The Ladies' Bazaar of Albany has again added a millinery department, and has secured the services of a first-class trimmer from San Francisco. Call around and see them when in Albany.

J. E. Adcox's family arrived in the city the first of the week. The Champion Mill flour is the best in the market. Try it. C. E. Pugh has rented and moved into the F. A. Swan house. Have you examined those new summer suits at S. P. Bach's. Rev. Beattie has been quite sick of late, but is now improving. Cash paid for produce at Peebler's grocery store; highest market price. Mrs. J. H. P. Hope, who has been quite sick again, we are glad to report better. We will take wheat, oats or hay in payment for subscription for the EXPRESS. B. S. Roberts has rented Dr. Hope's fish market, and has taken possession of the premises. Mr. Pugh is acting as city treasurer, and S. M. Garland as school clerk, in the absence of J. A. Roberts. A boarding house in San Francisco, filled with non-union sailors, was blown up Saturday by union sailors. Thanking my many friends and customers for past favors I beg a continuance of the same, and in future as in the past I guarantee perfect satisfaction in every instance. J. E. ADCOX, The Watch-maker, At South's Drug Store. Isaac Benjamin returned home last Saturday from Portland. Rumor has it that it is something more than business that attracts him down there. Send your name and address to Read Peacock & Co., Albany, Oregon, and mention the EXPRESS, they will mail you a fashion sheet free each month. Licenses have been issued for the marriage of Geo. F. Shaw and Nellie M. Ritter, I. R. Devine and Henrietta Smith, J. B. Putnam and Nellie M. Russell. Another letter from James J. Charlton, who went to Silver City, New Mexico, to regain his health, brings the gratifying intelligence that he is improving and gaining strength. The EXPRESS again calls the attention of the road supervisors to the condition of some of the roads leading into Lebanon. Winter is now approaching and we certainly need some work done on these roads. The following birth notice is taken from the Albany Democrat: "Smiley—On Tuesday morning, Sept. 20, 1893, in Albany, to Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Smiley, their first child, Mabel V., weight 10 1/2 pounds. All doing well." The Ladies' Bazaar of Albany have received their fall stock of Cloaks, Capes, Wraps, etc., all of the latest styles and fashions, which they propose to sell at hard times prices. Call and see the latest styles. Mr. H. M. Perry, who has been absent for the past year, most of the time in Ellenburg, Wash., returned to Lebanon last week in response to a telegram that his son was dangerously ill. His son is now improving. Mr. Frank Davis was in town last week. He informed us that he had sold out his business in Winchester, and with his father would move back to Lebanon in a few weeks, where he would reside for the present, at least. All parties indebted to Cruson & Menzies for twine, will take notice that one cent per lb. and interest will be added after Oct. 1. These are the conditions we will have to comply with and we don't wish to slight our customers. Chas. S. Sherman, a sign writer and painter, is missing from Medford. The business men of that town probably patronized tramp sign painters, and the man has been compelled to join the "great army" to make a living.—Guard. Word has been received in Albany announcing the death in Oklahoma of Mrs. Delia Kyle, wife of Robert Kyle. Mrs. Kyle was a sister of Mrs. Frank Wheeler, and Mr. Kyle was a sewing machine collector with E. U. Will a couple of years ago. Billy Taylor, the "hobo" printer, claiming to be of the San Francisco Examiner, made us a call the first of the week. This is the first tramp printer that ever struck this part of the "digging" that wanted union price in a small town. He is headed for Portland—so he says. At an adjourned meeting of the city council last Tuesday night the bonds of Parlor & Matthews were accepted, and the recorder was ordered to issue them a liquor license for the coming six months. This was all the business that was transacted, with the exception of a couple of small bills that were allowed.

