Bank Failure.

Last Tuesday J. L. Cowan made a deed of trust to all of his property at this place, both real estate and personal property, to J. M. Srtle, J. A. Roberts, and W. B. Donaca. This is to secure Lebanon depositors only. They have opened up the bank and are now taking an inventory of the assets and liabilities of this place. They have not got far enough along yet to make a statement but informed us that they thought they would be able to pay the depositors a good deal more than was at first expected.

Before this deed of trust was made Sheriff Jackson came out to Lebanon and with the assistance of Dr. Foley, P. M. Smith and W. M. Brown, after going through the notes and accounts of the bank made a statement of the assets and liabilities of the bank, which is approximately as follows: Gross assets, $78,000; of this the bank property is court at $8000; J. L. Cowan owes $42,000 to the bank of Lebanon; over drafts of upwards of $22,000, and the balance in notes. The liabilities gross are $52,000, including about $24,000 to depositors, $19,000 to the Linn County National bank and the balance to other creditors.

It is the general impression that since Mr. Cowan has let things get in the shape he has, that he is trying to do the right thing by the depositors.

Here is a case of very close to the twelfth hour repentance: People at Drain Sunday, June 11, witnessed a scene that does not often occur. An old man was there baptised by immersion into the Christian church. He has passed the century post in life, being nearly 102 years of age. Mr. Brown is in feeble health requiring assistance to get around. He says he has lived long enough and would meet death with feelings of pleasure.

A woman tramp, seventy-two years old, rode in on Wednesday evening's train. She wore a rusty black dress and straw hat, while her face is wrinkled by the marks of age and hardship, she is very cheery and active. She hails from Pittsburgh Pa., and is traveling extensively, riding when possible, walking when necessary.—EX.

Sodaville Will Celebrate.

All necessary arrangements have been made for a grand 4th of July celebration to be held in Hale's grove in the south western part of Sodaville, Linn county, Oregon. Their bills can be seen all over Linn county at every cross road and corner.

Among other precautions great care will be taken that the tank shall be filled with that health restoring fluid, sodawater, which is now being shipped all over the coast.

Hon. M. A. Miller, orator of the day, aided by several other prominent speakers will entertain the people from 10 a. m. till dinner. After dinner the exercises will continue. See posters. By order of committee.

The Deadmond boys now have their drive of seven million feet of logs in the river and are running them down, covering about a mile and a half a day, which is good time with such a large drive. They have twenty-two men engaged in driving. Some of the logs are for the mills at Coburg and some go to Corvallis and some to Harrisburg. Booms have been put in the river at the race leading to the Coburg mill and the logs are here separated. The drives were at Anderson's place up the river Tuesday night.—Eugene Register.

Dr. M. J. Davis is a prominent physician of Lewis, Cass county, Iowa, and has been actively engaged in the practice of medicine for the past thirty-five years. On the 26th of May, while in Des Moines, en route to Chicago, he was suddenly taken with an attack of diarrhoea. Having sold Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for the past seventeen years, and knowing its reliability, he procured a twenty-five cent bottle, two doses of which completely cured him. The excitement and change of water incident to traveling often produces a diarrhoea. Every one should procure a bottle of this Remedy before leaving home. For sale by M. A. Miller, druggist.

Junction City Times: Thos. Allen, of Long Tom, had a narrow escape from death Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Allen were away from home and on their return Mrs. Allen baked some gems for breakfast. They tasted peculiar and Mrs. Allen declined to eat them. Mr. Allen, however, continued his meal, and in a short time thereafter became quite sick. Dr. Lee was sent for, and by his timely arrival he was enabled to counteract the influence of the poison. The gems were thrown out and it was but a short time till the dog and cat were stretched out in death. Upon examination it was discovered the gems contained strychnine in deadly quantities. The gems were made from batter kept in a jar, and the presumption is that the strychnine was placed in the jar during their absence. They have no idea who committed the dastardly act or why any one should wish to take their lives.

Presenting Checks.

As a good many cases have occurred in Lebanon we give the following in reference to the presentation of checks, taken from the Lawyers, column, Portland Telegram: Inasmuch as the failure of the bank before presentation is the principal, if not the inevitable, occasion of loss from neglect or delay of presentment, almost any delay is likely to produce the loss; and hence; but a limited time is given in which to make presentment, the length of time varying with the persons between whom the question arises. If persons to whom you gave the checks reside at the same place as the bank is situated they have all the next day in which to make presentment, and if presentment is delayed beyond the business hours of the next day, and the bank fails in the meantime, the loss falls on the holder of the check, not you; where the payee receives the check at a distance from the place where the bank is situated; he has the whole of the day after receiving it in which to forward the check for presentment through an appropriate channel, by mail or express, to the place where the bank is situated, and the person to whom it is sent for presentment has the next day after receiving it in which to make the presentment; and any loss from a failure of the bank during the time thus required for the transportation of the check would fall on the drawer; if the party who receives the check resides in the country away from the post-office, the rule as to diligence in forwarding the check for presentment is not so strictly enforced as in other cases.

The Ashland Tidings tells the following: Geo. Farlow, who was in town this week from the ranch of Farlow Bros. on upper Butte creek, tells of some fun the ranchers of that neighborhood have been having with bears this spring and summer. A big grizzly whose tracks in the snow measured twelve inches in diameter has been living on fresh beef waiting for berries to ripen. He has killed at least five head of cattle in the neighborhood—three of them three year old steers and one a big cow with a bell on her. Messrs. George Perry Farlow, W. H. Bradshaw, Hank Wright and others have spent several weeks trying to capture the grizzly, but couldn't do it. They set a big steel trap which the grizzly would haul around, knocking down and dragging about the logs which had been piled around it. The trap was sprung by him four different times, but failed to catch him, though it caught a big brown bear, which the men killed. Dogs would trail the grizzly but couldn't bring him to a stand, and from the direction of his trail followed, he was making for the Dead Indian country. He is a monster and is one of the very few grizzlies left to roam the Section of Cascades and Siskiyou mountains which thirty years ago was a favorite resort of this largest and fiercest of the numerous bears of America.

Mr. Morgan Holt, who lost one leg in switching cars at Junction City, is about on crutches in the hospital in Portland, and will soon be able to go to his home in Harrisburg.
