DECEMBER 10, 1889.

SIERRA CHEMICAL CO.: Gentlemen.—Nothing but a desire to BENEFIT THE APPLICTED induces me to give you the following statement of facts: I have been a sufferer with dizzinese in my head and my constitution was generally broken down. At times my back would ache so that I thought I would have to give up, and my symptoms were such that I became sure that my k dneys were diseased. Your Great Sierra Kidney and Liver Cure was recommended to me and I have given it a square trial and can now say that it is a l aid even more than is claimed for it—a WONKERFUL REMEDY.

I intend to keep it in my home at all times, and will recommend it to all my friends as I am doing daily. Believe me. Very Thankfully Yours, Mrs. M. MALLORY.

CATARRH, HAY FEVER, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS. A NEW HOME TREATMENT.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and custachian tobes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby these distressing diseases are rapidly and permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made as home by the patient once in two weeks. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent free on application by A. H. Dixon & Son, 387 and 339 West King St., Toronto, Canada.—Scientific American.

Charles XII of Sweden.

Gen. Joseph Bartlett, ex-minister to Sweden, makes a somewhat peculiar but interesting contribution to history. "Whether Charles XII of Sweden met death at the hands of the enemy or all his own men has always been a subject of ardent discussion by military men and students of Swedish history," said the general a few days ago to a group of officers of the army. "When I was minister to Sweden," he continued, "the subject came up between the king of Sweden and some high military officials and was warmly discussed in my presence. The king was much interested in the debate, and, in order to satisfy himself, ordered the tomb to be opened and the skull examined. I was present at the examination, which took place at midnight in the old church where the remains repose near those of Gustavus Adolphus.

The bullet which ended the life of Charles XII passed through the skull in a direct line. On examining the skull I was struck by the fact that the hole in the forehead was larger than the one at the base. I noticed further that the bone of the skull where the ball passed in front was splintered and forced outward, while at the base the bone of the skull was forced inward. This was conclusive to my mind that the shot that had killed Charles came from behind, which was reasonably conclusive that it was fired by one of his own men, but whether with malicious intent or not no one can say. The king had very little to say on the subject at the time, but it was agreed that no other verdict than the one assutioned was correct, and I am satisfied that it settles the controversy. No publication, however, of the result of the investigation has ever been made to my knowledge, as we were pledged to secrecy at the time by the king."-New York Tribune.

-Now, really, what was the most astonishing thing you saw in Paris, Mr. Spicer," asked Miss Gusher, and without a moment's hesitation Seth answered, "My hotel bill."-Boston Bulletin.

-A lady drove lately to the front of a drug store and vigorously waved her hand for a clerk. When he appeared she asked for a bottle of anti-fat. While paying for it she said she had heard it would "grow leanness" on a person, and as she weighed 380 pounds she thought she would "reduce."

-The Animals' Institute at Knightsbridge, England, founded in 1887 chiefly by ladies, undertakes that animals shall be killed or cured in the most painless manner. The only difference in the treatment of the donkey of the costermonger and that of the countess is that the coster pays nothing and the lady prys the ordinary fees.

STONE IN THE KIDNEY.

I was taken with sharp pains in the lower part of my bowels in the region of the bladder Shortly blood appeared mixed with my urine and a few weeks later I had an attack of gravel I tried a number of doctors. One said it was gravel, another inflamation of the bladder, and another stone in kidneys. For three months I was under the care of an eminent doctor at Albany, but constantly growing worse, went home to die. At this time I was induced to try Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, of Rondost, N. Y., and am now robust and strong. A remedy which can do this for one so near death as I was should be known everywhere. I hope this statement will cause others afflicted as I was to use the Remedy. G. W. Brown, Petersburgh, N. Y. CELEBRATED EYE-WATER

This article is a carefully prepared physician's prescription, and has been in constant use for nearly a century. There are few diseases to which mankind are subject more distressing than sore eyes, and none, perhaps, for which more remedies have been tried without success. For all external inflammation of the eyes it is an infallible remedy. If the directions are followed it will never fall. We particularly livite the attention of physicians to its merits. For sale by all druggists. JOHN L. THOMPSON, SONS & CO., TROY, N. X. Established 1767.
