The citizens of the Seo school district have nearly all signed the petition to the legislature for the issuance of school bonds, but seven or eight refusing. These names together with their reasons for not signing have been taken; and if when they are read by the members of the legislature, the murmur of "newsback" is not heard, we will be surprised.—Seo Press.

Hundreds of feet of the roof on the grand manufacturing building of the World's fair, the largest building in the world, was crushed under the great weight of snow this morning. The agricultural and other buildings were also damaged, and still others are being watched with the utmost anxiety. The damage already amounts to many thousand dollars.

There are now about 265 students in attendance at Chemawa, a much larger number than ever before, and they are pleasant, healthy, wide awake lot of children. "And" adds a correspondent, "those who have been acquainted with this school from the first say it has never before enjoyed the prosperity and greatness that it now enjoys, which speaks volumes for the present management.—Ex.

A man who lives in town and stands high in the church has a poor old mare that he has turned loose to make its own living during the snow storm. He got a boy to drive it out in the country hoping it would die before it could get back. Mike Donnelly found it on his way to town lying in a fence corner almost frozen. He helped it up and got it out in the sun and started it back to town. A Kickapoo Indian would not treat a dumb brute as this Christian gentleman has.

The San Francisco Chronicle is arranging to get out a World's fair edition of 1,000,000 copies. It will contain maps of all the states, and big writeups of every place paying for them, for instance cities like Albany, may be boomed for $1,400. Oregon City proposes to invest one man alone subscribing $200.

Mr. C. F. Davis, editor of the Boonfield, Iowa, Farmer, says: "I can recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to all sufferers with colds and croup. I have used it in my family for the past two years and have found it the best I ever used for the purposes for which it is intended." 50 cent bottles for sale by M. A. Miller.

Several parties in Portland, including Geo. M. Hyland, J. H. Weider and J. M. Hodson, have incorporated the Oregon Advertising Association; capital stock $10,000. Mr. Geo. Hyland has been selected president of the company. They will build a car similar to the Leuk's, that visited Albany, fill it with Oregon products, and visit points throughout the United States. They expect to be on the road by August 1st.

The Jefferson Review tells the following: We are informed by parties in attendance at the dance given at Miller's station Friday night of last week, several lads from Albany, not exceeding 12 or 14 years of age, were in a bad state of intoxication, having to be dragged from where they were lying stupefied, and placed in places of safety. Any dispenser of "bug juice" who sells the vile stuff to children deserves to be punished and in this case are liable to receive it.

The editor of the East Oregonian says that the Oregon militia is composed of spindleshank youths and the entire lot would not keep at bay a couple of our dogs. There is no law to prevent the E. O. man from having his opinion and expressing it, but if he will come over to Joseph he will find in a single company of this despised militia forty men, anyone of whom will convince him of his mistake in about two minutes.—Wallowa Chief-tain.

The horse has good hearing and is easily reached by soft kind words, which please him better than harsh ones. Soft words do not excite and scare him. Yelling at a team does not help to pull the load; it hinders nine cases out of ten. The driver that makes little noise is the one that drives the team that pulls square, holds on like grim death, goes slow and wiggles out. The driver that yells drives the team that see-saws, struggles, flies back and leaves the wagon in the mud. The fact is no horse with brains likes to be yelled at like a prize-fighter.—Ex.

Prof. Michener visited Halsey last Sunday. Call at Ribelin's gallery and look at his work and get his prices on pictures. Crayons a specialty.

Jack Ribelin's friends gathered at the residence of G. H. Weston on Tuesday and gave Jack a surprise party in honor of his 15th birthday. After spending several hours in conversation games, etc., the crowd left wishing Jack many happy birthdays.

There will be services in the First Presbyterian church every Sunday, morning and evening. The evening sermon is especially intended for the young people. Young People's prayer meeting at 7 P. M. on Sundays. All are cordially invited to come and worship with us. Please make yourself known to the Pastor.

EDWARD ECCLESION.

Mr. Albert Favorite, of Arkansas City, Kan., wishes to give our readers the benefit of his experience with colds. He says: "I contracted a cold early last spring that settled on my lungs, and had hardly recovered from it when I caught another that hung on all summer and left me with a hacking cough which I thought I never would get rid of. I had used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy some fourteen years ago with such success and concluded to try it again. When I had got through with one bottle my cough had entirely left me, and I have not suffered with a cough or cold since. I have recommended it to others, and all speak well of it." 50 cent bottles for sale by M. A. Miller.

In the United States district court at Portland yesterday R. K. Montgomery formerly of Albany was arraigned on an indictment charging him with sending an obscene letter through the mails. A plea of not guilty was entered and the trial was set. Prosecuting Atty. Mays appeared for the U. S. and Stephen W. Pipp and J. K. Weatherston for the defendant. The court decided that there was not sufficient proof to show that the letter was written by the defendant, and the law would not allow of his admittedly genuine writing being used to compare with the letter in question to establish his guilt. There was therefore nothing for the United States attorney to do but to enter a "nolo" and Montgomery was discharged.

Two bills have been introduced nearly alike. One provides that "if any person other than an officer on lawful business, accompanied with a gun, pistol or other firearm, shall go or trespass upon any industrial premises or lands, without the consent of the owner or possessor thereof, such trespasser shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than $15, nor more than $50, and in default of the payment of the fine imposed shall be committed to the jail of the county in which the offense is committed for any day for every $2 of the said fine." One of the bills makes it unlawful for hunters to shoot from or upon the lands, road, and dogs trespassing upon the premises or lands of another may be killed by the land owner without further ceremony.

The days have been snowing every body almost, regardless of age or nationality, using little discretion in the matter among others having an extrajude for the Chinaman. Last night a Mongolian went along the street with his hand on a revolver with the avowed purpose of shooting if not let alone. He was not disturbed. Snowballing is all right; in the right place when the fight is even, and the contest fair; but it is cowardly to hit a man in the back, or older men and Chinamen anywhere. Several boys attacked a Chinaman belonging to the Ferry Street house, and it is claimed broke one of his ribs. An attack on Prof. Torbett, of the College resulted in the Professor's glasses being broken. Complaint was made for warrants in such case; but it is always difficult to place the offenders and no arrests have been made.—Democrat.
