The Governor has vetoed the World's Fair bill, and could not resist the inclination to bring in his favorite word "hoodler." The Governor is the loudest calamity howler on the coast. His usefulness as a democrat is gone. The populists will have to walk mighty straight if they wish to retain the Governor's good will.
Mr. C. F. Davis, editor of the Boomfield, Iowa, Farmer, says: "I can recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to all sufferers with colds and croup. The bell telephone patent expires in a few weeks, and then the prices on telephones will drop. No other telephones could be used as long as this patent held good, but now that its time is gone a great variety of phones will doubtless be placed on the market. A company has been organized in Chicago with $8,000,000 capital to engage in the telephone business.
The Oregon City murderer, Wm. Henderson, did not hang on Jan. 24, as was decreed by the court. The jury found him guilty of murder in the first degree and the judge sentenced him to be hanged on Jan. 24, 1893, but the lawyers have secured an extension of time and will try to get a new trial and it is probable that the man will not be hanged at all.

EDWARD ECCLESTON.

Rev. Plowman passed through here a few days ago on his way home. He has been down in Kings Valley, Benton County, helping Rev. Yost, formerly of Sweet Home, hold a revival meeting. He says the meeting was a grand success. We are informed that he and Rev. Babor are holding a revival meeting at Sodaville at present.
The EXPRESS has always used its best endeavors to advance the interest of Lebanon. It frequently urged the erection of electric lights. All are well pleased with the result of that enterprise. It has also urged the erection of water works. It now would urge upon the council the propriety of encouraging the speedy procurement of this much needed improvement. The reasons in favor of water works are, if possible, greater than for electric lights. Let not the city lose the present opportunity to obtain good water. We must have it.
Thursday's Oregonian has the following to say of M. A. Miller: "Representative Miller put another of his general measures through the house this morning. It simplifies pleadings in justice courts and is designed in the interests of justice, and for the protection of poor men, unjustly or through misunderstanding, sued. The plaintiff may file his account and the defendant his cross-bill or counter-claim without the elaborate procedure which now requires each to employ an attorney. There is no variation from existing statutes in regard to payment of fees.
Mr. Albert Favorite, of Arkansas City, Kan., wishes to give our readers the benefit of his experience with colds. He says: "I contracted a cold early last spring that settled on my lungs, and had hardly recovered from it when I caught another that hung on all summer and left me with a hacking cough which I thought I never would get rid of. I had used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy some fourteen years ago with much success, and concluded to try it again. When I had got through with one bottle my cough had entirely left me, and I have not suffered with a cough or cold since. I have recommended it to others, and all speak well of it." 50 cent bottles for sale by M. A. Miller.
For a month or more the police officers have been receiving complaints from parents about an old man who has been in the habit of enticing their little daughters away to some secluded spot, where he would take liberties with the persons of the young and innocent little ones. Marshal Minto and Capt. Dilley "spotted" their man and yesterday caught him at his scoundrel work under the sawmill with a little girl. The criminal is an old gray haired man, Wm. Abbott by name, who is above 60 years of age. The old sinner cried when arrested. "He is insane, no doubt, and will have an examination before recorder Edes, charged with having committed an outrage against public decency and injurious to public morals.—Salem Statesman.
Mrs. May C. Jones, the evangelist and daughter, commenced meetings at the Baptist church last Thursday evening and are having a crowded house every night and have aroused considerable interest. They will give one of their stereopticon entertainments next Monday, Feb. 13, at the Baptist church. The Brownsville Times has the following to say about her entertainments at that place. Her stereopticon lecture Monday evening was a grand success, being new, novel and instructive to old and young. The opera house was well filled and she proved herself well posted on the subject she handled, which was a trip from Portland to Jerusalem and through the Holy Land. Those who have had the pleasure of listening to her will not soon forget the impressiveness of her speech and ways.

Wants The Postoffice.
The editor of the Sions (Cal.) paper wants the postoffice and wants it bad. Just listen to him.
"Some surprise has been evinced that I should aspire for the postoffice. It is not selfishness that prompts me to seek the position but an earnest desire to give the people the best postal service possible. It is reported that my opponent intends giving to each purchaser of 25 cents worth of stamps a nickel-plated parlor stove if he should receive the appointment. If I receive the appointment I shall print all my own stamps and sell them to customers at ten cents a hundred, regardless of denomination. I shall employ the best looking male and female assistance obtainable. Their duties will be to write messages to people who constantly expect letters and never receive any, and to serve patrons with free oysters and ice cream at noon and evenings. Havana cigars will be found at the stamp window. The office will be open every day except during the fishing season, when mail will be delivered promptly each week. I shall ignore the four pound limit and accept for mailing, trunks, valises and all kinds of machinery that will go into the mailing car. The rates of postage on the above, which comes under the head of second class matter, will be one cent on the ounce. f. o. b. Money orders issued must be paid for every sixty days unless special arrangements are made. Live stock and children may be mailed at pound rates—that is male live stock and children. Can any man do more?"

Burglary.
On Saturday night the store of T. L. Wallace & Co., now in the care of Sheriff Jackson, was discovered to have been entered.
Night-Engineer, C. O. Lee, in passing the place found the door on trial to be fast and all right. On returning half an hour later found the door unlocked and ajar. He blew his whistle, and getting help to watch the place went to the jail for Sheriff Jackson, and they returned and searched the store but made no discoveries except one overcoat on the floor. The next day, however, a closer search showed that nine pair of the highest priced shoes had been abstracted. In the rear of the store near the back door one of the shoes was found, but the back door was fastened on the inside regularly and tight, and what the festive thief wanted to close it up after he had once opened it, and return through the store and pass out the front door, is hard to understand. Evidently he had made just such a move for one of the nine pair of shoes he took was lying just outside of the back door.
But one conclusion can be arrived at and that is, the burglars are not strangers to the city, but evidently lived close enough to take in all the surroundings and are thoroughly well posted. This burglary, as well as several other small ones, demonstrates that fact. It was no stranger from abroad that took in Mr. Conrad Meyer's house several days ago, and the later ones on Saturday evinced that they were well informed as to the circumstances and conditions attending this store.—Albany Herald.
