

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Miss Jessie McCauley is still improving.

School opens in the academy on the 10th of this month.

S. E. Howl and wife are in town town visiting her mother, Mrs. S. W. Hindman.

Ed. Walton, of Canyon City, is in town this week, visiting his father's family.

Nicely located dwelling house for sale. For particulars inquire of this office.

Prof. R. N. Wright has been appointed by the trustees as principal of the academy.

Beautiful moonlight effects, storm at sea, at "Kitty from Cork" at Union Hall Nov. 14th.

Mrs. S. W. Hindman returned home last Saturday from La Grande, where she had been visiting her daughter.

Some one left a pocketbook at the store of C. B. Montagna, with money in it, which the owner can have by calling and paying for.

Work has commenced on the academy, and we are informed that there will be extensive improvements made in the next two weeks.

About three-fourths of the hops contracted for at this place have been refused, and this has caused considerable stir among the growers.

Mr. E. L. Huston has rented the house of G. E. Hardy, now occupied by Phil Ritter, and will soon move his family to this place.

Since Kate Learned How to Play and Where did you get that Hat, Charlie Reed's latest comic songs, are sung in "Kitty from Cork".

P. S. Ritter sent in his resignation as marshal at the last meeting of the city council and Sam Mackey was chosen to fill the vacancy.

Rev. Martin Hickman and family have moved this week into their new house in Lebanon. We gladly welcome them in our midst.

Misses Katie and Eva Bellinger who have been visiting Mr. P. S. Ritter and wife for some time, left on Tuesday for their home in Jacksonville.

The council has decided to have all the ordinances overhauled and have a first-class attorney to do it, and a committee was appointed to attend to the matter.

It is only two months until we will have to elect the town officers for another year, and we think it is a good time to talk this matter up and see who we want.

"There is a perfect dearth of brick, brick, more brick," is the cry in Lebanon. In fact, building material of all kind is exhausted here, and still the cry is for more houses.

Lost, somewhere in or near Lebanon a pocketbook containing between $15 and $20 and some valuable papers. The finder will be liberally rewarded by returning it to this office.

Messrs. Klepper and Clare fell some fifteen feet from a scaffold while covering the house of the former. Both were considerably shaken up, but no serious damages were sustained.

M. D. Ballard, President of the Seattle Hardware Co., wife and daughter, are the guests of Mrs. D. W. Ballard. Mr. Ballard and family are enroute to California to spend the winter.

On last Monday a footrace was run just east of town between Ed. Bidwell, of Eugene, and Charlie McKnight, of this place. The race was run just north of Walton's barn, but was on the outside of the city limits, and the Eugene man came out victorious. The race was run for $30 a side, but some think it was a put up job to catch the unwary.

We call especial attention to the new ad. of Barrows & Searles, of Albany. They are both gentlemen of large and varied experience in the mercantile business; having each travelled for years over the greater part of the United States, and now they have located at Albany with goods at rock-bottom prices. Call and see them.

Mr. Ed. O'Neil, of California, arrived in town the first of this week. He and his brother some time since purchased the flouring mill at this place. He says that in a few days he would make known what he intends to do here, and we think that we may expect a change in things here now pretty soon. We hope that all will be ready and willing to co-operate with them to build up our town and surrounding country.

NEWS ITEMS.

A beggar woman was in town this week.

Sherwood Burr, of Eugene, was in town this week.

Wanted, a ton of good hay. Apply at this office.

Another new house commenced this week in the Kirkpatrick addition.

Ruff Hatt's many friends will be glad to know that he is up and will soon be on the streets again.

Popular prices, 50 and 75 cts for "Kitty from Cork." Reserved seats 75 cts. for sale at Drug Store.

Have you observed that foggy, disagreeable mornings are generally followed by a bright afternoon. That's life.

Married, by the Rev. M. Hickman of Lebanon, Mr. R. B. Fry and Miss Lucy Roker, all of Linn county, Oregon.

Democrats are having a general handshaking over the election returns, and some are even intoxicated with joy and can hardly contain themselves.

Ross Humphrey and Mr. Michael have made satisfactory arrangements with their creditors, who held old claims on the saw mill. They will commence work sawing lumber Monday morning.

Messrs. Kirkendall & Westfall now have their stable in first-class order. All of their rigs are new and their teams first-class, and have got everything fixed up for the accommodation of the public.

H. L. Widner, business manager of the Dan Merris Sullivan's Mirror of Ireland and Comedy Co., made a business call at this office this morning. Dan will be here on Thursday next. See notices elsewhere.

We understand that the western addition to Lebanon was completed this week. Those wanting cheap homes on good and easy terms would do well to call on J. Wasson. He is noted for his fair dealing and strict integrity.

80 magnificent scenes of 80 prominent historical points in Ireland, each one 10 feet high and 15 feet long, painted by D. A. Strong of the Queen's Theater, Dublin, Ireland, and valued $5000 are seen at every performance of the Mirror of Ireland Comedy Co.

We are informed that a new town site has been surveyed at Tallman (the Lebanon junction) the past week, by an Albany real estate company. All right, we are glad of it, and hope that it will greatly enhance the real estate of all the adjacent country. The car of progress is moving this way and cannot be stopped, so take hold and pull or get out of the way and let her come.

