The Knights of Maccabees.

On last Monday, obediently to an invitation to the Linn Tent, No. 7 K. O. T. M., a party consisting of six Maccabees of this place, namely: Sir Knights Dr. Prill, J. F. Hyde, S. H. Coyle, John Meist, Geo. W. Rice and Dr. J. A. Lamberson took the afternoon train for Brownsville to witness the installation of the officer-elect of Pacific Tent, No. 8 K. O. T. M.

Dr. Lamberson was invited to act as installing officer (he being a Deputy Supreme Organizer) and Geo. W. Rice as Supreme Master at Arms.

The service commenced at 8 p. m. and after installation was over a beautiful and splendid request was spread in their new Hall, which had been provided by the lady relatives of the Sir Knights. A better supper and a more enjoyable time could not have been had anywhere. After supper speech making was the order of the hour. Sir Knight Lamberson being called he responded with a 20 minute speech, which was listened to by those present with awe and rapt attention. Short and spicy speeches were made by Com. A. G. Prill of Linn Tent, No. 7, and S. B. Coyle.

Commander Longbottom of Pacific Tent made a few remarks, thanking the members of Linn Tent No. 7, for their presence in answer to their invitation.

The order in Brownsville is growing fast, a majority of the leading citizens being members of the order. The good will and fraternal feeling existing between the members of Pacific Tent, No. 9, and Linn Tent, No. 7, speaks volumes for the order.

Two Trains Collide.

We take the following from the Portland Dispatch dated January 24th:

An accident occurred on the Northern Pacific at Eagle Gorge, 70 miles out of Tacoma, which resulted in the death of brakeman F. Lowe.

It was a collision between a freight train and gravel train. Orders were given the conductor in charge of the gravel train to sidetrack in order to make way for the freight train, but there was a mistake somewhere and he did not take it off of the main track. The freight which was coming west had been divided into two sections on the Cascade mountains, and the first one came down the heavy grades at a tremendous rate. The gravel train was seen, but not in time. On came the freight till the two engines met, and a complete smashup resulted.

Obituary.

Mrs. S. O. Wallace, wife of Mr. S. O. Wallace, was born in Anderson county Tennessee, April 5, 1853, and died January 18, 1893, Age, 39 years, 9 months and 13 days. She was converted and joined the Methodist church January, 1868, and was married to S. O. Wallace, March 29, 1868. She moved with her husband to Missouri about the year 1874 and to Oregon in 1883. She joined the Baptist church in 1891. Her funeral was preached in the Baptist church by Rev. Geo. W. Hill, of Albany, Oregon. She leaves a husband and 13 children and a wide circle of relatives and friends to mourn her loss.

May God sustain the bereaved ones and prepare them to meet her where there will be no parting. C. E. L.

Another Pioneer Gone.

Mr. H. A. McCartney died at his home in Sodaville Sunday last—being nearly 86 years old. His remains were taken to Harrisburg and were interred in the Masonic cemetery at that place. The deceased was a native of Tennessee and came to this county in 1857, where he has since lived and raised a large family. The deceased was a much respected citizen and his death will be sadly felt in Sodaville where his energies were always active in advancing that place.

Heavy Run on a Bank.

Monday the doors of the U. S. Banking Co's bank at Gervais were closed to business.

It looks as if it might be a genuine bank failure, but the true state of affairs could not be learned up to the time of going to press.

Not at time Saturday a feeling of uneasiness came over the depositors in this bank, and a number of them withdrew their deposits. In fact, nearly everyone of the Gervais business men sought protection in this manner. In the afternoon a $1,000 check could not be honored. The bank officers asked until Monday and then the doors of the bank closed for the day and week. Monday morning when the hour for opening the bank came the street in front of the bank was crowded with depositors who were anxious to withdraw. Then fears that the worst had come was increased in Gervais by the presence of Sheriff Knight. But the bank did not open at all, and the true state of affairs is not known.

Jas. Dickinson, the cashier, says the bank is all right and will be opened up in a day or so—as soon as a shipment of coin arrives. He says the bank was not prepared for the big run made upon it Saturday, but they can and will pay every cent.

The president of the banking company, Mr. Bairidge, is now in the East. The U. S. Banking Co. has four banks—one each at Gervais, Sheridan, Linkville and Junction, and it was said last night in Gervais that the bank at Junction was also closed.—Statesman.

In 1855 C. R. Carter and Thos. W. Kelton murdered a man near Mt. Vernon, Mo., by beating his brains out with stones. They were found guilty of murder in the first degree and sentenced to be hanged on July 1st, 1857. Just before the day for hanging Carter escaped, shooting the jailer, Chas. Warren, but not fatally. Over five years passed without any reliable clue to him until several days ago he was recognized and arrested at Mt. Tabor, Portland's suburb, by Marshal Minto, of Salem, and Detective Simmons, of Portland. Carter has been living at Mt. Tabor under the name of Rose, and owns property there. Sheriff Wilson, and Chas. Warren, the jailer who was shot, have arrived and will take Carter back to be hanged. The men capturing him will receive $400 reward.

