Everybody Likes Her.

There is a type of girl that everybody likes. Nobody can tell exactly why, but after you have met her you turn away to some other woman and say, "Don't you like Miss Grosvenor?" Now, the reason you like her is a subtle one; without knowing all about her you feel just the sort of a girl she is.

She is a girl who appreciates the fact that she cannot have the first choice of everything in the world.

She is the girl who is not aggressive and does not find joy in inciting aggressive people.

She is the girl who has tact enough not to say the very thing that will cause the skeleton in her friend's closet to rattle his bones.

She is the girl who, when you invite her to any place, compliments you by looking her best.

And by-the-by, when you come to think of it, isn't she the girl who makes you feel she likes you, and therefore you like her?—Ex.

It is reported that an Atlanta lawyer dislocated his arm while making a gesture to emphasize his speech recently.

The man who sends his money abroad should suffer the embarrassment of not being allowed credit at home. Some people think the home merchant is simply a creature of convenience. When they want credit they obtain it from the home merchant; when they have money they send away for what they want.—Ex.

Early Tuesday morning J. R. Whitney, editor of the Herald, C. W. Watta, Edward Zeyss, Sr. and Jr., D. D. Hackleman and Judge Straban, arrived in Lebanon, stopping for breakfast, on their way to the mountains on a deer hunt. They were joined at this place by J. W. Guy and son Ed, Bill Lewis and Jack McMonagle. They intend going as far as Upper Soda, and say that it is to be a regular old-fashioned deer hunt. We wish them success but predict that we will have some big deer stories when they return.

After reading the following from the Harrisburg Courier, Oregon farmers ought to feel contented: "S. R. Rogers and family have been camped at Dr. Davis' hop yard since last Saturday. Mr. Rogers and his people came from Furnas county, Neb., by team and were several weeks on the road. Mr. Rogers says he has come to make his home here and doubted not that he would like this country. He informed us that their only fuel in that part of the country is corn. From over a hundred acres of wheat, two years ago, he harvested fifteen bushels, and that had to be cut with a mower and raked by hand. Last winter his stock at one time had to remain three days without food or water; the stables were only a few rods from the house, but a blizzard of such magnitude was raging that it was absolutely impossible for any one to be out of doors, even for an instant. Is it any wonder that Mr. Rogers believes he will like Oregon and her climate?"

A Pendleton gentleman who has just returned from the Grande Ronde valley is authority for the statement that the farmers of that section of the state will resist the collection of debts, if commenced before wheat appreciates in price. They complain that wheat brings from three to four cents less in La Grande than in Pendleton. With the highest market price there at thirty cents, they argue that they are justified in demanding an indefinite extension of time. They will act jointly in the matter, first asking for consideration at the hands of the creditor class. Should there be any tendency to "crowd the mourners" they will march in a body, or by proxy in the shape of a committee of representative farmers, to the county court house and inform the sheriffs and deputies that attempts to serve attachments and executions will be met by the most earnest protests. And any move towards selling under execution will be the signal for a small-sized rebellion, in which words will be scarce, and not cold, but hot lead will predominate.

Sheriff's Sale.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for the County of Marion.
 M. L. Rineman Plaintiff

vs.
 Mrs. Susan Peebler Defendant.
 Notice is hereby given that by virtue of an Execution and order of a sale duly issued out of the above named court in the above entitled action to me directed and delivered, I will on Saturday the 23rd day of September, 1893; at the front door of the court house in the city of Albany, Linn County, Oregon, at the hour of one o'clock P. M. of said day, sell at public auction for cash in hand to the highest bidder, all the right, title and interest of the above named defendant, Susan Peebler, in and to the real property heretofore attached in the above entitled action the same being described as follows to-wit:

Beginning at the north-east corner of block five (5) in J. M. Raiston's 3rd addition to the town (now city) of Lebanon according to the original maps and plats thereof now of record in the Recorder's office in Albany, Linn County, Oregon, and running due south fifty-six and two-thirds feet, thence due west to the west line of said block; thence north fifty-six and two-thirds feet to the north-west corner of said block; thence due east to the place of beginning, all of the said property being situated in the city of Lebanon, County of Linn, and State of Oregon. The proceeds of said sale will be applied, first, to the payment of the original costs and disbursements of said suit taxed at $24.10 and the accruing cost of and upon said execution. Second, to the payment of the plaintiff's claim amounting to the sum of $129.07 in U. S. gold coin with interest thereon at the rate of 8 per cent. per annum in like coin from the 14th day of July 1893 and the overplus if any to be paid to the defendant, Susan Peebler.

Dated this 17th day of August, 1893.
 C. C. JACKSON
 Sheriff of Linn County, Oregon.

How is This?

Something unique even in these days of mammoth premium offers, it is the latest effort of Stafford's Magazine, a New York monthly of home and general reading.

The proposition is to send the Magazine one year for one dollar the regular subscription price; and in addition to send each subscriber fifty-two complete novels during the twelve months—one each week.

Think of it. You receive a new and complete novel by mail, post paid, every week for fifty-two weeks, and in addition you get the magazine once a month, for twelve months, all for one dollar. It is an offer which the publisher can only afford to make in the confident expectation of getting a hundred thousand new subscribers. Among the authors of the coming series are, Wilkie Collins, Walter Besant, Mrs. Oliphant, Mary Cecil Hay, Florence Marryat, Anthony Trollope, A. Conan Doyle, Miss Braddon, Captain Marryat, Miss Thackeray and Julie Verne. If you wish to take advantage of this unusual opportunity, send one dollar for Stafford's Magazine one year. Your first copy of the magazine and your first number of the fifty-two novels (one each week) which you are to receive during the year will be sent you by return mail. Remit by P. O. order, registered letter or express. Address
