Mr. Harrison made something like 140 speeches in his trip, but in none of them did he say a word about the free coinage of silver.

The people of that great metropolis, London, have to walk on account of a strike on the part of employees of car lines and omnibus companies.

When the Alliance organization forces the principles upon which it was organized, and enters politics as a third party, its doom is sealed.

Portland's new morning paper, the American, made its appearance on the 1st inst., but has appeared infant toes to the daisies, already. A lack of wagon wheels was the cause of its demise.

The Indianapolis Journal, (rep.), has made the canvass and declares that congressman Mills, of ninth Texas district will secure the speakership of the next house, by a safe plurality.

Says Henry Waterson: Let us hope that the prophets who are predicting the world's end is near, may be wrong. How would the United States look on the morning of the Day of Judgment with a republican administration and an empty treasury?

One of Germany's judges has solved the problem. He has so construed the law of libel as to hold the newspaper's proof readers criminally responsible for any obnoxious or libelous matter that gets into print. Justice has at last run down her game—N. Y. Telegram.

Dallas, Texas, has one to her credit in stopping the sale of that libelous and outrageous sheet known as the Kansas City Sunday Sun. It is the first official act on record, where the circulation of a newspaper has been enjoined, and unless the proprietors go down and fight the case, the injunction will remain in force. In this case the sun does not move.

You may usually judge of the fairness and fitness of a man's character by noticing the way in which he estimates the labors of his fellow-men. A disposition to belittle what others have done, as compared with the work our efforts in the inflexible token of a mean and narrow nature—Christian Advocate.

When a delegation from the Cincinnati convention called on Senator Carlisle and asked him if he believed in government ownership of railroads, he answered by asking if his questioners were in favor of confiscating the property. They replied in the negative; whereupon he asked if they were willing to be taxed $14,000,000,000 in order to tax the railroads under government control. There was no further discussion of the proposition.

The legislature appropriated nothing to make an exhibit at the World's fair. This was right. Because it is not within the province of the government to go into the show business. But while this is true it is just as true that a creditable Oregon exhibit should be made at the Fair, and every good citizen feels an interest in the success of the enterprise to be organized for this purpose. Three hundred thousand dollars should be raised, and all of us must pull together.

A citizens' ticket has been selected at Portland as follows: Mayor—W. S. Mason (Rep) City Atty—Wm. T. Muir (Dem) Police judge—Chas H Carey (Rep) Auditor—W. T. Brash (Rep) Assessor—Jas. Fowler (Dem) Street superintendent—D. W. Taylor (Dem) Overseer street-cleaning department—A. Anderson (Rep) Surveyor—T. M. Hurlburt (Rep) Police com'r—Frank Logan (Dem) Fire com'r—M. C. Hayward (Dem) One Democratic and one republican can have been nominated for council in each ward. The Democratic city convention has met and adjourned without making nominations. This is considered an endorsement of the Citizens' ticket.

While at Lebanon, says the San Francisco Mining Review your correspondent went with some enterprising gentlemen of that town to inspect some prospect of natural gas. Near a small stream is a bar, partially covered with alluvial soil. Between the soil and the water is a strip of sandy loam more or less damp and quite soft. By pushing a stick into the soft earth and withdrawing it a small hole is left, from which gas escapes and which is readily ignited with a match. The gas continues to burn until the soft sides of the hole close together and so cut off its escape. It burns sometimes over a minute, with a flame four or more feet high. The flame is blue and very hot. Coal lies in the hills not far distant, and it is said that the iridescent effect of oil on the water is constantly seen on the surface of the stream in the neighborhood of the gas wells. At the time of the visit here spoken of it was raining, the creek was high and the ground full of water and very soft. Yet on pushing a cane into earth, gas escaped in sufficient quantity to light enough to see the water in the hole and close it up.

Canada's Great Statesman.

Sir John Alexander Macdonald, the great political leader, the keen political leader in the dominion of Canada, has passed away. He was a man of unlimited, restless resources, tireless energy, adroit executive skill and intense magnanimity. He has faithfully battled for the idea of British sovereignty as against any and all plans for separation and republican home rule. During the long period of his public service he has held various positions—member of the executive council, commissioner of the crown lands, member of the cabinet, minister of the militia, attorney general, arbitrator of the joint high court at Geneva, and prime minister. Governor-generals have come and gone, in long procession; rivals have risen and fallen back; liberalism has organized and threatened and broken into political revolt; but this marvelous old man has kept his hand firmly on the helm of state, and dies after one of the most signal victories of his entire career.

