A family by the name of Dell, one of the families from Colorado of which we spoke in last week's issue, arrived here this week. He stopped at Mr. Bland's the night before he got here, and while there fell and broke three ribs. Dr. Booth was called upon to give him medical treatment. The family being in destitute circumstances the I. O. O. F. and others are assisting them.

Governor Penney will issue pardons to the Portland prizefighters. No sooner will this be done than the news will go broad-cast that our governor favors prize-fighting. But he does not. He grants pardons to these men because these are the first convictions to be had under a law that has stood on the statutes for years and years, but has not been enforced. The argument is that their conviction will put a stop to any repetition of the offense, since there is a disposition to enforce the law. The men lately convicted indulged in a fight, as dozens had done before them, with every confidence that no arrests would follow. It is safe to presume that a second conviction under this charge will not encounter any executive clemency.

Late county dirt is still in demand notwithstanding the depressed condition of the financial world. Yesterday the deed was filed in the county clerk's office by which the estate of Samuel Meek, deceased, conveyed to A. VITAS & Sons, 752 acres of fine farming land about eight miles northwest of Eugene, for the consideration of $18,800 or at the rate of $25 per acre. The Messrs. VITAS will plow the land in a high state of cultivation at once, and will plant a portion of it to hops. A few years ago these gentlemen came to this country without means or credit and rented a few acres of farming land. By close attention to business they have accumulated a fortune estimated at from $30,000 to $40,000, owning one of the finest farms in the county, near Springfield—Eugene Guard.
