The warm rain Monday caused a rise of four feet in the Santiam at this place.

Rev. Kellerman, of Portland, came up Monday to assist in the revival exercises at the M. E. Church.

Earnest Ross called on us this week. He has been in Albany a week and was on his way to Brownsville.

Dr. A. H. Peterson has so far recovered from his paralytic stroke that he is able to attend to his office duties.

Rev. A. Le Roy, pastor of the Baptist church in Brownsville, came to Lebanon Tuesday and purchased some real estate.

We receive letters almost daily from people of the East who are anxious to know more of Oregon, and especially of our locality.

The real estate transactions in Lebanon for the month of February, found in another column, are a good advertisement. Consult them.

The meeting of the Ethic Literary Society on last Friday called together the talented men of Lebanon to discuss the military ability of Generals Grant and Lee. The decision was rendered in favor of the negative.

M. A. Miller, one of the disputants in the discussion last Friday evening, is rejoicing over his victory. Well, Milton, you have cause for rejoicing, considering the talented men who were pitted against you.

There is no danger of pneumonia following an attack of the gripe when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is taken as directed for a severe cold and care is taken to avoid exposure. Fifty cent bottles for sale by M. A. Miller.

There seems to be a general good-natured rivalry among Oregon towns just now. Locate in that town which offers the greatest inducements, and has the most natural advantages. If you do this we will not complain.

The next world's fair will be held in Chicago. This is the city of "big feet." Some of her citizens will take a vacation, or she will have to enlarge her borders. Standing room would be more valuable than real estate in Lebanon.

Looking over our extra edition, we were struck with the poverty of language and the inadequacy of our descriptive powers. Several of the most important features of our country were either overlooked entirely or hinted at in a very unsatisfactory way.

Messrs. James and Robert McCausland, formerly from Iowa, but recently of Salem and Albany were interviewing our real estate dealers this week. The above named gentlemen are like scores of immigrants, at least in one respect, they want some Oregon soil and doubtless can be suited.

There seems to be no doubt but that Lebanon will build a good school house soon. Every new enterprise has to pass through the three stages of ridicule, discussion and adoption. The project is now in the second stage, which it promises to pass successfully, and then with a spirit that brooks no rivalry our people will build.

A. R. Cyrus, representing the Clatsop Land Co., is in town this week. He says they have a few more of these choice two acre blocks in Prospect Park Addition to Astoria for sale at $250. Write them and secure a block of this desirable property before the raise. Astoria is destined to be a great city, and this is CHOICE property. Address, Clatsop Land Co., Box 416 Astoria, Oregon.

An English Prince in a fit of rage at his shoemaker made him eat a pair of shoes which had failed to fit to his highness' satisfaction. Rather a tough diet even for a man whose motto is, "Nothing like leather." But when one looks at the deformities caused by ill fitting shoes, the punishment seems to fit the crime as well as any of those unique punishments devised by the Mikado. Those who buy their shoes of C. C. Hackleman will get the biggest smile out of this item, because they don't know where the shoe fits.

Don't expect a four-bit smile when you only buy ten cents worth at Swan Brothers.

Miss Sarah Swenk, teacher in the public school at Brownsville, paid the family of Rev. J. R. Kirkpatrick a visit to-day.

Prof. H. C. Palmer, teacher of the Conservatory of music in Albany, was in town Wednesday. He will instruct the newly organized cornet band.

Mr. Boone Fort who came so nearly perishing in the mountains a short time ago, was in our office this week. He will return as soon as he recovers from his painful experience.

Our planet has at last made a move in the right direction and we are today enjoying the sun's rays to such an extent that all unpleasant memories of the past winter are forgotten.

The Board of Trade held a meeting Monday night. Some of our business men will, no-doubt, organize a building and loan association the coming season to meet the demands of an incoming population.

H. P. Drennen, of Astoria, who has been in town several days, left here on Wednesday for his timber and homestead claims up the Santiam. He informs us that he will make final proof on his claim soon.

Dr. Smith, who has large mining interests on the Santiam, was seen on our streets Wednesday. The doctor knows when he has a good thing, and before the season passes a good many skeptics will agree with him in one respect at least.

As soon as our new canal is cut we may expect several new industries to spring up. We are acquainted with parties who are both willing and anxious to build and operate a tannery whenever the water power can be obtained. Bring on the water.

A cornet band has been organized and an effort is being made to secure first-class instruments for it. As it will take a large amount to provide it with the proper pieces, the boys do not care to bear all the expense, which would amount to several hundred dollars, the will solicit subscriptions from their citizens, who should help them as much as possible.

