

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Mrs. E. E. Boyles left for the coast on Thursday.

Hull's net, we are sorry to learn, is quite ill.

The mud! the mud! the mud! Oh my, the mud!

It seems as though the rain had set in for a winter.

There is not likely to be any more good roads this year.

Rev. B. F. Moody is in town this week visiting friends.

Read Bodwell's new ad. and see what he will do for you.

G. W. Cruson and G. M. Westfall visited Portland this week.

The time has come when you can trot out your rubbers and umbrellas.

T. C. Peebler & wife returned home from Portland, where they have been visiting.

Born, to the wife of M. A. Fitzgerald, Wednesday, October 9th, a daughter.

Our local train was called out at 12 o'clock Monday night on account of the wreck.

Those who have been wanting it to rain, we think, will want to see it stop before long.

On account of the wreck and fair at Portland, the train has been running very irregularly this week.

Mrs. J. R. Kirkpatrick left for Texas Wednesday. She goes back to visit her daughter, who is quite sick.

Chas. D. Montague and Rev. G. W. Giboney left for Portland Tuesday morning to attend the exposition.

Rev. Lee did not fill his appointment at the C. P. church, Sunday, but for some unaccountable reason failed to arrive.

Oregon Presbytery of the Cumberland Presbyterian church convenes at Woodburn, Oregon, Oct. 24th, at 7:30 P. M.

On Tuesday morning Mr. C. B. Montague received a dispatch from the wreck, which was immediately placed on our bulletin board.

We have heard some of the old settlers say, since the rain set in, that "this looks like Oregon." For our part we would rather it would not resemble Oregon so much.

The trustees of the academy should see that the several bad benches in the fences around the academy lot are fixed up, so that cattle can not get in and track the ground up.

From a piece in the Brownsville paper last week, in regard to unlawfully selling whisky, the editor does not think that is such a God-blessed city as they have imagined.

W. H. Greenwood, a photographer of Albany, visited Lebanon and took a negative of our streets Friday, and has since sent us one of the photographs, which was very nice.

It may be some consolation to some of our young "sports" who were "scooped in" so badly by the nut-shell man to know he was arrested in Brownsville Monday for gambling.

Oakes' Comedy Sketch Club and Swiss Bell Ringers played to a fair audience at this place Wednesday evening, as was announced in THE EXPRESS. This is probably the best troupe which has ever been at this place, and will be well patronized on their next visit to our city.

The Farini-McMahon circus showed here last Saturday and was very good, in fact was much better than was expected by most who attended. The usual swindling games which follow circuses were here too, and, as usual, found plenty of suckers.

Geo. N. Glover, from above Lower Soda, was in town this week, on his way home from Albany, where he had been to prove up on his homestead. He crossed the plains in '58 and reached this country in '59; has spent the most of his time in mining, and has a very interesting and thrilling experience to relate.

A bear which is declared to have destroyed $3000 worth of stock was killed by Wm. Hood on the upper Coquille river several days ago. It weighed dressed 640 pounds. At one time he slaughtered 500 sheep that belonged to Mr. Hood. Since settling in that country that gentleman has killed forty-three bears, and no end of wildcats and panthers.—Eugene Journal.

Parents should be careful that their children do not contract colds during the fall or early winter months. Such colds weaken the lungs and air passages, making the child much more likely to contract other colds during the winter. It is this succession of colds that causes catarrh and bronchitis or paves the way for consumption. Should a cold be contracted, lose no time but cure it as quickly as possible. A fifty cent bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will cure any cold in a few days and leave the respiratory organs strong and healthy. For sale by M. A. Miller.

The Fireman Killed and Engineer Scalded—Passengers Unhurt.

Last Monday night's overland train was going south about two miles this side of Halsay, opposite the farm of W. R. Powell, at a speed of thirty miles an hour, when a cow appeared on the track standing broadside. It was raining hard and the light was dim, so that the animal was not seen until the train was almost on her. The engineer, John McFadden, immediately whistled down brakes. The cowcatcher struck the cow in the middle, throwing her to the headlight, from which she bounded again to the track, raising the engine from the wheels and throwing it from the track. This was as given by Mr. McFadden to a Democrat man. The engine ran across a ditch to an adjoining fence, the tender was completely tipped over. A fruit car following was washed to pieces and stopped on the opposite side of the engine. The tender knocked the top of the cab off, breaking several stopcocks off which sent forth their deadly elements on the fireman and engineer. The mail car was twisted sideways on the track, but remained upright, the agent, Mr. Cox, just closing the windows in time to prevent a deluge of hot water and steam from the engine. The baggage cars and two pullman cars jumped the track, the remaining cars remaining on the rails. The fireman, William Ransom, was found between the engine and tender car dead, being scalded in a frightful manner, and one leg was broken and badly smashed. The engineer was thrown out of the cab to the ground, and was insensible for some time, but soon came to. One leg and a hand were scalded, and he was somewhat bruised, but not dangerously injured. The passengers stated that the accident was so sudden and unexpected that it was all over before they were aware of its serious nature. As the cars ran some distance, the shock was not great. Conductor Young immediately sent for wrecking trains, and by noon to-day the track was in condition for the passage of trains. The engineer and the body of Ransom were brought to this city on a special train, and were seen by a Democrat man. William Ransom, the deceased fireman, was a man about thirty years of age, his parents residing in the east, and having no relatives in Oregon. He was engaged to a young lady of Eugene and was to be married on the tenth of this month. Mr. Ransom succeeded Quint Guthrie, killed at the train wreck at this city, and the engine was the same one wrecked here, a fact without any significance except to superstitious people.—Democrat.

ALEXANDER DOWNING'S DEATH.

Hon. Alexander Downing died at his farm near Lebanon in Linn county, on Sunday, Oct. 6, after a lingering illness brought on mainly after so many years by injuries which he received while serving in the union army during the army of the rebellion. Mr. Downing's only brother on the coast, Superintendent G. S. Downing, of the state penitentiary, was notified of his death on Sunday evening by telegraph, and himself and wife immediately started for his deceased brother's home. Mr. Downing came to Oregon in 1875 and resided in Marion county in 1886. In 1884 he was elected on the republican ticket a representative to the legislature and served during the regular and special sessions of 1885. Mr. Downing was aged about 63 years, and leaves a wife and nine children to mourn the loss of a kind and indulgent husband and father.—Herald.
