Waterloo Factory.

On last Friday, while at Waterloo, we were shown, through the hose factory by the genial superintendent Mr. W. E. Bundy and as this was our first trip through such a mill, we were more than delighted. The machinery was mostly all running getting ready to start work. Last Monday one carling and spinning machine was already at work. Mr. Bundy informed us that he would take in about 12 girls Monday to learn them, and increase the number as fast as he could learn them, until he had 150 girls at work. Mr. Bundy has worked in a similar factory for a number of years in California, and seems to be well acquainted with all of its departments. He will have charge of the knitting department when the factory gets to running in full force. Mr. B. says that they will turn out 125 pairs of hose a day when they get to running. Persons who have been predicting that this factory would never start up, will have to take it back. They have a 125 horse power water wheel which is furnishing just twice the power it takes to run the factory.

THE WESTERN PEDAGOGUE.

State School Journal of Oregon.

We are in receipt of the May number of our state school paper. It exceeds any of the former number in value. The paper this month contains many new and valuable features. The illustrated series on the schools of the state is introduced by a paper on the Friends' Polytechnic Institute at Salem, Oregon. These papers cannot fail to be of great value both to the schools and to the public.

There are also several fine articles by our best writers and the Departments, "Current Events," "Saturday Thoughts," "Educational News," "The Oracle Answers Correspondents," etc., each contain much valuable reading for teacher or parent. The magazine has about 50 pages of matter, well printed and arranged. We pronounce the Western Pedagogue the best educational monthly on the coast.

Every one of our readers should have the paper if they are at all interested in education. No teacher, school director or student can get along without it. We will receive subscriptions at this office. Price only $1 a year. Call and examine sample copies. Teachers, directors and parents, now is the time to subscribe.

Photographs.

You can get better cabinet size pictures at Crawford & Paxton's in Albany for $1.50 per dozen than at other galleries for any price. Our work is guaranteed. Permanent gallery established for 23 years. No poor work allowed to go out. Come and see us, Albany, 1st street. Next door Masonic Temple.

In Memoriam.

WHEREAS, It has pleased the Deviser Ruler to permit death to come to our Brother, J. B. Thompson's family, by the loss of their son Guy, who departed this life on the 14th day of May, 1893.

Resolved, That we as a Lodge extend our heartfelt sympathy to the sorrowing family in the loss of their son Guy.

Resolved, That a copy of the resolutions be sent to the bereaved family, and spread upon the records of our Lodge, No. 38, A. O. U. W., and published in the Lebanon papers and the Albany Herald.

G. T. COTTON.

The following are the resolutions by the Y. P. S. C. E. in memory of Guy Thompson:
 Inasmuch as God the Father has seen fit to take from our midst our dearly loved friend and brother, Guy Thompson, we, the Y. P. S. C. E. of the First Presbyterian Church, of Lebanon, Oregon, unanimously pass the following resolutions:

First, That our hearts go out in sympathy and love to his family so sorely bereaved, and pray that God in his love and mercy will cherish and aid them so that their broken hearts may be healed, and that at last they may meet him on the other shore.

Second, That we, his fellow members, bow before Him in humiliation and love, thanking Him that He has spared so many of us, and we do humbly pray that His goodness and mercy may still be round about us wherever we may be. "May the Lord watch between me and thee when we are absent one from another."

M. A. Miller is just in receipt of a complete line of carriage paint and varnish.

Dr. E. R. Barker returned to Lebanon this week from his prospecting tour. He reports having had fairly good luck and a fine time.

There will be a mass-meeting this (Friday) evening in the City Hall, for the purpose of making arrangements for celebrating the fourth of July, and to appoint committees, etc. There has been a liberal amount subscribed. Let everybody turn out.

Services in the Methodist Church Sunday May 21. Sunday school at 10 a m Preaching at 11 am Junior League at 3 p m Epworth League at 6:30 p m Preaching at 7:30 p m. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend these services. PASTOR.

One of our young lady school teachers was seen going to school rather late on Tuesday morning and on inquiring the cause we found that the Deputy prosecuting Atty. had "been down the night before to interview her, and had tarried rather late.

Mrs. G. A. Cheney of Mill City, wife of the genial editor of the Gazette, was in our city this week trying to secure a painting class. She was also canvassing for a fine grade of paint. Owing to the dull times she failed to get the class, but informed us she would be back in the fall and try to get a class.

The R. E. M. D. N. L. musical society, consisting of Jessie Ralston, Pauline Adams, Pet Smith, Lella Westfall, Lida Eaton and Tot Cowan, are to give a grand concert in the Band Hall, Thursday evening, May 25th. The program will consist of solos, duets, choruses, tableaux, and pantomimes. This is the first concert ever given in this city by children of this age, and their elders may well look to their laurels. Look out for the programs. Come one come all.

A Sad Accident.

Some after 12 o'clock on Saturday of the past week, Guy Thompson, a pupil of the our public school, and son of our recent fellow towns-man, J. B. Thompson, lost his life through a lamentable accident.