Wednesday was not an unusual day in Lebanon there being about the usual amount of business transacted. Thinking it would be a good time to estimate the life and business of the town, we stepped to the door and counted seventy-five people on Main street alone. This is a good showing, when you remember that as yet we have no brass band, neither was there a single dogfight.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

The following sales of real estate, made during the month ended to-day, were reported at this office this week. A number of private sales were also made of which no mention is given. Owing to the unusual amount of rain which has fallen, the sales are unusually small, but a very great deal of property will change hands next month:

- PETERSON & WALLACE Sold for D. L. Ambler to A. Dodge lot 8 in block 17, Ralston's 2d addition. Sold for Joseph Bull to Peter S. Dykeman, of Meneminee, Michigan, lots 3 and 4 in block 5, Cowan's addition. Sold for R. Hiatt to G. C. Clare, late of California, lot 4 in block 3, Hiatt's addition. Sold for R. Hiatt to A. J. Boone, late of California, lot 3 in block 3, Hiatt's addition. Sold for W. E. Yates to Thomas Ready, 80 acres 1 1/2 miles from city.

- J. R. KIRKPATRICK To A. Dodge, part of block on Dodge street, $345. To A. Le Roy, two lots on Wheeler street, $170. To J. Carfile, three lots on Main street, $400. H. Y. Kirkpatrick to Ruff Hiatt, two lots. Consideration $215.

- T. C. PEEBLER Sold for Beard and Holt to Wm. Goan lots 1 and 2 in block 6, Kirkpatrick's addition to Lebanon, $250. Sold for F. W. Parker to Jos. Buhl, lot 5 in block 4, Kirkpatrick's addition to Lebanon, $100. J. M. Ralston to G. D. Peebler, lots 3 and 4 in block 5, Ralston's addition to Lebanon, $225. Sold for Geo. Peebler to Chas. Goan, lots 3 and 4, block 5, Ralston's addition, $750. J. M. Ralston to T. C. Peebler, 10 lots in Ralston's third addition, $770.

ACADEMY NOTES

School very quiet this week, items very scarce.

Several students stopped school last week on account of other duties.

The Academy was well represented at the Teachers' examination last week, there being seven or eight of our would-be teachers present.

Last Friday eve was public night at the Literary society. There was an enthusiastic debate by outside speakers on the subject, Resolved, That Gen. U. S. Grant was a greater man than Robert E. Lee, which was decided in favor of the negative.

This week concludes half the term, there being five weeks more of school in this term.

Our Literary society is now in a promising condition. Friday evening is the time for election of officers; all members and office seekers should be present. STUDENT.

BROWNSVILLE NOTES.

More rain. School entertainment Saturday evening.

Brownsville is to have a rifle club. Sam Sawyer has returned from the Portland Business College.

Geo. Smith, of Coburg, has commenced work in the sawmill.

Miss Anna Moore is recovering from her late illness.

Our cornet band lost one of its members Sunday night.

Gid Foust, while employed in the sawmill, had one of his feet severely injured.

The Banghangers' hall has been brilliantly illuminated several nights of late. Look out for the marshal, boys.

Owing to the settling of the factory dam, caused by the late high water, the race is not carrying as much water as usual.

An effort is being made to extend the new street through Kirk's addition still further east through the property lately purchased by Mr. Robert Curran. If this is accomplished it will be a beautiful street.

At the school meeting held in the city hall March 3, Wm. Blanchard was elected school director in place of John Howe, whose term had expired. The Rev. A. Le Roy was elected school clerk. The meeting voted to levy a tax of two thousand dollars for school purposes.

While the people of Brownsville are rejoicing over a board of trade, the people in the neighborhood of the factory are rejoicing over the new boards placed on the sidewalks by our marshal. A board of trade is a good thing, we suppose, but the average resident of Amelia would prefer good boards on the sidewalk.

A private letter to S. P. Barger from Eastern Oregon reports heavy loss of stock for want of food. The letter also states that on February 23 the mercury stood 30 degrees below zero in Harnay valley, with 40 inches of snow on the ground.

Mr. M. P. Chandler, residing fourteen miles east of town, reports three feet of snow near his residence. He also states that Mr. Malone, a neighbor, has lost fourteen head of stock from exposure. NEMO.

Committees.

Following are the committees for the Common Council of the city of Lebanon for the ensuing year:

- Ways and means—W. B. Donaca, J. S. Swan, C. C. Hackleman. Ordinances—J. S. Courtney, C. C. Hackleman, J. J. Swan. Account of current and exchange—C. C. Hackleman, J. J. Swan, W. B. Donaca. Streets and public property—J. J. Swan, W. B. Donaca, J. S. Courtney. License—C. C. Hackleman, J. S. Courtney, J. J. Swan. Fire and water—Swan, Donaca and Hackleman. Health and police—Courtney, Swan and Donaca.

SCHOOL NOTES.

Composition is becoming quite an interesting feature in the higher department.

There was no school in the afternoon Monday, as the annual district Meeting was held in the house.

The following question will be discussed by the literary class on Friday afternoon of next week: Resolved, that Columbus was greater than Washington. The debate promises to be quite interesting.

Prof. Hickman was somewhat surprised, on returning from dinner Wednesday, to find an artistically drawn, life size facsimile of himself on the board. Although the affair caused considerable excitement nobody was hurt. Pretty good, Alice.

Mrs. Fry, of Oak Creek, gave us a very pleasant call on Thursday. JAY BIRD GRADUATE.
