been made for the surveying of public lands in Oregon. Whether this amount is sufficient to meet the requirements in this direction we know not, but we are thankful for any amount. Perhaps only lands have been surveyed, some of which is among our most valued landed possessions. But a small properties of this territory is adapted to agriculture, but is chiefly valuable for its excellent timber. We must, in estimating the value of these lands, take into consideration the fact that a large percentage of this initiatory step to the cigar and the initiatory step to the cigar and the initiatory step to the cigar and the public of the cigar and the initiatory step to the cigar and the properties of this disputating compound of rottenness and poison, and in some of the cities to prevent the sale of them altogether. Numbers of persons in different parts of the United States have been killed outright by their use and many have been readered insane and addicate from the same cause.

And yet this eigarette smoking by the young and rising generation is but the legitimate result of the cigar and the pipe and the quid in the meuths of elder boys. What could we expect but this terrible curse as the legitimate outcome of the prevailing and rapidly increasing habit of older persons inviting the young by their example to have something stuck in their mouths to suck, and as the initiatory step to the cigar and T S Pills ation the fact that a large percentage of our immigrants are not farmers, but are backing for just such locations as are contemplated in this survey. It is only by the simultaneous development of all our resources that our State will become populous and affluent. In waiting this we have in view the waiting this we have in view the main and affluent. In waiting this we have in view the habit.

Stuck in their mouths to suck, and as the cigar and the pipe and the quid they commence with the so-called poisonous cigarette. But the young are not half so much to blame as the older persons who set them this terrible example, for cider persons are supposed to know more or less of the terrible effects and tendencies of this degrading and disgusting will to any town that he has seen. by a parallel case, that of Kansas.
