THE ADVENTURES OF A NICKLE.

"Yes, I am somewhat battered and old now, my face is scratched and marred, I have travelled many miles and have seen many queer sights, it would be almost impossible for me to remember or recount all the various owners I have had or the thousand and one places I have been. You're a reporter you say for the Lebanon Express, well I've known a great many reporters, and some of them were rather good fellow, but excuse me to put it in a mild form, somewhat given to exaggeration; "No I'm not a native of the state, I was born and christened in the U. S. mint, situated on Chestnut street, Philadelphia, and from there in company of many more of the Nickle family shipped to San Francisco. I shall never forget the excitement we created when we arrived at our destination the Californians had never seen us before and looked upon with anything but favor, in many instances refusing to believe that we represented any value. I found myself one day in the show window of a broker's office, and to tell the truth I did feel rather small amidst the $50 slugs and the $20 gold pieces, but soon became accustomed to my aristocratic associates, who although very big and yellow, have not travelled half the distance I have. Why, Mr. Reporter I've taken in an entire town in one day, going through every business house, and eventually on the night of the same day being dropped into the contribution plate at church, and transferred to the parson's pocket. And say let me tell you, of all places for a nice quiet rest give me the parson's pocket, of course it is a lonesome place in most instances. I hardly ever found much money there to keep me company, but then its generally clean and free from tobacco crumbs. Ugh, I detest tobacco it gets in a fellows eye and always makes me feel queasy and sick, but then a public person has to put up with all kinds of treatment and company. What was the most disagreeable place I was ever in did you say? Well I've been through hot fires, passed many a cold freezing night, been dropped into deep water, and experienced many vicissitudes, but I am certain that the worst fix I was ever in was when in the possession of an old whiskey bum, they did not come by me honestly but geneally by stealing or begging, the last bum that had me stole me from the counter of a grocery store, where the proprietor had carelessly dropped me. He slipped me into a greasy, dirty pocket, but in a very short time passed me over the counter of a five-cent beer saloon for a schooner, unfortunately I remained in the money till of this place for two days and during that time was passed and repassed over the bar many times in making change, and I must say I never in my experience heard such profane and ritual conversation or was forced into companionship with a lower or more brutal class of people than the most of the habitual frequenters of this place proved to be. How did I get away from there? The bar-keeper gave me to a little german boy in exchange for a bunch of mint, and in the boy's company I took a trip to the country, taking quite a rest and passing a very time in the toe of a woollen sock, where the prudent mother of the boy had placed me. Had anything to do with politics? Well I should remark. I was born under a democratic administration and have always stood by colors come what may. The only time I change color was during the big fire at Seattle, when during the excitement I became hot and turned black, but then many politicians do this, especially when it pays, or there is a good fat office in sight; in my case however it was involuntary and if you look at my face you will see that I have quite an honest face though not blessed with much 'ring.' What do I think will become of me? I hardly know. You see my first issue was a failure and was recalled, I am told that branch of the family lacked the word cents and was put to various illegal uses by sharpers. I never did pride myself on my beauty and perhaps someday my Uncle Samuel will recall me and issue a new departure of the five cent family. Say, now don't toss me around your pocket so Mr. Reporter, going down to the Lxpress office are you to have a smoke, got tired of me already, believe you'd buy a cigar, alright, over the counter I go. Good-by. Hope we will meet again, but I say, hey, reporters don't have much more money in their pockets than preachers. Do they?

Seattle's

Mighty growth, last ten years, into one of the World's Great Cities is without a parallel. No pen can now portray her resources or the continued prosperity that the years of the future will pour into her.

World Renowned Harbor

And her SCENIC shore lines on Lakes and Sound! Never has the hand of Nature been so lavish in her gifts to make the WORLD'S LAST GREAT CITY! Rome on her seven hills was as nothing to Seattle's snow-crowned Olympias on the North and West; Cascades on the East and South, and from these mighty bulwarks of health—energy—inspiration-giving, there rises the mighty

THE WASSOM ADDITION

Is the place where men and women of Money and Sense and Refinement will make their homes—and why?

BECAUSE

The College, the Mineral Springs, Ravenna Park, the view of Mount Ranier (which is grander here than any where else on Puget Sound) which, if for no other reason, would make it most desirable.

In Seattle a mighty City is building. Take hold of the best while you have a chance at Lowest Prices.

TO THE PIONEER A WORD:—Why did you cross the plains? Why did you take your life and that of others in your hands to come to this Coast? What pen can write the history? You have conquered this land, made the growth of great cities imperative, and the amassing of great fortunes, almost in a day, possible. Now, by the investment of a few thousands, or hundreds, you may reap the harvest that belongs to you. Will you do it? The greatest corporations, the ablest financiers of Europe and America, are investing thousands—nay, millions, in Seattle. Will you not invest? Your chance is NOW. Seize it. I have a 60-acre tract, an 80 and two 40-acre tracts. Only a few left—cheap; ripe for plating, any one of which will make you your fortune in a short time. Buy quick, I can't duplicate them.
