"In buying cough medicine for children," says H. A. Walker, prominent druggist of Ogden, Utah, "never be afraid to buy Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. There is no danger from it and relief is always sure to follow. I particularly recommend Chamberlain's because I have found it to be safe and reliable. It is intended especially for colds, croup and whooping cough." 50 cent bottles for sale by M. A. Miller.

For pains in the chest there is nothing better than a flannel cloth saturated with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on over the seat of pain. It will produce a counter irritation without blistering, and is not so disagreeable as mustard; in fact it is much superior to any plasters on account of its pain-relieving qualities. If used in time it will prevent pneumonia. 50 cent bottles for sale by M. A. Miller.

Webb Lensure, a former resident of Eugene, on trial at Rathdrum, Idaho, for murder was acquitted of the charge after a trial lasting twenty-six days. He was defended by Pat Ready, the great criminal lawyer of California. He killed Every Bean during the Coeur d'Alene mining troubles and his trial was a contest between the mine owners and the Miners' union, of which Lensure was a prominent member. After the verdict of the jury had been rendered, Lensure and his wife stood at the bar and shook hands with each of the jurors as they passed out.

The New York Price Current has this to say of hops. "It has been the experience in many previous years to have a decline from Thanksgiving to Christmas, but this season there has been so little giving way as to lead to the impression that the market possesses inherent strength beyond what is seen on the surface. The large part of the receipts are still for export direct, and generally supposed to be on previous orders; new business is light except on the Pacific coast, where a number of fresh purchases are reported by shippers. Neither mail nor cable advices from London are particularly encouraging at present. From apparently reliable sources, it would seem that more than half the crop on the Pacific coast has passed out of the growers' hands, and many of the remaining lots are undesirable and will be neglected until all of the good stock is gone."

At 3 o'clock Tuesday morning Stayton was visited by a very disastrous fire. The fire was discovered in the rear of Henry Bruers general merchandise store. The fire originated from a defective flue. The following were the losses: Bruers loss cannot be estimated as some of his stock was saved. W. E. Thomas lost $1500, no insurance. Walter Lyons, of the Stayton Times, lost everything, no insurance. Thomas Bros. & Co livery barn and portion of feed, no insurance. This is the most disastrous fire that has visited Stayton for 15 years.

The success of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is effecting a speedy cure of colds, croup and whooping cough has brought it into great demand. Messrs. Pontius & Son, of Cameron, Ohio, say that it has gained a reputation second to none in that vicinity. Jas. M. Queen, of Johnston, W. Va., says it is the best he ever used. B. F. Jones, druggist, Winona, Miss., says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is perfectly reliable. I have always warranted it and it has never failed to give the most perfect satisfaction." 50 bottles for sale by M. A. Miller.

A few weeks ago mention was made of the fact that a farmer living in Washington county had discovered several pieces of gold in the gizzard of a chicken he slaughtered for dinner. The circumstance created quite a stir at the time, but no rich "placer" deposits have been subsequently discovered by the farmer of that vicinity. A few days since B. C. Hughman, who lives near Mt. Angle, in Marion county, killed a turkey and found in its crop a piece of pure gold worth at least a dollar. In the crop of two geese he obtained several other pieces of the precious metal. In looking around over the place he found a number of diminutive nuggets which were worth about $10. Since then a good deal of prospecting has been going on. No startling developments have been reported yet. An exchange vouches for the truth of this story.

The People Appreciate a Good Thing.

We are going to talk shoes to you this week. We have something good to tell you. In fact we always lead the procession on shoes.

In shoes we laugh, in shoes we play, In shoes we weep, in shoes we pray, In shoes we walk, in shoes we ride, And shoes are thrown even to a bride, And sad to say, and sad to think, In shoes we're earned without a drink, In shoes we dance, in shoes we trade, And shoes our understanding aid, We shoe the horse, and shoe the fly, And why not shoes for you and I? In shoes we woo, in shoes we wed, When shoes leave us we leave for bed; In shoes we toil, in shoes we rest, And hence 'tis wise to wear the best. For such—tax not your weary wits— Come straight to us—we'll give you fits!
