FARMERS TO THE FRONT.

All over this broad land the cry is being up for the laboring men to organize to protect themselves from the greed of combines, monopolist and trust. Well, there is no class of laborers more deserving than the farmers, and none that are being driven to the wall faster than these sons of toil. They constitute sixty percent of our population, the "bone and sinew" of all that makes us a great nation, and yet not a corporal's guard of farmers have a word in our national or state legislatures. The professional politician may remonstrate against "the farmer in politics," but there are great economic and legislative reforms demanded, alike, by justice and the necessities of the times, which, in importance and magnitude rise far above any or all considerations of a merely partisan character and which will not "down at his bidding."

Humiliating as it may be to the pride of the American heart, painful and alarming as it may be to the Christian patriot, we have reached already, in the springtime of our national life, the point where we must decide whether this is really a government "of the people, by the people and for the people," whether the citizen or the dollar is sovereign in this country, whether we shall have an aristocracy of wealth or an aristocracy of manhood and merit, whether we shall re-enthroned in sceptered power the majesty and sovereignty of the people, whether we shall restore our old ship of State to its ancient moorings, or whether it shall be engulfed in anarchy and ruin.

Undivided by sectional lines, unbiased by sectional prejudice, united by common dangers, impelled by a common interest, actuated by a common purpose, knowing but one name, acknowledging but one flag—the flag of our great common country, invoking the benedictions of Heaven on their patriotic endeavor, enter on her holy pilgrimage, led and guided by the Spirit of Justice as "a pillar of cloud by day and a pillar of fire by night," they will restore the ark of our covenant, fashioned and bequeathed to us by others, to its ancient place in the holy of holies, in our Temple of Liberty.

NO. 42.

The forty-second star takes its place in the galaxy of states, and Washington wheels into line in the great sisterhood of the American republic. The president signed the proclamation on the 11th at five o'clock P. M., and at noon the next day the firing of forty-two guns announced to the people of Washington, at Olympia, that they were no longer a territory, but full-fledged citizens of our great republic.

A little over one hundred years ago thirteen colonies organized this government, with a population of about three and one-half millions. To-day we number forty-two states with at least seventy millions of people, free, happy and prosperous.

The people of that new state, by its representatives now assembled at Olympia, are making an earnest and vigorous effort to lay broad and deep foundations for the machinery of government. They indeed have a state that they may indeed feel justly proud of, with resources vast and inexhaustible in coal and iron, timber unlimited, soil fertile and varied, and harbors unsurpassed by any country in the known world, there is a future before them that no pen can do justice. Well may we say to our grand government, as was said to a certain governor of old, "Thou hast kept the good wine until the last." If one of our greatest patriots could say forty years ago, "I am an American citizen, the proudest acclamation of man," well may we realize the fulfillment of the acclamation.

Santiam Academy.

WILL OPEN TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 19,

Citizens of Lebanon and vicinity and former patrons of the Academy.

We cordially greet you and solicit from you your aid, patronage and co-operation in the work of building up Santiam Academy. Although somewhat late in opening, yet we hope before the year closes to do much in the interest of the schools.

Lebanon, like Zion of old, is "Beautiful for situation." The healthfulness of climate, the beauty of surrounding scenery, the moral tone of its citizens and the cheapness of living all unite to make Lebanon a pleasant school and social center.

In order to have a successful school the sympathy and co-operation of the citizens of town and community are necessary.

In our earnest endeavors to raise Santiam Academy to a higher standard of work we hope to deserve and receive your aid. New school appliances will be added. The building and grounds are undergoing repairs and before long we hope to add a more attractive appearance to the natural beauty of the grounds.

We begin work on Tuesday so that students can come in on Monday, secure accommodations and receive full benefit of their time and money.

It is very essential that you enter at the beginning. "Well begun is half done." We earnestly request all who contemplate attending the Academy to correspond with us and send at once a list of studies which you will probably wish to pursue, so that we can arrange our work and be ready to open in earnest the first day of school.

Our rates of tuition are unusually low and good board and room can be obtained as cheap as anywhere in the state. There are several rooms in the Academy which students can furnish, and occupy at the small expense of $3 per term.

COURSE OF STUDY AND RATES OF TUITION.

Training school, ten wks. term,	$5 00
Preparatory dept, " " " "	6 00
Academic " " " "	8 00
Commercial " " " "	10 00

Students must matriculate the first morning of school.

All who attend must be moral and studious in habit and will be expected to conduct themselves on all occasions as ladies and gentlemen. We shall use the lecture plan as far as practicable in all recitations, and pupils in preparatory and academic departments will study in their rooms and recite at the academy. The training department will remain at the academy during school hours.

Our motto shall be "Not how much, but how well."

All departments will be under competent instructors and we hope to verify to our pupils the truth of our motto.

Don't forget the date, Nov. 19.

CROSS & HYDE.

The incorporation of the Oregon Western Railway Company by Richard Koehler, Sohn Kelly, formerly of Paris, and W. T. Muir, with a capital of $200,000, subject to increase, the other day, savors of a Southern Pacific move. Parties connected with that company have been striving for some time to get control of the lines of the Oregonian railway company, and it is said they have been successful. The Southern Pacific will merge the Portland & Willamette Valley road, which it controls, into the Oregonian road, and operate the combined lines as a narrow gauge system, under the name of the Oregon Western road.

The incorporators of the new company act upon advice from the Southern Pacific purchasers, of whose intentions they are not informed. Mr. Koehler said yesterday that he had no advice as to what the next step would be. When asked if the company would bridge the Willamette at Portland he said there was nothing definite in regard to the proposition.—Oregonian.

MONTAGUE'S COLUMN.

Montague's fall stock is now complete in every department. The Mammoth store is filled with as choice goods, adapted to this market, as money will buy.

Our all wool Aldine suitings, a full yard wide, which we are selling at 50 cents per yard, is without doubt the best value for the money ever offered to the ladies of Lebanon.

Our stock of Henrietta cloths, cashmeres, tricots, camel hair goods, waterproofs, and advance styles of everything wearable is simply immense. The ladies are invited to call and take a look through the goods. They were bought at very low prices and will be sold correspondingly low.

Montague's stock of fancy work materials, as zephyrs, wools and yarns, embroidery silks, in fact everything that goes to make up a complete line of material for fancy work can be found at Montague's.

Our stock of boots and shoes was made expressly for us and every pair we sell is fully warranted. When you want anything in the foot wear line look over Montague's stock and get his prices. If you want to get good goods at living prices you will necessarily buy your boots and shoes of Montague.

Montague is opening up the largest and best selected stock of Men's, Boys' and Children's Clothing ever opened at this place. We can fit any one both in size and price. Montague carries Oregon City Clothing, California Cassimere Clothing, Eastern Worsteds, as well as a great variety of serviceable, low priced goods.

NOTICE AS TO MONEY!

Persons who owe me MUST PAY UP NOW.

I do not propose to waste much time in dunning. In fact there are some who imagine they should not be dunned at all, but it takes money to do business. Do not be surprised if you find the note or account you may happen to owe me in the hands of an officer for Very Prompt Payment.

The long, weary credit business is a thing of the past in Lebanon.
