

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Wedding Rumor has it that there is to be another wedding in town soon.

It is nearing the time for political leaders to begin "laying the wires" for the next county election.

We have heard nothing of the grave dug for some time. Is it possible that the one will make a move in this direction?

Miss Jessie McCalley, who was reported quite ill last week, is much improved, and the doctor thinks she has taken a change for the better.

G. E. Eastham and wife left this week for East Portland, where they intend spending the winter on account of the poor condition of Mr. Eastham's health.

At a shooting scrape at Yaquina last Friday, the man who was to do the shooting had his gun broken over his head and was shot at three times with a revolver. Nobody hurt.

Plans for a dozen brick buildings to be built at Albany this coming summer have been drawn up by different parties. Lebanon should try to scare up a few bricks next summer, also.

There was a theater, a halloween party and a lecture in our town last night, but that's too much for Lebanon at one time. We always want to take in everything that comes along.

On last Sunday Mrs. H. C. Klepper received a dispatch from her sister in Tennessee announcing the death of her mother. Her many friends extend their sympathy in this hour of affliction.

Wm. Retherford has sold his saloon to James Munsey and Joel Mayer, of this place. Both the new men left for Portland yesterday, where we understand they will lay in a new supply of liquors.

The exhibit of cereals, grasses, etc., sent by Albany, Salem and other cities to Milwaukee are now on exhibition in the Board of Trade's rooms at Chicago, where they are attracting considerable attention.

Yesterday evening W. C. Peterson sprained his ankle very badly by jumping over a fence, so he says, but last evening he was heard to give a much more plausible theory of the accident. Be careful, Walt.

Prof. M. V. Rork lectured at the band hall last evening in the interests of the Union Labor party. He is a very able speaker, and presents his views in a forcible manner, and his theories are very plausible.

Mr. B. F. Bodwell leaves this morning for Portland. He has been offered a position in a railroad office with a salary of not less than $3000 per year. He has the matter under consideration and goes down to see about it.

On last Saturday evening Rev. Geo. W. Giboney went among our people and solicited aid for George Cheshire, who has been having serious trouble with sickness among different members of his family this fall. Our merchants contributed liberally.

The public schools at Newport were closed last week on account of diphtheria, which is prevalent at that place. Several deaths have been reported recently from this disease and it was deemed advisable to close the schools to try and prevent the spread of this dangerous ailment.

W. A. Hill and Fred and Bert Rolfe who are charged with wrecking the overland train last August, whereby Jack Miller, engineer, and Quint Gulerie, fireman, were killed, were indicted by the grand jury Tuesday afternoon for murder in the second degree. They were brought up for trial Wednesday and plead not guilty. It is expected as indicted the penalty will be imprisonment for life.

Saturday at Woodburn in a box car Samuel Barney split open the head of C. Dier with an ax, the result of a quarrel. Barney disappeared. He is thought to have gone south. His family resides near Scio, and are said to be respectable people. Dier, it is thought, will die. Barney is described as being 5 feet 8 inches tall, weighs 125 pounds; small dark brown mustache; very white skin; dressed in dark coat and vest, light pants and white hat.

REMOVAL NOTICE.—Having removed my store to my own building one block east of C. B. Montague's, where I will be pleased to meet my customers with the best quality of goods that money will buy. E. GOAN.

NEWS ITEMS.

It seems as if the rain had set in for a week.

Geo. W. Smith, of Albany, was in town this week.

A great many is attending circuit court at Albany this week.

Mrs. R. C. McClure is at Sweet Home this week visiting relatives.

There has been quite a number of our citizens in Albany attending court this week.

Dr. J. M. Taylor has been appointed agent for the Fidelity Mutual Aid Association, of California.

Now is the time to talk up the water ditch question. Don't let this matter drop until the ditch is built.

E. Goan's furniture store is in his own building, one block east of Montague's store, where he removed this week.

On account of the dissatisfaction on the part of small purchasers, we will withdraw our prizes to cash buyers for 1889. B. F. Bodwell.

On next Sunday evening there will be a missionary concert at the First Presbyterian church conducted by the members of the Sabbath school. All are invited.

Rev. J. R. Kirkpatrick returned home from Texas last Friday. He seems to think now, more than ever, that there is no place like the Willamette valley.

Next week we intend to sweep out our office (that being the annual time such an occurrence), and are seriously debating the question in our mind, of washing the windows and bleaching the stone. In case such an occurrence takes place due notice will be given and our friends asked to call on us.

One of our councilmen was seen one day this week busily engaged laying boards over the holes in the sidewalk. It looks bad to see these men patching up other people's property to keep people from complaining at that body.