Buy your groceries at Peebler's, and save money. Bud Thompson has been quite sick for the past week. A great reduction in prices of goods at Read, Peacock & Co.'s. Call and examine my new stock of spring clothing. S. P. BACH. There is to be a masquerade ball at Waterloo next Friday night, Sept. 29. J. E. Adcox, the watch-maker, carries a fine line of spectacles and eye-glasses. Claud Davis left the city Tuesday without letting his mother know anything about his intention of going, or where he was going, and returned the next day. He says he does not know where he has been, being out of his head while gone. Having resumed business in Lebanon, I will say to my old customers as well as new, that my prices for watch, clock and jewelry repairing will be as before, at eastern prices, and owing to dull times in many cases a reduction will be made. J. E. ADCOX, The Watch-maker. Rev. N. J. Bryans and wife, union evangelists, opened fire on Sweet Home Wednesday evening, in the Evangelical church. Everybody is invited. We are looking forward to a grand and glorious time. Services as usual at Waterloo and Plainview, Sunday, Oct. 1st. EZRA MAURER, Pastor. A boy was sent to market with a sack of roasting-ears, and after lingering around town all day, came home without selling them. When his mother asked him why he had not sold the corn he said no one asked him what he had in his sack. There are a good many merchants like this little boy.—Ex. Operations at the Salza cannery, which have been going on since last Monday, will cease about the middle of the coming week. The run this time has been on Bartlett pears, contracted for by Mr. Kyle early in the season. In all 45,000 pounds have been put up, making 750 cases or 18,000 cans.—Dispatch. The post-office department gives notice that proposals will be received at the central office of the department until December 1, for carrying mails in Oregon, Washington, Idaho and California, and for the performance of covered regulation wagon mail messenger and transfer and mail station service in Portland, Seattle, etc. Mr. H. J. Boyd, a photographer of Eugene, has rented the photograph gallery in Courtney's brick, and will be ready for business about the middle of October. Mr. Boyd has been with F. A. Rankin at Eugene for the past four years, which fact speaks very favorably for his skill as a photographer, that gallery having the reputation of turning out a fine grade of work. The contracts filed by the Albany Woolen Mills for state and government work have been so faithfully and efficiently performed that they have made a reputation for the mills, and as a result another government contract for 4,000 United States army blankets has been sent to the mills from Philadelphia. Secretary Galbraith received notice yesterday of the award of the contract.—Herald. The Portland Welcome says: There will be considerable surprise in society circles around town when the announcement is read the first time, that Mrs. Walker, widow of the late W. H. Walker, in life one of the firm of Staver & Walker, was married in Vancouver, Wash., on Thursday of this week, to a youth known to his associates as Jack Squires. Squires is about 20 years of age—about the age of Mrs. Walker's oldest son—and Mrs. Walker is somewhere near 36 or 38. Because of the young man's youth, it is reported, it was not possible to procure a marriage license in this county, hence the lovers repaired to our sister town where the ceremony was performed. SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 25.—Operations have been resumed at the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mines, in the Coeur d'Alenes, under the terms offered by the company—$3.50 per day for the miners and $3 for car-men and shovelers. One hundred men were employed to-day, and the force will be increased as rapidly as possible until a full force of 400 men is secured. The Gem, Helena and Frisco mines, at Gem, will resume work within a few days, employing 300 men at these wages. All the other mines in the Coeur d'Alenes are expecting to resume under this arrangement, the Knights of Labor and the miners' union having to-day sanctioned the action of the men in returning to work. Within a week or 1,000 men now idle will be at work. A jubilee is in progress in several of the mining towns to-night.

Petty Thieving. There has been considerable petty thieving around Lebanon the past week. On Monday night some one went to R. C. Miller's residence and stole a large washing which had been left on the line over night. Rev. Beattie's family had their washing stolen on Tuesday night, by leaving it out. The sneak thieves also paid Rev. Hickman and Mr. Sperling a visit, making a raid on their clothes-lines while the washings were out. And we are informed that they have also made their second trip to J. W. Menzies'. This should be a warning to others who have been leaving their clothes on the line at night. There is a good deal of thieving around here, and our citizens should see that they don't leave things out that they would care if they were stolen. It might be well for our city council to consider the matter of putting on a night-watch again if this kind of business is kept up much. Miss Lizzie Reed left Wednesday for Portland, where she will enter the medical school again this year. A reception to Rev. Summerville was given at the residence of F. M. Miller, Tuesday evening. About eighty persons were present. Judge Miller made a speech in their name welcoming him, which was appropriately responded to by Rev. Summerville. Last week the U. S. Deputy Marshal in attaching the bank property and other property of J. L. Cowan's, attached some property that had been sold and dedeed by Mr. Cowan several years ago. Of course these attachments will not hold, but they may cause the present owners some trouble. An exchange says: "Just now is the time to pay your debts, to buy only what you need and can pay for, to save all you can. Furthermore, be hopeful and cheerful, and don't be frightened by idle rumors, or what is worse, don't frighten others with them. Be a man and cheer up your despondent neighbor. If he owes you be easy with him, and if he is destitute, help him if you can." And it might have added: Above all things don't forget to pay the printer. Last Saturday Susie Hyde and her grandfather started to go to Mr. Hyde's farm near town. They were in a buggy and Susie was leading a horse behind the buggy. The horse pulled back and the rope it was being led with suddenly wound round her left thumb, and before the buggy could be stopped the rope tore the girl's thumb off, breaking the bone between the first and second joints and lacerating the flesh badly. Half of the thumb was lost at the scene of the accident. They drove immediately home and Dr. J. L. Hill amputated the remaining portion of the member at the hand. She stood the operation well and at last accounts was resting as well as could be expected.—Albany Herald. Among the incidents of childhood that stand out in bold relief, as our memory reverts to the days when we were young, none are more prominent than severe sickness. The young mother vividly remembers that it was Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured her of croup, and in turn administers it to her own offspring and always with the best results. For sale by M. A. Miller, Druggist. Notice to Debtors. The undersigned, being greatly in need of money, is very anxious to have all parties indebted to him to settle up. Parties who are unable to pay would do well to call and make their excuses known and further time will be given, and those failing to report by letter or in person within the next 15 days may expect a visit to the sheriff. SIMON A. NICKERSON, Lebanon, Or., Sept. 28th, 1893. Notice. At the Champion Mills for 30 days, at wholesale: Flour, per bbl. $ 3.00 Middlings, per ton 18.00 Bran, " 14.00 Good Chops, " 20.00 Notice to Tax-Payers. The County Board of Equalization will meet in Albany on the first Monday in October, and will be in session one week. W. F. DEAKINS, Assessor.

