LABOR UNIONS VS. AMERICAN BOYS.

Shall American boys be permitted to learn trades, and, having learned them, shall they be permitted to work at them? They are apparently simple questions, and the answering of them is an apparently simple matter. Most persons thus interrogated would reply at once: "Certainly they should. Why do you ask such unnecessary questions?" We ask them because under the present conditions of trade instruction and employment in this country the American boy has no rights which organized labor is bound to respect. He is denied instruction as an apprentice, and if he be taught his trade in a trade school, he is refused admission to nearly all the trade unions and is boycotted if he attempts to work as a non-union man. The questions of his character and skill enter into the matter only to discriminate against him. All the trade unions in the country are controlled by foreigners, who comprise the great majority of their members. While they refuse admission to the trained American boy they admit foreigners with little or no regard to their training or skill. In fact, the doors of organized labor in America, which are closed and barred against American boys, swing open, wide and free, to all foreign comers. Labor in free America is free to all save the sons of Americans. These are neither idle nor exaggerated statements. They are sober, solemn truths, expressed with studied moderation. So-called labor today is a complete misnomer, as far as the trades are concerned. How has it come about that the United States, alone among the nations of the earth, has not merely surrendered possession of their field of mechanical labor to foreigners, but acquiesces when the foreign possessors exclude from that field her own sons?—Century.

Lebanon certainly needs a bank badly.

Our cranky governor has again been heard from.

It is now in place for Cleveland to tell Penroyer to attend to his business and he will attend to his.

Newspaper editors and printers are not such a bad lot after all. Read what a valuable exchange says: "Of the 3890 convicts in the state penitentiaries of Texas, there is not a printer or a newspaper man, while there are bankers, doctors, photographers, ministers, bar-keepers, cooks, barbers and members of all other callings and professions. The cog-wheel of justice must have slipped an eccentric somewhere."

One day this week Governor Penroyer pardoned four convicts. It seems nearly useless for the counties of the state to spend large sums of money to convict criminals when one man is allowed to turn them out by the wholesale.—Eugene Guard. What would you do about it? Would you take the pardoning power away from the governor?—Statesman.

It would certainly be a very good thing for honest men, if the present governor had no pardoning power, unless he uses a great deal more discretion in the future than he has in the past.

Live Within Your Means.

An American capitalist, who is a keen observer, is reported to have said that he did not believe that there was an American citizen whose income represented a salary who was not living beyond his means. And he added that, if the man had a family, he was bringing up that family to standards and wants that he could not honestly gratify. Our own observation does not bear witness to this assertion. But if the alleged fact be true to any considerable extent it must be regarded as among the causes of the many embezzlements and other pecuniary delinquencies which have become so common of late years.

"Playing the races" has been the ruin of a multitude, but living beyond one's means must bear part of the blame. And it is more serious than is commonly imagined. It involves false pretenses and fraud. It is a mean species of crime, and yet often committed without any compunction. Men are afraid or ashamed to say, "I can't afford it," and yet are not afraid or ashamed to contract debts which they know that they cannot honestly pay.—Christian Intelligencer.

Stage Love Versus Real Love.

Does stage love impair real love?—Boston Globe.

We cannot say for sure, but we guess not, or anyhow not always. Perhaps, in truth, real love and stage love are often of the same essence, of like substance, of similar quality, and closely akin to each other. Indeed, for all we can say, the resemblance between them may be marked, or even very marked. Ask the younger Dumas or M. Pierre Loti or Mr. Robert L. Stevenson or, in case all those persons have gone out, ask the well informed Mr. William D. Howells of this place, who rarely ever goes out, except to collect the proceeds of his copyright from the publishers of his novels. We are unable to say whether Professor Helmholtz, the German chemist now in this country, who is a man of analysis and apprehension, could throw any light on the subject. But we can tell the Boston Globe that it is very foolish in putting its question about stage love and real love to stage lovers and real lovers, as it has vainly done. The question is of the gullpot.—New York Sun.

A Doctor With Experience.

One day while mending the roof of his house Chodja lost his balance, and falling to the ground broke a rib. A friend of his went hurriedly for a hakim (doctor). "Hakim, have you ever fallen from a roof and broken a rib?" was the first question Chodja asked the doctor. "Thank God, no," replied the hakim. "Then go away at once, please," cried Chodja. "I want a doctor who has fallen from a roof and knows what it is!"—Good Words.

BALD HEADS!

What is the condition of yours? Is your hair dry, harsh, brittle? Does it split at the ends? Has it a lifeless appearance? Does it fall out when combed or brushed? Is it full of dandruff? Does your scalp itch? Is it dry or in a heated condition? If these are some of your symptoms be warned in time or you will become bald.

Skookum Root Hair Grower

is what you need. Its production is not an accident, but the result of scientific research. Knowledge of the structure of the hair and scalp led to the discovery of how to treat them. "Skookum" contains neither mineral nor oil. It is not a dye, but a delightfully cooling and refreshing tonic. By stimulating the follicles, it stops falling hair, cures dandruff and grows hair on bald heads.

Keep the scalp clean, healthy, and free from irritating eruptions, by the use of Skookum Root Soap. It destroys poisonous insects, which feed on and destroy the hair.

If your druggist cannot supply you send direct to us, and we will forward promptly, on receipt of price. Government, $1.00 per bottle; 1 for $2.00. Soap, 50c per box; 1 for $1.00.