He had been excused from school somewhat earlier than usual Friday evening and through the kindness of Rev. Eccleston was enabled to ride out to his home near Spicer. Saturday morning he went over to his uncle's, James Wallace, taking with him the ball that caused his death. During the noon hour, he and two of his cousins were playing, throwing the ball from one to another. After a few minutes he quit, saying his hands were too soft, but remained watching the other boys playing. While standing near Robert Walker a cry of alarm from the latter caused him to dodge his head in the way of the ball, which struck him just above the left eye, staggering him but not knocking him down. Going into the house, he washed himself and ate dinner. Soon after dinner he took a team and went to the field to plow for his uncle. About 2 o'clock he came in and said his head hurt him so much he couldn't plow, and was told to lie down and keep quiet. He vomited frequently during the afternoon and toward evening became delirious. Dr. J. P. Wallace of Albany was called and did all in his power to relieve his suffering, but he continued unconscious till his death at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The ball had ruptured a small blood vessel of the brain causing internal hemorrhage of that organ.

He was buried in the Masonic cemetery near Lebanon, Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The funeral was impressive and largely attended. At two o'clock the children of the public school to the number of 120 formed in a column of twos and marched to the Presbyterian church where they were joined by the Christian Endeavor Society, of which the deceased was an associate member, and proceeded to the cemetery where they formed a half square about the open grave. The funeral services, conducted by Rev. Lunar assisted by Rev. Eccleston, were simple and affecting. The floral tokens were numerous and beautiful. The grave being literally covered with flowers.

Guy was a model student, energetic and diligent in the pursuit of knowledge, kind and agreeable with his school-mates, doing the right for the right's sake and seeking the truth in all things. He was a leading member of the class to be graduated from the public school in June, and his death is sadly felt in the class-room and lamented by teacher and pupil alike. No boy stood higher in the estimation of the community than he and the bereaved family have the deep sympathy of all in this their sad affliction.

The following resolutions were read and adopted by the pupils of the Lebanon Public School:
 WHEREAS, An all wise providence has seen fit through death to remove from our midst our loved friend and class-mate, James Guy Thompson,
 Therefore be it resolved, that we will hold in loving remembrance his many virtues as a student and friend,
 Resolved, That as a student he was studious, diligent and attentive, an earnest seeker after knowledge for the good he might do. As a class-mate he was kind, agreeable and sympathetic.
 Resolved furthermore, That we commend his example and character as a worthy model to be followed by us all as students and class-mates, and extend to the bereaved and sorrowing parents, sister, brother and friends our earnest expressions of sympathy in this their sad home of sorrow and trial.

More Detective Work.

Last Friday Sam'l Crow—alias Lense, and Mrs. Govro, were arrested at Newport on the charge of murdering John Lovell, who was found dead in his cabin about the 1st of March. They were brought to Lebanon Monday morning by Sheriff Jackson, and brought before Justice of the Peace Elson. On account of having to summon more witnesses the trial was put off until 3 o'clock. Deputy Prosecuting Atty. Wyatt represented the State, while Judge Whitney represented the defendant. The remainder of the afternoon and until 10 that night was taken up in the examination of witnesses for the State at which time court adjourned until 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, at which time the State called one more witness. This concluded all of the evidence for the State. The attorney for the defence then moved that the case be dismissed. After hearing the arguments the Justice dismissed the prisoners. The State introduced some strong circumstantial evidence, but we are of the same opinion as Justice Elson, that the evidence was not strong enough to hold them. The State introduced 11 witnesses.

The Newspaperman's Cry.

News, news, news, news! Its enough to give a fellow the blues. Nobody married and nobody dead, nobody broken an arm or a head. Nobody come in to talk of the 'cran', no one got becasey and started a 'scrap', no one got run in for taking a horn, nobody buried and nobody born. Oh! for a racket, a riot, a fuss! Some one to come in and kick up a muss, somebody to stir up the peace-laden air, somebody comes to give us a scare. Somebody thumped within an inch of his life, some o' e run off with another man's wife; some one's heart broken and mended again, somebody's baby got clocked on a pin; some one to come in pay up his dues; anything, anything, just so it's news.—Ex.

Horrible Accident.

The Junction City Times gives the following account of the terrible accident to Morgan Hoult: "Morgan Hoult, a brakeman, whose run is from this place to Portland met with an accident that may cost him his life. The train arrived here about on time and he jumped off to fly-switch a caboose. The caboose was so close that the fly could not be made, and Mr. Hoult attempted to board the front steps, but missed this footing somehow and fell forward in front of the caboose, the wheels entting one leg off all but a shred and horribly mangling the other. Kindly hands carried him to the residence of John Baker, where everything possible is being done to relieve his sufferings. He is a young man in the prime of life. He was born and raised near here and has friends without number."

Peculiar Proceedings.

Says the Solo Press: On Monday night about 11 p. m. two charges of giant powder were fired in the alley just back of the bank. The reports were so heavy that several persons went to investigate. The hole in the ground and the piece of burned fuse showed where the noise was made. If they were fired by some of the boys or young men, for the purpose of creating a sensation, the perpetrator if found out should be heavily fined, or what is better, given a number of days in the cooler. Possibly it was done for the purpose of getting the people accustomed to shots fired at night so that no one will investigate and later on the shots may be fired inside of the bank instead of outside. Our citizens should be alert and locate if possible the persons of who is guilty of disturbing the peace.