A Hunting Accident. [From Albany Herald.] A gentleman who came over from Summit on the O. P. Saturday reports the accidental shooting of T. M. Savage by Jas. Post, while out hunting near Nashville Thursday. The two young men, with several others, were following a deer which was being run by hounds, when they came upon a coon that ran up a tree. One of the party shot it, but not fatally, and young Savage decided to climb another tree near by so that he could more plainly see it and get a better shot. Just at this time young Post came from another direction and was told there was a coon up a tree, and noticing the leaves shaking on the one in which Savage had stationed himself, fired without looking at what he was shooting, though of course he did not know that it was a man. At the report of the gun Savage called out and said he was shot. Post then went up and assisted Savage down, as he was unable to do so by himself. The party immediately started for home with the wounded man. They were three miles from the road, and for two miles of the distance a trail had to be cut through the brush. On reaching the house of Savage at the Summit a doctor was summoned, and it was found the ball of a 44 calibre Winchester rifle had entered the back, near the kidney on the left side, ranging upward, and was taken out just below the point of the right shoulder blade. No bones were struck in the course of the bullet but the muscles of the back were frightfully torn, and the bullet when taken out was badly battered. The accident is to be regretted. It certainly seems to have been a very gross piece of carelessness. Our Waterloo News. Most of the hop pickers have returned from the yards. The rain made the picking rather disagreeable. A number of former residents of this place have departed for other places since the factory closed down. Mr. Jas. Brown and family have moved into town. Mr. Shepard, our artist, now lives in a residence adjoining the gallery. Mr. Morgan's butcher shop is now located across the street from the post-office. There is a move on foot for the building of a fine grist mill at this place. Quite an amount has already been subscribed towards the enterprise. Prof. T. L. Rice is again teaching school near town. Recorder Rice has an occasional case in his court, for violations of the city laws. Mr. J. Clem organized an Industrial Legion here last week. Several of our citizens have been absent on hunting trips into the mountains. Rev. Parsons, P. E. of the Salem district, preached here on Monday evening. The hosiery factory has been closed down, and there is no telling when it will start again. Our schoolhouse is still unfinished, and there is no indication of when we shall have any school. There will be preaching in the church here next Sunday at 11 o'clock by Rev. Kelley, and at 7:30 by Rev. Plowman. There are rumors of a number of weddings hereabouts in the near future. I. R. Borum has been quite sick, but is improving. Photographing the depths of the sea has been accomplished by a French scientist. B. F. Ramp, J. Clem and H. Bryant have organized themselves into a corporation called the Populist Publishing Company. They intend printing a paper at Albany, Oregon, in the interest of the people's party. The capital stock is $1,000.—Salem Independent. Monday night three Albany young men with their best girls went to Corvallis by way of the east side. They were unable to get the ferryman out, so they helped themselves to the boat, and piloted it across the river, leaving it on the Corvallis side, and it is probable there were some loud anathemas sent forth on its discovery there.—Democrat. Two of Harrisburg's popular young folks were in Albany Wednesday, and called upon Rev. E. R. Pritchard to make them man and wife. They were Mr. Lee Baker and Miss Lulu Briggs, daughter of Mr. W. W. Briggs, of that city. They have the best wishes of many friends. The ceremony took place in the parlor of the Revere House.—Herald.
