An exchange says that a small piece of gum camphor burnt on a hot stove two or three times a day, will rid a house of flies and mosquitoes without the use of screens, besides purifying the air and making the building more healthy.

There has been a wonderful discovery made in Latham county, Idaho. At an elevation of two thousand feet above sea level on the homestead of George Walker, attention was attracted by a cold current of air rushing from the earth's surface. Beneath a moss bed, three or four inches deep, investigation showed an ice vein four inches thick. Further investigation disclosed alternate layers of ice and gravel. The discovery is puzzling to the people in that neighborhood, and many think it is the remains of what was once large glaciers.

Lew Johnson's Black Baby Boy Refined Colored Minstrels will give a performance at Band Hall, Lebanon, on Monday eve, Sept. 2. This company is without doubt the best and most complete organization that ever appeared here—15 genuine colored artists of recognized ability—introducing negro melodies and genuine plantation specialties, including the renowned Black Baby Boy quartette. The performance, while being refined and strictly moral, is of a character to leave the audience in a roar of laughter and applause. They will give a grand uniform street parade, headed by the distinguished drum major, Lew Hall. They come unanimously endorsed by the press and public, and we have no doubt they will be able to sustain the reputation they have gained elsewhere.

Sacramento Bee, Aug. 10: Lew Johnson's colored minstrels opened their engagement at the opera house last night to a large and highly delighted audience, and merited the delight that was manifested by frequent applause and enthusiasm. The performance kept the audience in a constant, hilarious uproar of laughter.

Do not swear. There is no occasion for it outside of a printing office. It is useful in proof-reading and indispensable in getting forms to press, and also has been known to assist in looking over the paper after it is printed, but otherwise it is a very disgusting habit.

Do not buy any eastern trash when you can get those splendid Buckingham & Hecht goods at Montague's Mammoth store and also at his One Price Cash Store.

All parties knowing themselves indebted to us will please call and settle by the 5th of Sept. and save cost as we are closing out our business. Peebler & Buhl.

NO PUFF

Is necessary to keep the sale of our goods; those who see are satisfied by sight and touch that they are, in all respects superior to competing lines. Our stronghold is to get buyers to look at our goods. Their own judgment makes them purchase.

No Bluff

On prices is made by us. We don't put in all the price they can carry on our goods, but right at the start make the smallest price possible. We point with pride to our prices as phenomenal in price, making for their extreme reasonableness

NO GUFF

Goes with us. Good wine needs no blush. Honest trading needs no taffy. Ours is no soft soap establishment. We don't talk customers into buying. We don't have to. The goods talk and the customers take them on their own sound judgment, but remember to get our goods.

We Take the Stuff.

The theory of cure to which the sounding title of "Christian Science" has been given has no especial relation to the Christian religion. The faith cures, so called, are generally admitted to the effect of mind upon matter. While there are diseases that do not yield to the influence of mind there are those which do. A fellow who thinks himself sick is pretty certain to feel better when the hope is excited that a certain remedy will restore him to health. But a positive disease or disability does not yield to mental illusion. From present information the benefits resulting from the Brown-Sequard treatment are on the faith-cure basis. The patient is made to think that the medicine will give him strength, and the action of the mind on his body really makes him feel better. The patient who subjects himself to the Brown-Sequard process and afterward declares that he feels better does not in most cases intend to deceive. The mind acting upon the body has given him strength. This condition, however, will not be long continued. Unless there is positive merit in the treatment the ailments of the body will assert themselves over any illusion that may be created in the mind. Death often comes while the patient is in the full belief that he is getting well.

We hear strange things from the deep sea, but the strangest one is that of the steamer Hawkhurst which sailed 2300 miles in her last voyage to Brazil with fire all the while smouldering in her hold. Her cargo was oil, tow and tar. The crew very naturally wanted to desert the ship but the captain in the face of so much danger of a most dreadful death kept his control over the men and kept them to the ship. The ship landed at New York City, July 22. Had they abandoned the ship the probabilities are few if any would have reached the shore.—Ex.
