

THE STATE'S EDITORS.

Meeting of the Oregon Press Association at Newport.

On last Thursday morning we left this place for the meeting of the Oregon Press Association at Newport. At Albany we met quite a large number of our brother editors, and at one o'clock we were at the Oregon Pacific depot ready to take our departure and make the journey in the special car the company had provided for us. There were about seventeen editors aboard when the train left Corvallis, several of whom had their wives and daughters, and some had friends, while others had their best girls, which made the whole number about twenty-eight. Several editors were there already and several more came on Friday, which made the whole number of editors present twenty-six. The band, which had been engaged for the occasion, met us at Toledo, fifteen miles on this side of the Yaquina. We arrived at Yaquina at 5:30, after a pleasant ride of four and one-half hours, where we were met by a committee from Newport, who had made arrangements for passage on the steamer to Newport, where we arrived at 6:30. There was a large crowd of people at the landing when we arrived under the martial strains of the band. After supper we took a short walk on the beach, after which the president called a meeting to make a programme for the next two days. At eight o'clock the next morning the editorial association accepted an invitation to cross over on the steam ferry and view the jetties and see the wrecked steamship, Yaquina Bay. Mr. Polemus, the government engineer, had the engine and several cars out for our use, which took us out to the end of the jetties, and while we were out there the steamer Willamette Valley passed out over the bar in tow of a tug, and launched forth on the mighty Pacific, bound for San Francisco. We then returned to the old wreck of the Yaquina Bay and went through that part which was out of the water, each one getting some little piece of the old ship. We then returned to Newport where a business meeting was held at ten o'clock. About ten new members joined us this time. The Association then sent a dispatch to the National Press Association with regrets that time would not admit sending a delegate to represent it. The report of the committee on foreign advertising was adopted. They then elected Chas. Nickell president and E. C. Pentland secretary for the ensuing year. On Friday night there was a grand ball given at the opera house in honor of the editors, and it was a grand affair and all had a pleasant time. The Grand House gave a banquet which was also much enjoyed by the poor, hungry quill drivers. On Saturday morning several carriages and hacks, to which were attached some fine teams, were waiting to convey us to Seal Rock. The host, Mr. Brasfield, was in charge of the rigs, and spared no pains to make the trip a pleasant one. Seal Rock is situated about ten miles down the coast and has a pleasant situation where we spent a most delightful day. The only thing that happened to mar the pleasure of the trip was that one of the boys fell out of his carriage and broke his bottle. On returning to Newport the tug took us out over the bar, but the sea was calm and none were sick. At seven p. m. the Association met at the hall with a full audience of citizens. Dr. Bailey of Newport gave a short and pithy address of welcome which was ably responded to by J. B. Edy of the Pendleton Tribune. Hon. J. P. Wager of the Pendleton East Oregonian delivered the address of meeting on the duty of the press. It was a fine production, well delivered. F. Davy of the Salem Statesman introduced the subject of Printer's Ink; S. S. Train of the Albany Democrat read a dissertation of the trip to Seal Rock. On Sunday morning the most of us spent the time in strolling up and down the beach; some went in bathing, while a very few went to church. In the afternoon we took the boat for Yaquina City where we were shown through the machine shop by Mr. Wm. Hoag, after which a few of us went out boating in a sail boat. In the evening we went to church. On Monday morning we took the train for our home. Most of the party stopped at Corvallis on an invitation of the president of the college to visit the Agricultural College at that place. Most of the time the weather was good and the bay looked fine. Extensive preparations had been made for our entertainment, and all enjoyed a pleasant time.

"Thanks awfully." This association with its entire heart, soul and energy returns thanks for the extremely pleasant and profitable time that has been enjoyed at this session, to the citizens of Newport and Yaquina City; also to Captain R. A. Bantell, J. W. Brasfield and Dr. J. R. Bailey for their active personal efforts. Also to the Oregon Pacific railroad for their liberality in placing not only a free transportation, but a special car for the use of the Association and their boats on the bay for viewing points of interest. Also Mr. Polemus, engineer in charge of the government works, for favors extended.

Thus ended the third annual meeting of the Oregon Press Association—successful and highly pleasing. The next session will be held in Portland on the second Thursday and Friday of August, 1890.

Timber Land, Act June 3, 1878.

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION

UNITED STATES LAND OFFICE,
Oregon City, Or., August 2nd 1889.

Notice is hereby given that in compliance with the provisions of the act of congress of June 3, 1878, entitled "An act for the sale of timber lands in the States of California, Oregon, Nevada, and Washington Territory," Duncan Shaw, of Seattle, County of King, Washington Territory, has this day filed in this office his sworn statement No. 1340, for the purchase of the S. W. 1/4 of Section No. 4, in Township No. 13 South, Range No. 2 East, and will offer proof to show that the land sought is more valuable for its timber or stone than for agricultural purposes, and to establish his claims to said land before the Register and Receiver of this office at Oregon City, Oregon, on Tuesday, the 29th day of October, 1889.

He names as witness: A. Davis and J. H. Mallery, of Winlock, Chehalis County, and A. S. Feas and J. Stanley, of Seattle, King County, all of W. T. Any and all persons claiming adversely the above-described lands are requested to file their claims in this office on or before said 29th day of October, 1889.

MONTAGUE'S COLUMN.

Montague's freight bills for the past month have been unusually heavy, owing to the large quantities of

New and Elegant Spring and Summer Goods.

Being received daily at his MAMMOTH STORE and at the One Price Cash Store.

The stocks of these establishments are full and complete, and an experience of nearly twenty years in the trade at Lebanon enables me to select such goods as will meet the wants of the people. As I buy for cash, a careful inspection will satisfy anyone of ordinary intelligence that MONTAGUE'S PRICES and the superior quality of his goods fully merit the liberal patronage he is receiving, and for which he returns his profound thanks.

In Montague's DRESS GOODS department will be found many new and elegant designs purchased at very low figures of one of the largest importing houses in America. The goods will be sold correspondingly low, and we respectfully invite the ladies to examine them before purchasing.

Montague has been selling a great many wedding dresses lately, and will take pleasure in furnishing complete outfits to parties contemplating house keeping.

Our CLOTHING DEPARTMENT needs but little advertising, as the goods sell themselves. We keep native Oregon manufactured clothing as well as fine lines just received from New York and Chicago. A look through our stock will convince you that we can fit you in any kind of suit you may desire at prices lower than a good many merchants can buy their goods. We have good serviceable suits at $5.75, $7, $8, $9 or $10. These prices are 25 per cent lower than the goods are usually sold in any town in Oregon.

FOR THE BOYS.

Boys, it will interest you to know that in selecting his mammoth stocks of clothing, he has just laid in the largest assortment of Boy's Clothing ever brought to this city. Have your Papa and Mama bring you in for a new suit, so you can attend camp meeting and the picnics, and we will fit you out very nicely. Always insist on having them go to Montague's for their goods, as in his establishment you will get 100 cts. worth for every dollar expended.

BOOTS AND SHOES.

In addition to a large stock of Leather goods, Montague has purchased an immense stock of the celebrated Buckingham & Hecht make of boots and shoes. Every pair warranted. When you need anything in that line drop in and see us. The goods and prices are ALL RIGHT.

THE ONE PRICE Cash Store is an immense success; the sales are very large and increasing rapidly. It is true the profits are very small, but as we can turn the money many times during the year, I find that in the long run it pays much better than the credit system. We all must come at last to a cash basis in all our business transactions, and the sooner the better. Come on with your money, make us know when you are looking at goods that your intended purchases MEAN CASH DOWN, and you will find Montague ready to meet you with prices that defy successful competition.
