How is Thi s?

Something unique even in these days of mammoth premium offers, it is the latest effort of Stafford's Magazine, a New York monthly of home and general reading.

The proposition is to send the Magazine one year for one dollar the regular subscription price; and in addition to send each subscriber fifty-two complete novels during the twelve months—one each week.

Think of it. You receive a new and complete novel by mail, post paid, every week for fifty-two weeks, and in addition you get the magazine once a month, for twelve months, all for one dollar. It is an offer which the publisher can only afford to make in the confident expectation of getting a hundred thousand new subscribers. Among the authors of the coming series are, Wilkie Collins, Walter Besant, Mrs. Oliphant, Mary Cecil Hay, Florence Marryat, Anthony Trollope, A. Conan Doyle, Miss Braddon, Captain Marryat, Miss Thackeray and Julie Verne. If you wish to take advantage of this unusual opportunity, send one dollar for Stafford's Magazine one year. Your first copy of the magazine and your first number of the fifty-two novels (one each week) which you are to receive during the year will be sent you by return mail. Remit by E. O. order, registered letter or express. Address

Another Bear Story.

The Scio Press comes to the front with the following bear story:

Master John Goodman, of Jordan, aged not quite 12 years, is the most successful bear hunter, of any that we have heard of lately. Last week hearing that bears were making sad havoc with a neighbor's wheat field, he taking his own and Mr. Alfred Shelton's dogs proceeded to the field where brain was doing so much damage. As a result of the morning's chase, he had bagged 2 full grown black bears and 2 cubs. The following morning he succeeded in killing another bear. John's success in bear hunting will probably cause other Jordan boys to turn almost green with envy and is an achievement of which he can boast unblushingly.

Frank Bolter of Brooks has seven acres planted to onions this year and from present indications he expects to harvest at least 5000 bushels. Onions weigh 57 pounds to the bushel and this would make the yield for the seven acres 285,000 pounds, or about 40,714 pounds to the acre. These onions will no doubt bring three cents per pound by the time they are ready to be marketed, thus making the returns for the seven acres net the sum of $8,550, or $1,221.42 per acre in round numbers. This is sufficient argument to convince anyone that the raising of onions in Oregon is very profitable. Mr. Bolter's onion patch lies in what was formerly Lake Labish and is a rich land as is to be found anywhere, being what is known as beaver dam land. The varieties of onions grown by him this year embrace the Yellow Globe Danvers and Red Wetherfield, the leading varieties of winter onions. —Salem Statesman.

Toledo and Cincinnati have joined hands in another agitation of the ship canal scheme across Ohio, and funds have even been started, it is said, to provide for a survey of the route.
