"A Salvationist" By Proxy.

It is generally presumed that the person who answered Elder Wayback's first "squib" was none other than the Salvationist leader himself. This being the case, I consider it right that someone of his friends should espouse the cause in his absence.

"Be ye angry and sin not." In accordance with this bit of divine injunction, it is conceded that "A Salvationist" was justified in using the language that he did. In defence of "A Salvationist" I will say that he had other reasons for answering as he did. The patibula of E. W. showed the element in which he moved. His odium theologium was obvious, and argumentum ad hominem.

I am aware that such articles are provokingly funny to a great many, but only create derision among the Salvationists and their followers. I concede to E. W. parvum but if I were in his place I would exclaim "percuti!" and I deserve peine fort et dure." Deus defendit iudicium, and it is hardly necessary for me to denunciate the cause of "A Salvationist."

It is evident that such articles as written by "Elder Wayback" and "Cal Jewepper" are read and appreciated by a majority of the people, but this is not as it should be. The time was when an article of a sacrilegious nature appeared in a publication the issue would have been suppressed, and it would be a great deal better for Christianity if it were so to-day. Unfortunately the press is thrown wide open to the novice and professional without discrimination, and the result is one's thoughts are heralded to all mankind, whether they be chaste, sublime or otherwise. It is to be hoped that such articles as those written by "Elder Wayback" and "Cal Jewepper" (curious nom de plumes, I must say) will be but a brevis fulmen. It is generally believed that they are both one and the same; but if this is not the case they certainly are Pis navis fratrum and a Pons salutaris. E. W.'s intimation that a great majority of the clergy are sensationists, is sequitur.

I trust that my remarks may have the desired effect, i. e., that the Salvationists will know that they have one friend here, and E. W. will extract a valuable lesson therefrom; and he will revere the words "ora pro nobis," and express his sorrow Quia sic omnia. In further defence of "A Salvationist" I will say that his utterances were simply the expressions of a learned sordidum, and he did not use the dictionary in the manner as intimated by E. W.

I am of the opinion that E. W. is also a scholar, and I hope, a gentleman, as it would be quite humiliating to find myself communicating with one who moved with the common herd. A SALVATIONIST, By Proxy.

The "Elder Wayback" Matter.

LEBANON, Or., Nov. 27, '93. EDITOR EXPRESS: There is an article in your paper, 10th of present month, signed "Elder Wayback." Also what purports to be an answer Nov. 17, signed "A Salvationist." There has been a good deal of comment upon them; especially the last one, many thinking it was written by Mr. Bryans. Now, in behalf of Mr. Bryans, the good citizen of Lebanon, and the public in general, I want to say Mr. Bryans did not write the article signed "A Salvationist." I have it ever Mr. Bryans' signature that he did not, also he (Bryans) is willing to make above statement "before a jury." But instead of Mr. Bryans writing it, some vile-mouthed slanderer took this means of slandering him just on the heels of his going away. If the truth was known the one that wrote the first did the dirty work of the second also.

Yours, for the truth, honesty & justice, J. R. THOMPSON.

Changeable weather at present, and farmers are experiencing considerable disadvantages toward getting their fall work in shape.

A young Sullivan appeared at the home of L. E. LaRue, in the guise of a 12 lb. son, and his papa is thinking of putting the youngster in pants at once.

Considerable sickness in and about town at present. Mr. H. Sheels is suffering from a stroke of paralysis. Three of the family of Mr. Shepley have typhoid fever. Mr. Nelson's have a sick baby, and one of the sons of Wm. Wolslegel is suffering from partial paralysis of the lungs. Dr. Linklater, of Hillsboro, is the attending physician in all of the above cases.

The "Church of God" held a series of lectures in the new church house recently, and as a result of one week, added 19 converts to their flock, all of whom were immersed.

Quite a number of our citizens contemplate a visit to the Mid-Winter fair.

On the 4th of Dec. will commence in Hillsboro the notable trial of Edwin Schmeitz, for the supposed murder of Chas. Munson, of Scholl's Ferry, five years ago.

CORRESPONDENT.

THE TOLEDO WEEKLY BLADE And Book Containing all the Nasby Letters for One Dollar.