Time and again his friends even have predicted that he would surely come to grief, but in every instance he steered around the rocks, conciliated conflicting elements with rare skill; and his party today seems as strong as ever. What it will be without the master mind is a problem that only time can solve.

Sir John was an opportunist, as most successful men in statecraft are. He was never in a hurry. He went by the name of "Old Tom-mor-row," and his dilatory tactics have often enabled him to profit by the mistakes of others. As a speaker he was fluent and impressive, rather than eloquent; but was a skilled laborer, and had the faculty of finding the weak points in his opponent's armor, and of turning them to ridicule, which is often more potent than any amount of argument. He was very powerful on the stump, and he never failed to get on the good side of his audience on such occasions.

And he had, too, that other quality of the world's successful men, an infinite capacity for work, and an equal capacity to throw work off his mind when the time comes to rest. Despite his years, he could "stay with the procession" as long as any one. He was, too, with all his manifold duties, a great reader, and ripe scholar, a thorough man of letters, and a man of the world; dressed with a robust mental and physical endowment that enabled him to fill a score of roles at once. Take him all in all, he was one of the greatest characters and strongest leaders of the nineteenth century.

The readers of the Express will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease of that nature that has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surface of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution. It is a safe and reliable cure, and is recommended by all the medical authorities for any case that it falls to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address E. J. C. & Co., Toledo, Mo. WHITCOMB ECHOES.

Crops looking fine.
Mr. Boone is quite sick.
Mr. Sam Herring and family are up here busy at work.

There was a large party of prospectors went up the trail and we presume they have struck it rich as we have not seen or heard from them for over a week.

Mr. Chandler stopped here on his way to Quartzville.

Mr. Banford and two sons are up here for a peck and seem to be enjoying our beautiful scenery and trout fishing very much.

Bark pulling has got to be quite an industry here as those along the trail can testify, by the number of peck horses passing.

SWEET HOME.
Orthodoxy.
Correspondence.

Expecting a visit from the Crow, this week and for this reason I begin active operation at once, in order that I may devote my spare time (which, by the way, is only twenty-three hours per day) to the special benefit of the Corvidae. In after years I shall be able to tell you of the pleasure we enjoyed while tracing our literal descendants—oh! no, not that—our ancestors.

Eld. M. M. Norton, a mongrel of the Advent Christian church, preaches the first Sunday in each month, Elder Mulkey, Christian church preaches the second Sunday; Eld. C. C. and G. McKeloy, are the representatives of the Evangelical church, as there is a division in the church each division sends a preacher, who preach third Sunday; Sunday school every Sunday at 10 o'clock at both churches and day.

Mr. Hughes moved into the Findly house last week.

P. L. Blyden and family, Misses Tip DeVaney and Aggie Green went up to Lower Soda for a month rest and health. The young ladies are newspaper correspondents and will no doubt pick up every item to be found. Best wishes to them.

O. H. Russell had the misfortune to severely sprain his left ankle.

A. D. McKee went up to build a house on his homestead just above Pleasant Ridge (Meal's).

I understood that there was an alliance formed at Sweet Home, Saturday.

Mrs. P. LeFrancis is at Albany visiting friends and relatives.

I have examined several gardens and can not decide who has the best one, but the best ones, Levi McKee, F. B. Calkins and E. C. Russell.

A. Wiley is making rails.

G. W. Howes and Chas. Howes will run the Walton ranch this summer.

There has been plenty of rain to fill in a large crop of grain and vegetables for this year.

There was an agent for some hygienic and physiologic charts for the use of schools, visiting the school boards, of this vicinity. As to the merits of the chart I can not speak, as I did not see it, but that the agent did not know the laws pertaining to the purchase of school apparatus, I am certain of or else was unacquainted not caring who the board individually or the district paid for. If for no, boards cannot buy apparatus under the provisions of the new law unless they meet as a board to transact business. There is not one director in a thousand who would intentionally do any thing unlawfully but they frequently do things without ascertaining the text of the law allowing such expenditure.

I am pleased with the promptness which executes the correspondents in their desire to make our paper a success. I expect this week issue to be filled to overflowing with items.

Chitina hunters are plenty and the bark is being hauled into our village by the ton. "Casaca Sagrada" is the special name for this shrub, or tree and its medical properties are only partially known by the people of this country. It has been fully described in the agricultural reports of the agricultural dept at Washington, D. C.

Waterloo whistlers.
Celebration the fourth of July.
Town improving some, but in the near future Waterloo will take a leap for a great boom.

