What makes everybody like to hear of the latest medicine? Why do old people enjoy to see a woman? Why do dyspepsics continue eating greasy bacon, baked beans and mince?

Why do men marry women unfit for them and bewail their fate forever afterward? Why do fat people who agonize over their adipose tissue, eat sugar and much candy?

Why does a young man, when he goes cutting, set as if he were doing something he is ashamed of? Why will men file in a horse trade when they know it will be found out as soon as the purchaser tries the horse?

Why do people run down every other religion but their own when they know that they never make any converts by so doing? Why does a girl unite herself for life to a man whom she knows drinks, and then expect her life-line to remain uncut?

Crow foot scratches... Caw! caw! caw! Once more we peril ourselves for the purpose of enlightening the world to some slight degree, and no doubt very slightly.

The roads are getting very muddy in this part of the "Foot Stool," owing to the recent juicy weather.

A series of meetings, conducted by the Rev. Brown, are now in progress at the college chapel, which are well attended.

J. F. Stubblefield, who has been visiting at the "Foot" for some time, will return to his home in Walla Walla this week. Miss Zoe Marks will accompany him on a visit to her sister, Mrs. S.

Caw, caw, caw, and once again, did you read that newsy correspondence from Lacomb last week? We did, and we have been resting ever since, but are tired yet. "Democrat," the worthy correspondent, says, among other things, that they are still thrashing at Lacomb! We don't doubt it if everything is as far behind the times as he is, do you?

Well, as we are unused to this kind of business, it goes rather hard with us, so we must discontinue our song for the present at least.

"The Jersey Lily." ANGLESEA COTTAGE, L. B., July 2. Gentlemen: Altho' it is very unusual for me to use any lotions or washes, still, in answer to your letter, I have tried your Violett Cream and Robertine. The former I consider especially efficacious in cases of roughness of the skin, and I have been using it every day for the last fortnight. I have found the Robertine an excellent preparation in cases of tan, sunburn, etc., caused by exposure to March winds and a July sun.

Yours faithfully, LILLIE LANGTRY. To Messrs. Wisdom & Co.