In answer to a general demand from all parts of the United States, the Toledo Blade has published in one volume, cloth bound, all of the "Nasby Letters" ever written by the late J. R. Locke, omitting perhaps a few unimportant letters on local or forgotten topics. Only a few of these letters were ever published in book form. Everybody has read some of them, but who has read all of them? The book contains over 500 large pages, and all the Nasby Letters written during a period of twenty-five years; also a portrait of D. R. Locke from his last photograph. It would sell at one dollar or more, but will never be placed on sale. One hundred thousand copies are now being printed and bound, and one copy will be sent post-paid by mail free to every person who this winter remits one dollar for the Weekly Blade one year. Everybody invited to send for a specimen copy of the Weekly Blade, which will give a full description of the book "The Nasby Letters." The Toledo Weekly Blade is the best and most popular weekly newspaper published in this country. It has the largest circulation of any weekly newspaper, and goes to every State, Territory and nearly every county of the Union. Only one dollar a year, including the above mentioned book free. TENNESSEE NOTES.

Potato digging is almost completed here, the average per acre being fair, and now if we receive a being fair, bushel, many will get ten cents per Fair. Frank Beecher at the Mid-Winter ranch some 3,000 bushels.

Mr. P. I. Wallace's fine residence in the suburbs is completed.

Frank Brothers are contemplating planting some 15 acres of hops, in the spring; also G. W. Myer 5 acres, Mr. Peasley McKnight 2 1/2 acres, and Mr. Crowder 1 1/2 acres on the Dave Andrews ranch.

The health of the community is very good at present, with the exception of a few who are suffering with the "Salvation Army Fever."

Our school is progressing nicely, with Prof. Hart, of Albany, plying the rod.

Mr. George Ross, Sr., is going to build him a fine residence in the near future.

Dame Rumor has it that Mr. Charles McKnight contemplates moving to Eastern Oregon. He will be sadly missed as a compositor in "these woods," nevertheless our loss will be their gain in an influential citizen. Hope his successor will be appointed soon to fill the "space" left "vacant."

GERANIUM.

The Caucus. At the caucus held Wednesday evening the following ticket was nominated:

The above is a good ticket, and the majority will be elected, and probably all, but there will be another ticket, and very likely two more.

Dr. J. Foley was elected chairman of the meeting, and W. C. Peterson secretary.

WATERLOO GARBAGE.

Clay-bank. Mining notes.

Mr. J. Knifong has made a discovery that promises to work a revolution of changes for good here. He recently discovered "the clay" for making all kinds of fancy and useful articles, on a piece of land he has recently purchased of O. P. Card (Ditch Director). This may pay better than G. Sanford's "paint mine," as he has the money to develop the field with.

One of our esteemed and would-be miners thought he had located a quartz claim near Sodaville recently; but on securing the services of an "expert" it was found to be coal instead of gold. The "boy hunter" says it is an old charred fir root. Friend Pincus, much learning or offices hath made this mad.

"Elder Wayback," we would like to grasp your horny hand. You are among a thousand. When Winters comes back if you will come up and write for him, we will buy a peck of spuds of you. Sciah! But where did your opponent find that weapon? We thought Waterloo had a corner on that kind of concealed weapons.

The guardian angel is covering near, as all the sick are on the mend.

We see the other Waterloo correspondent is still writing. We had thought he, she or it, would resign in favor of "one who knew it all" (but no, he comes up smiling, with a funny saying occasionally. Stay with it, "old boss," you may yet write something that will be read.

Sodaville will be lit by the old Lebanon lights. Waterloo will not be outdone, and now it will be in order for the town council to buy or lease the factory headlights and a few of the legal lights of our town, and at once put on city airs.

The nominees are in the field. Three full tickets are equal to 24 men. There being only 40 legal voters in town, this leaves 16 who can rule the election, as each candidate will follow the old Waterloo rule (for yourself). They (the 16) wear a 7x9 smile and are fixing their own terms.

The Robinson-Tyler feud is gaining in proportions. At a "mill" in Albany recently the battle was called a draw; had it been fought according to Waterloo rules some one would have been whipped. Brethren, let us have peace or a good fight—some one hurt and then peace. These little Green and Rice fights are no good. Come down in the spring and have a "sola," smoke the "pipe of peace" and be good children.
