A P Blackburn vs E R Case and C H Goup, confirmation; sale confirmed.

Estate of Otto Serfling; order of probate entered.

State vs Wa Yuen, Lorn Sick, Hon Chor; Lorn Sick plead guilty and fined $100. Indictment dismissed as to Wa Yuen and Hon Chor.

In the circuit court Andrew L. Arnold, convicted of arson for burning the barn of Alexander McDonald, was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary, and was taken to Salem by the Sheriff.

Sullivan, the Chinaman, who plead guilty to assault with intent to kill a Chinese woman with a knife, was sent up for two years.

Case against E J Lanning settled, and receiver of Isom, Lanning & Co discharged.

Ella Kleinhammer vs Fred Kleinhammer, divorce; divorce granted plaintiff without costs.

OP Burkhardt vs Nellie C Burkhardt, divorce; divorce granted with costs.

M L Curcio vs A T Curcio, divorce; divorce granted.

W B Peacock vs Snodgrass Bros, et al, recovery of money, attachment; on trial.

In the circuit court Saturday, the case of the injunction suit of D. C. Sherman, of Salem, vs A. J. Bellows and other trustees of the Soldier's Home, restraining the state from locating the home at Roseburg came up before Judge Barnett. The case was submitted without argument. A demurrer was overruled and a permanent injunction granted. The case was at once taken to the supreme court. The decision, if sustained by the supreme court, will be sweeping in its character, as it would involve the legality of the location of any other state institution at any other place than the state capitol. The wishes of the people, as shown heretofore in the location of various state institutions at several towns besides Salem, seems to be that all such state institutions should not be at the capitol, and if this is to be the construction of the state on this point a constitutional convention will doubtless be called soon to remedy it.

J. C. Boyd, of Springfield colony scheme and other things of like nature has commenced suit against E. W. Allen and wife to recover $20,000. It is claimed that defendant, by word of mouth and by letters written, were instrumental in preventing Boyd being put in charge of the horticultural display in the Oregon building at the World's fair grounds. As a result Boyd estimates his pecuniary loss by failing to secure the position and the detriment he alleges his good name to have suffered thereby at $20,000. The trouble, it is said, had its origin during the cotton exposition at New Orleans several years ago.—Register.

C. R. Carter, alias Rose, the murderer who achieved considerable notoriety in Portland and Salem last January, has again been respited. His execution was due last Friday, but it is understood that the event has been postponed until July 13. Carter, alias Rose was arrested at Portland by Detective Simons, on a charge of murder, committed many years ago at Lawrence county, Mo. He at first denied his identity and all knowledge of the crime of which he was charged. However, after the arrival of the officers from Missouri, who knew him personally, the prisoner gave in and confessed he was the fugitive wanted. In his case the "law's tedious delay" seems to cut a very prominent figure.

A shooting bee, at which no one was hurt, occurred at Sweet Home yesterday. The result will be a forced visit of some one to Lebanon, and possibly to Albany.

Frank Kruse, who lives near Boon's ferry, Clackamas county, underwent a surgical operation a few days ago at St. Vincent's hospital. For a long time he has had an abnormal growth of the abdomen, so much so that it reached nearly to his knees when standing erect. The operation consisted in making a transverse incision and removing about fifty pounds of fat. The patient withstood the operation with the aid of an anesthetic and is now apparently doing well, with every prospect of recovery. There are but few similar cases on record.—Portland Dispatch.

We heard of a serious runaway, that of J. J. Hollida had at Muddy creek, bridge near his farm. While driving upon the bridge a China pheasant flew up scaring his team. The team started to run, when one of the horses jumped off of the bridge and was instantly killed. Mr. Hollida was violently thrown from the back, but not badly hurt. How one horse can get loose from another when both were harnessed seems queer. Mr. Hollida was in luck not get killed himself.—Halsey News.