An exchange has the following interesting news item: "A girl farmer in Crook county this year put up eight tons of hay, which she cut with a pair of shears. She has for a neighbor a young man who sold a thousand bundles of shingles made with a pocket knife."

Mr. T. B. Engler, who was formerly one of the proprietors of THE EXPRESS, is now in town visiting. He is "sticking type" at present on the Grant County News. He has many friends here who are glad to see him back. We know it is too soon, but never like to be too late, so here, Tom, accept our congratulations.

Miss May Howard and Prof. Williams, the great spiritualists, gave a performance at Union Hall last evening to a very appreciative and enthusiastic audience. Although we do not believe in spiritualism, we confess that many, in fact all, of the manifestations of spirit power were beyond our comprehension.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The new states, all told, have nine electoral votes less than Illinois. A change in the electoral vote of Illinois would have more effect on national politics than the admission of seven new states.

There is a large amount of the natives of Maine on this coast and especially in Oregon, but they have been so long away from the old Pine Tree state that they have in a measure lost the Yankee snap universally possessed by the "down easter."

The Salem papers print a list of stockholders in the Dry Gulch Mining Company, which is said to be very rich in precious metals.

Our exchanges, says the Astoria Pioneer, emphatically assert that the "bustle must go." We know of a store where the bustle departed long ago. In fact, there never was any bustle about it, simply because the proprietor never spent a dollar for advertising.

A Portland man went into a store last week and put a lighted cigarette on the edge of an aquarium. A goldfish seized it and took a puff. For several days the poor thing lay at the bottom of the tank and panted like a tired dog. Its color changed to jet black, and the owner of that cigarette has sworn off for keeps.

ONE PRICE

HAS WON for us the respect of the community. It has got to be an understood thing that we don't change our price, because we can't go lower—and we won't go higher. We fix our price just on the inside of cost, allowing us the fair profit we need to live, and we don't budge from that. Why should we? If we can't make something we waste time in selling. But the something we make is always something lower than the price made elsewhere.

ONE PRICE HAS WON

Us a large trade. Folks don't like to haggle. It's a relief to know, at the word go, just what you have got to pay. You don't go away kicking yourself at the thought that if you had hung on a little longer you might have got the goods for a dollar less.

One price pleases everybody in the long run and leaves no doubt in the buyer's mind about his own shrewdness or the merchant's honesty.

ONE PRICE HAS WON

Us friends, for every customer is a friend. Buyers appreciate the fact that we could not make a fixed, rock-rooted price unless we made it at figures that would meet any and all competition.

If they make a lower price they lose money, and that makes it only a question of time when they shut up their shop and leave the field to us. We are here to stay, and on the one price plan to all.

Our sales of DRESS GOODS have been unusually large and our stock is complete. We have a line of the celebrated Broadhead goods now in transit.

Our BOAT and SHOE stock is complete, and our unprecedented large sales go to prove that our customers appreciate a good thing when they see it.

SENTENCED TO HANG.

While holding court in Coos county last week Judge Bean presided over the case of John Gilman, an old gray haired man accused of murdering a Mrs. Eatonhover and her little boy. The jury was out but twenty minutes and brought in a verdict of murder in the first degree and the murderer was sentenced to be hung on the 18th of December. His crime was one of the most cold-blooded murders ever committed.

SAVED.

When the steamer Alaskan went down off Cape Blanco last May, it was supposed that Charles Albert, one of the crew, was drowned. When the boats put out to sea Albert was one of the thirteen who remained on board and was cast in the sea with wreckage when the vessel foundered. Some of those in the boats reached shore, but it was supposed all who remained on the vessel went down. Mrs. Mooney, the mother of Albert, now residing in Oakland, mourned her son as lost. For weeks she hoped for tidings from him, but finally gave up all hope. Last Saturday evening she received a letter post-marked Hong Kong, and in the handwriting of her son. He stated that after the steamer went down he floated on a piece of wreckage for seven days, sustaining life on a can of peaches, with which he had provided himself. At length when nearly dead he was picked up by the bark Kittie, lumber laden from Portland to Hong Kong. After a tempestuous voyage, in which his masts were nearly carried away, they arrived in Hong Kong on the last of August, from which place he wrote to his mother.

Young Albert stated that he had worked before the mast on the voyage, and would return with the vessel to Portland, where he expected to arrive in January, when he will return to his home in Oakland.—Eugene Guard.

Buffalo Bill is coming home to run for governor of Nebraska. He is a republican and a rustler with long hair. He will win. He has conferred more distinction on his state than any other Nebraskan, and Nebraska can't go back on him.