Quite a crowd gathered here for the purpose of witnessing the baptizing Tuesday at 3 P. M. 14 were baptized; several more will be Sunday—this being the effect of Soda's campaign.

Waterloo will hold camp-meeting also, commencing about the 15th. Program, for the Fourth of July celebration, will be arranged soon, and no pains will be spared to make this a success.

Several campers at this place this week.
Waterloo is quite dull at present.

Obituaries.

Orn Bell Kees, only child of A. A. Kees was born Dec. 13, 1885, died June 8, 1891. On the morning of the 3rd she complained of a sore throat which as it developed, proved to be diphtheria; which together with croup terminated fatally. She was a faithful member of the Baptist Sunday school, and on the Sunday before she died expressed her regret at being too sick to attend her class. Only a short time ago, when the teacher had asked who loved Jesus to hold up their hand, her little hand went up and she whispered to the teacher "I love Jesus too." When talking of going to see with her mother who died Dec. 31, 1890, she said "I want to stay and love my papa." Her last request of her father was to gather her some flowers, and she held the rambuds till she could not realize that they were flowers. Many friends sympathize with the grief-stricken father and commend to him the grace and consolation of Christ who said, "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven." A brief service was conducted at the grave, by Rev. T. P. Boyd; "God be with you till we meet again" was sung by the friends, after which they dispersed to meet the little one in Heaven, we trust.

A FRIEND.
Died: June 8, little Vernetta, daughter of Mr and Mrs D J Hildreth. Darling Vernetta has gone and left us. She has joined her father and mother, to dwell among the angels, in the far-off Paradise.

How we loved our darling baby! And how sad it was to hear From the land of the living, That her loved one of our heart.

Yet we must be submissive To what the Angels of God have done: He has come to all His own. And taken our darling baby home. Yes, she's gone to Heaven above. Where death and sorrow never can molest. Where there is no more of pain, Then rest with Jesus, darling baby! To Him thy spirit we commend. He's the little children's friend.

Written by a cousin, who loved her.

oping Fever.
At this season of the year the most vigorous and hearty people often have a feeling of weariness, tired and worn out, and many break out in pimples and sores. What you require is a mild tonic medicine that will act gently on the liver and blood, and for this nothing equals Dr. Gun's Improved Liver Pills. They give an activity to the liver, purify the blood, and by their mild tonic action, new vitality and strength to the entire system. Sold at 25 cents a box by M. A. Miller.

For Sawmill Proprietors.
Sawmill men should be careful how they violate the law by throwing sawdust into the streams. The lowest penalty for so doing is $100 fine. The law passed by the last legislature is as follows:

"It shall not be lawful for the proprietor of any sawmill in this State, or any employee therein, or any other person, to cast sawdust, planer shavings or other lumber waste made by any lumbering manufacturing concern, or suffer or permit such sawdust, shavings or other lumber waste to be thrown or discharged in any manner into the water of this state, or the Columbia river, or to deposit the same where high water will take the same into any of the waters of this state, or the Columbia river; and any person or persons violating any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in a sum not less than one hundred dollars nor more than two hundred and fifty dollars."

The Bachelor section is about two miles east of Willow Prairie, and is completely settled by bachelors.

A. J. Nichols has a new house on his ranch, just about finished.

A. H. McKee has commenced his new house and we are looking for Mr. A. Phelps up in a few days to build his house.

Mr. Stiengram has got a fine place and the finest garden in the mountains.

Rev. T. A. Yost preached at Willow Prairie June 7th.

W. R. Mealy has been working on his ranch and from his aimings we think that William is tired of bachelors and will take unto himself a housekeeper. There are about as many old maids in the mountains as there are old bachelors so it is about a stand-off between the bachelors and old maids.

Mr. A. Hackleman passed over the road with his drove of cattle to-day.

Mr. Mealy's ranch corners on the bachelor section on the south-west, it is a fine ranch and will be worth money some day. We think Andy and Zell are doomed to be old bachelors sure enough, if they don't get a different move on them than they have had, for the two Bills and A. H. are sailing their boats all around them. Andy and Zell's advice is for little boys to keep near the shore and not let the paddle dip or they will be swamped.

Whenever the Crow starts over to the places named in the last writing, don't forget the bachelors and we will see if the Crow don't get some of the finest strawberries a crow ever saw.

$500 REWARD. Agents Wanted Everywhere.
We will pay $500 for a watch, or that we cannot make as clean as a new one, in one-fourth the time that is required in the old wash-board plan.

The machine will be on exhibition, after Saturday, June 13, in the sample room of the St Charles Hotel, Lebanon, Or.