Last Saturday a young man by the name of Huston, who lives near town, went hunting, and in his round came upon a band of geese and commenced firing at them. He shot six times, killing 17 out of a flock of 19, and as he was rejoicing over his good luck Mr. Elsdgett came up and demanded seventeen dollars for his geese. The unlucky young man, who thought he had been killing wild geese, paid for them, and brought them to town and tried to realize 75 cents each for them, but we did not learn how he came out in his speculation.

But how is it you speak of Ellis as our friend? If we had allowed him to silence us, as we believe he did another paper, when he was carrying on his devilish work near by, you might well call him our friend. — Brownsville Times. You are sadly mistaken, Brother Times; we are neither subsidized nor terrorized; but modestly suggest that a little more silence on Ellis, and a little more thunder on the hoodlums who hound his track, would have best preserved good morals, and better conserved the fair name of Brownsville, for which we feel a profound reverence. We are by no means in sympathy with fanatics, neither do we sympathize with anarchy in any shape or form.

Although several of our enterprising citizens have recently built new sidewalks and repaired old ones, there is yet plenty of room for improvement in this line. Rainy weather is now upon us, and in a growing city like this, pedestrians should not be expected to walk in the mud, or be in danger of breaking a limb on old worn out sidewalks. We would suggest to some of our citizens who are acting contrary about fixing up their sidewalks, that the council have decided to remodel the ordinances, especially the one in relation to forcing property holders to fix up walks when ordered, and if you don't look sharp, will find your property advertised for sale.

SATURDAY.

The grand jury adjourned last evening after making the following report:

To the Honorable Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Linn county:

We, the grand jury of said county for the October term of said court, 1889, respectfully beg leave to report that we have examined into the condition and management of the county jail in said county, and found the same in good condition except the steps at the end of the jail, which need repairs; also there is a stench or smell in the prison which might be removed by a judicious renovation or cleansing of the inside of the prison. We have also examined into the condition and management of the offices pertaining to courts of justice in said county and find the same in good condition and well managed, but would recommend that the walks to the water closet at the south end of the Court House and the steps and doors at the south end of the Court House be repaired. We would also recommend that the stove in the treasurer's office be repaired, as the same is in a somewhat dangerous condition.

Respectfully submitted this first day of November, 1889.

ONE PRICE

HAS WON for us the respect of the community. It has got to be an understood thing that we don't change our price, because we can't go lower—and we won't go higher. We fix our price just on the inside of cost, allowing us the fair profit we need to live, and we don't budge from that. Why should we? If we can't make something we waste time in selling. But the something we make is always something lower than the price made elsewhere.

ONE PRICE HAS WON

Us a large trade. Folks don't like to haggle. It's a relief to know, at the word go, just what you have got to pay. You don't go away kicking yourself at the thought that if you had hung on a little longer you might have got the goods for a dollar less.

One price pleases everybody in the long run and leaves no doubt in the buyer's mind about his own shrewdness or the merchant's honesty.

ONE PRICE HAS WON

Us friends, for every customer is a friend. Buyers appreciate the fact that we could not make a fixed, rock-rooted price unless we made it at figures that would meet any and all competition.

If they make a lower price they lose money, and that makes it only a question of time when they shut up their shop and leave the field to us. We are here to stay, and on the one price plan to all.

Our sales of DRESS GOODS have been unusually large and our stock is complete. We have a line of the celebrated Broadhead goods now in transit.

Our BOOT and SHOE stock is complete, and our unprecedented large sales go to prove that our customers appreciate a good thing when they see it.

C. C. HACKLEMAN,

Martina E Bowlin vs W Dozarth; to quiet title. Continued.

Earl Race vs Maggie M Race; divorce. Divorce granted.

Board Commissioners vs Emily McKinney; foreclosure. Decree granted.

I R Dawson vs J W Ellison; confirmation. Sale confirmed.

Santiam Lumber Co vs A F Gooch; injunction. Continued.

The Giant Powder Co vs Searle & Deane. Law suit.

I R Dawson vs Searle & Deane. Continued.

In matter of will of Martin Werts. Will sustained.

State vs W A Hill. On trial.

THE TRAIN WRECKERS.

Since Tuesday the trial of W. A. Hill, Bert and Fred Rolfe, has been in progress. The charge is murder in the second degree, for the wreck of the train at the junction of Lebanon switch last summer. The court decided to try each one separately, and Hill's case came first. It was argued by Hewitt and Northup for the prosecution and Powell and Whitney for the defense, and was submitted to the jury at one o'clock Wednesday. After a half hour's deliberation they returned a verdict into the court of guilty of manslaughter. Counsel for the defense gave notice that on Thursday morning they would file a motion to set aside the verdict as being contrary to law, the evidence and express charge of the court. The penalty for this is imprisonment in the penitentiary not less than one year nor more than fifteen years and by a fine not exceeding $3000. Bert Rolfe was then taken up, and at last accounts was still on trial.

Later—The two Rolfe boys were acquitted.