Later.—The requisition for Rose, alias Carter, not having yet arrived and the term for which he was remanded to the county jail having expired, Recorder Edes yesterday extended his order ten days, and so Rose continues to be held in durance vile as a fugitive from justice. Quite a sad scene was enacted in his cell in the county jail a few days ago when his bride came to bid him a last farewell before his departure for Missouri to pay the death penalty. The couple had a few moments conversation together, alone. He threw his arms around her and kissed her, then suddenly relinquished his hold and stepped in his cell where darkness shielded his face.

Art in Monumental Work.

It is pleasing to note the change taking place in the last few years in the selection of suitable memorials to our departed friends. The old inartistic slab high and broad with the conventional weeping willow, carved on the face and ballance covered with inscription and epitaph, has been relegated to the back-ground; and has been replaced by the neat little monument with brief inscription, that does not mar the artistic beauty of the work. Then, for large work, such as public, family, monuments, etc., Granite as a material, has taken a leading position in the lead of the world. For ages it was known to be one of the most durable of materials but not until comparatively recent years, when the art of bringing out its inherent beauty by giving it a high polish, has taken its place in the front rank for monumental work. As it is found in many different colors it supplies the individual taste of almost everyone. Red Bench (red) and Barre (gray) are two of the leading granites, and many beautiful monuments of these have been placed in the cemeteries of Oregon. Notable among those in the former granite is a family monument placed in the Oakville cemetery Tuesday of this week, which for artistic design and beauty of workmanship is unsurpassed. It was purchased by Walter McGhee for his parents and put up by the enterprising firm of E. W. Achison & Co., of Albany, who are always in the lead in their line of work and anyone desiring monumental work would do well to consult them before purchasing or anyone for whom they have done work.—Albany Herald.

A little more than a week ago hold-ups and burglaries were reported almost by the score in Portland; but for several days past there seems to be a cessation of hostilities in that line. Doubtless the thieves and thugs have been compelled to seek other and more congenial fields for operation. Just now Seattle seems to be a sort of local point for the gathering of this undesirable class. According to the papers holdups and burglaries are very frequent over there. Portland has had her experience in the footpad business and is perfectly willing for other cities to take their turn.—Telegram.

The following is a dispatch from Lakewood, N. J. dated Jan. 25th: "Cleveland and Bayard sat up late last night hewing out a cabinet, and resumed the work this morning. Whitney had not appeared up to noon. Harry, it is believed, is booked for postmaster-general. He is expected to visit Cleveland to-day. It is said that Wall, of Wisconsin, will be tendered the secretaryship of the interior."

Frank Landry received Sunday a draft for $850 drawn upon the treasury of the United States. This is in payment of the loss sustained by Mr. Landry in the destruction of his house and other property on Bear creek during the war of 1878. He was allowed $940, but $90 went to his attorney. G. D. Richardson also received payment of his claim, about $200.—Pendleton E. O.

It is reported that some mean, contemptible being, or beings, in human form, without the fear of God, man, or the devil, has broken out all the window lights and doors, and otherwise defaced the new Providence church building, recently built. If it is true it is to be hoped that they will be caught, and punished to the full extent of the law.

The bill for extending the incorporate limits of Lebanon has passed both houses, and now awaits the Governor's signature. The legislature saw that the provisions of the bill were just and proper, and did not delay to do the city the justice needed.

J. B. Kelsey left yesterday for his morning claim.

There were several window lights broken out yesterday with snow balls. There ought to be a stop put to this kind of business.

Boys that go to church and misbehave should be arrested and punished for it and the sooner one of our churches makes an example of one of them the better.

W. J. Turnidge has bought Z. Reynolds' delivery and express business and wagon, and will hereafter run both wagons. He will have his brother drive one.

It is reported that some of our citizens living in the eastern part of the city had a quarrel on the street a few evenings ago.

It might be well for a certain person rooming on Main street to remember that school marms are liable to pass at any time and they had better pull down the curtains when they go to undress.

Rev. J. W. Spangler will occupy the pulpit in the Methodist church Sunday morning and evening. The sacrament will be administered after the morning sermon. A cordial invitation to all.

Yesterday morning (Thursday) the ground was covered with snow about 3 inches deep—a great surprise to nearly everybody. As we go to press it is still snowing and is now 6 or 7 inches deep. From all appearances it has come to stay awhile and we are likely to have some sleigh riding before long.

Rev. John Parsons, Presiding Elder of the Salem District, will hold the 2nd Quarterly Meeting in the Methodist church Friday afternoon, Jan. 27, at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Parsons will preach in the evening at 7:30 o'clock. All are cordially invited.

"Mamma was Dinah Moore an awful good woman and did she go to Heaven long ago?" Mamma—Why, George, I don't know anything about her. "Well you just ought to be in church this morning and heard them sing 'I'm going home to Dinah Moore.'"—Ex.

The democratic state executive committee meets in Salem Feb. to decide upon names to be presented to Mr. Cleveland after the 4th of March. Black, of Linn, will receive the endorsement for collector of customs at Portland—a good selection.

A Bargain.
