands of Oregon.

Thirteen men started for the mountains to take up timber claims. They returned Tuesday, but we did not learn whether they found claims or not.

Mrs. H. E. Parrish has rented the building between the Express office and Mr. Guy's saloon, where she will open a restaurant by the first of next month.

We have added several quires this month and will add several more next week so we think we are safe in saying THE EXPRESS now has a circulation of one thousand.

Our hose team is team is still making efforts to go to the tournament at Tacoma. If they can organize the team it will be the best in the valley, and should go by all means.

The editor left for Newport, yesterday morning, to attend the Press Association at Newport, which is in session to-day and to-morrow. He will probably return by way of Portland.

The street lamps have been left unlit for the past two or three nights. It is bad that they should be burning all through the summer, and now, when we need them, we should be left in the dark.

THE COUNCIL.

We attended the meeting of the council on last Tuesday eve and will try and give part of the proceedings. Mr. Blackburn for some reason could not fill the place of Mr. J. M. Raiston so Chas. D. Montague was elected to fill the place.

The committee which was appointed to see about some new estersms ask for further time.

Mr. D. D. Shaw sent in his resignation as night watch, which was accepted, and after considerable time was spent in trying to elect another one, and discussing whether it was best for the city or not it was left open until the next meeting but most of the councilmen seem to be of the opinion that we should not have any.

Mr. Geo Rice resigned his position as recorder on account of other duties and his resignation was taken in consideration until the next meeting.

Mr. Geo. Cheshire sent in his resignation as marshal and road supervisor and his resignation was also taken in consideration until next meeting.

Messrs. Rice and Cheshire made full reports of their business up to date which we will publish next week if we can get permission.

There was several bills presented amounting to several hundred dollars the most of which was paid.

The council adjourned to meet on Thursday evening which was last night.

LOWER SODA SPRINGS.

The summer days pass by in rapid succession to the camper at the springs, who, in the acceptable shade of the tall pines and in the enjoyment of the health-giving, cool mountain air, almost forgets the dust and heat of the far away valley town, and as he lazily passes the quiet enjoyable hours finds rest for mind and body, nodding as he dreams of epicurean feast of trout and venison, sparkling soda, plentiful and cool. Daily the visitors come and go, this having been a season made noticeable by the large number of those who have "done the mountains" and visited the soda springs, which, under the present arrangements, have more than given general satisfaction, the present lessees doing all that lay in their power for the accommodation and comfort of their patrons. Although thousands of trout have been caught from the Santiam this season, the river abounds with the speckled beauties, the aroma of which as they splutter and brown in frying pan, giving promise of an epicurean feast, would tempt the most fastidious appetite were they alone without the usual accompaniments of "rich, rare and racy" venison steak; for the dyspeptic, the tired, over-worked business man, and all those desiring rest and recreation, nature has here provided a panacea for ills nostrums may fail to cure. The camping ground presents a scene of activity and happy contentment, the laugh of many children mingling with the gentle mountain breeze, the many white tents, their many occupants busily engaged in the principal occupation of the day, "getting something to eat," for in this section appetites are immense, and he who formerly found no inducement in fried chicken, goes for the succulent and aromatic bean in a manner that astonishes the "grub box" and himself, making a side of bacon sizzle in a most alarming manner. Perhaps the most pleasurable portion of camp life is after supper, when camp fires are burning brightly, wagon seats, boxes and stools are utilized, all are gathered around the bright blaze, the day's doings are related "how I caught that big trout," "I tell you he was a 'daisy' and made the line hum, but I landed him in good style," or "that was a good shot you made on that 'buck,' he was a fat fellow and weighed over a hundred pounds;" story is followed by song, the evening passes pleasantly and comfortably away, and if the couch is not downy the occupant sleeps the sleep of health, and rests as only can a tired man. During the past week the following arrivals and departures have taken place: Arrivals—W C Cooley, wife and family; Mrs H B Moyer and daughter; Henry Blakley, wife and children, Brownsville. Dr F R Ballard, Mrs J E Ballard, Miss Florence Ballard, Miss Maud Ballard, Mrs Carrie Hackleman, Grover Hackleman, Lonner Hackleman, Ora Ballard, Lebanon. E E Keeney, Halsey. Mrs Mary E Hamilton and family, John Galbraith, Sweet Home. John Vernon, wife and three sons, Independence. W W Waters, Miss Iny Moore, Amy Morelock, Brownsville. Mr and Mrs Percifull and family, Mr and Mrs I D Irvine, Brownsville. John Isom, Mr and Mrs Woods and son, Charles Pfeiffer and sister, Albany. Dr Gesner and wife, Prinesville. T. S. P.

SANTIAM ACADEMY.

No institution in this part of Oregon has done so much to advance the cause of a sound, wholesome education as this academy. Some of the brightest and best of our honored citizens have received their education in its classic walls. Some of the noblest educators in this broad land have presided over its destiny. It has done wonders in building up our town. It is too sad and dreary to think of letting it go down; we cannot afford it. Hardly one-half of the enrolled scholars can be accommodated in the public school building, to say nothing of the large number who have moved in and "more to follow," since the enrollment. THE EXPRESS did all it could, backed by a majority of the voters and patrons, to get the directors to call a meeting last spring in the interest of enlarging our public school accommodations; but the directors kept an ominous silence, and now, if the Santiam Academy is not opened, as seems most probable, our children can stay at home for want of standing room in the public school building. If Prof. Gilbert cannot be prevailed on to continue, we all hope the trustees of this property will make a vigorous effort to secure some one else. The matter is of vital interest and calls for prompt action.

All classes, styles and variety of suites, or separate pieces. No trouble to show goods—come and see. Three days is a very short time in which to cure a bad case of rheumatism; but it can be done, if the proper treatment is adopted, as will be seen by the following, from James Lambert, of New Brunswick, Ill: "I was badly afflicted with rheumatism in the hips and legs, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It cured me in three days. I am all right to-day, and would insist on every one afflicted with that terrible disease, to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm and get well at once." For sale by M. A. Miller. Some person tried to or rather did frighten Jessie Raiston and Ora Harkness, near Mr. Hackleman's Wednesday evening, as they were on their way home. It is allright for people to try to have fun, but there are plenty of ways besides trying to scare little girls. Get your hop checks printed at THE EXPRESS office.
