Stowe vs. Hanson. While Christy Martin Hanson and A. P. Stowe were enjoying a friendly bout scuffling last night C. M. H. got his leg broken just above the ankle, and he is not a very greedy person either, for in interviewing him this morning he said he only wished he had got his neck broke. After receiving his injury last night he was removed to the St. Charles hotel. Dr. Booth was at once dispatched for and set the broken limb, and judging from Hanson's conversation the Doctor did an excellent job, for Hanson says he will be up and about in a week. That's good work, Doctor.

It is said to be a singular fact that a country boy will succeed in the city and become a partner in our largest firms much oftener than a boy born in New York. The great secret of the success of the average country boy is his perfect willingness to be useful and to do what he is required to do and do it cheerfully, and, secondly, they do their work well. A city boy has many acquaintances, a country boy none, and the latter is not called to stop and talk when sent out by the merchant. — Dry Goods Chronicle.

The little child of Mr. and Mrs. Layton Knox died this a. m. about 4 o'clock. The child was nine months old and was shipped by its parents who are heart-broken over the loss of their beloved child. Their many friends join them in mourning the loss of their little infant. We understand the burial will take place to-day at the Knox Bette cemetery.

A dispatch from Yaquina says that quite a serious accident happened to Joe Briggs, a son of Thos. Briggs, living near Cape Foul-weather, Monday. He was cleaning a winchester magazine, and got the rod fastened in the barrel. As he was unable to remove it, he thought he could shoot it out. Putting some powder in a shell he made the attempt but instead of the rod going the firing-pin was blown back, striking his cheek bone under the right eye, and entering the head about four inches. Dr. Warren, of Newport, was hastily summoned, who removed the piece. At last account Mr. Briggs was resting easily, with a fair chance of recovery.

Yesterday George Harris and Frank, his brother, who live about three miles from Scio went out into the foot hills about fifteen miles from the town to hunt deer. They camped and after dinner went out in search of game. George killed one deer and was following after another which he wounded when another passed athwart his path. He immediately proceeded to shoot at this one when his gun exploded filling his eyes and face full of powder and burning his eyes so that he could see but little. He called to his brother but could not make him hear and after a tedious trip he arrived at camp. They then set out for home on horseback, where they arrived at midnight. Today they came to town when Drs Davis and Maston proceeded to repair the damage. George will not be in good shape for some time.—Democrat.
