

WANT TO TAKE ADVERTISING.

The man who conducts his business in the most judicious manner, and he can't afford to advertise, gets his judgment in opposition to that of all the best business men in the world. With a few years experience in conducting a small business on a few thousand dollars capital he assumes to know more than thousands of men whose hourly transactions aggregate more than his do in a year, and have made millions by pursuing a course that he says doesn't pay.

If advertising doesn't pay, why is it that the most successful merchants of every town, large and small, are the largest advertisers? If advertising doesn't pay, who does the most business? If it doesn't pay to advertise, why do the heaviest business firms in the country spend millions in that way? Is it because they want to donate those millions to the newspaper and magazine publishers, or because they don't know as much about business as the six-for-a-dollar "storekeeper" of a country town, who says money spent for advertising is thrown away & donated to the man to whom it is paid? Such talk is plainly ridiculous, and is required more than the average patience to discuss the proposition of whether advertising pays or not with this kind of a man. His complacent self-conceit is resuming that he knows more than the whole business world is laughable, and reminds us of the man who proved that the world doesn't revolve by placing a pumpkin on a stump and watching it all night.

TAKING THEIR MEDICINE.

Time was when the people of the east condemned our practice of nervously nudging the Chinese population. Now they are doing the same thing with their little elbows. St. Louis has turned out in great parades for the purpose of boycotting the Chinese laundrymen. The lash of the pigtail is being felt over there and it is pleasing to contemplate the squirming of the easterners. It proves that they are taking the medicine of experience, which is a sure cure for their inability to see the beam in their own eye.—Klamath county Star.

Parents should be careful that their children do not contract colds during the fall or early winter months. Such colds weaken the lungs and air passages, making the child much more likely to contract other colds during the winter. It is this succession of colds that causes catarrh and bronchitis or paves the way for consumption. Should a cold be contracted, lose no time but cure it as quickly as possible. A fifty cent bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will cure any cold in a few days and leave the respiratory organs strong and healthy. For sale by M. A. Miller.

In a few weeks there will be a general change in the postage stamps used in the United States and the variety will suit even an evening rainbow. Here is a list: One cent, ultramarine blue; four cent, chocolate; five cent, light brown; six cent, vermilion; ten cent, melon green; fifteen cent, steel blue; thirty cent, black; ninety cent, orange. The old two cent stamp will be cut down about one-fourth smaller, and be of metallic red or carmine color.

The drawing for the two story house in Pipes' addition, Albany, took place at the office of Burkhardt & Malin at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, and resulted in Mr. G. W. Smith getting the house. On Wednesday evening Mr. Smith gave the other purchasers in the addition a banquet at the St. Charles hotel, which shows that he appreciates his fortunate draw. The Pipe's addition cost the owner $2500. It consisted of thirty-two lots, which sold for $150 apiece, a reasonable profit.

The mammoth furniture establishment of Fortmiller & Irving is one of the biggest things in Albany. They will soon move into the large new Masonic building where they will be pleased to show their goods and give prices that will simply defy all competition.

If you go to Albany to buy a stove call on G. W. Smith, who has the largest and best stock of stoves and furniture and sells cheaper than any one in Albany.

When you desire a pleasant physic, try St. Patrick's Pills. They can always be depended upon, and do not nauseate the stomach nor grip the bowels. For sale by M. A. Miller.
