J. Y. KIRKPATRICK,

Editor and Proprietor.

Five tons of the curtains hung under the skylights of the manufacturers building at the Exposition have been sold for old rags.

The Electric Light & Water Co. has offered to sell the electric light plant and water works to the city. This is a question that it might be well to consider.

A number of prominent merchants at Boise, Idaho, are indicted for having made false returns on the amount of business done upon which a State tax is levied.

A man who forms and expresses an opinion on a subject before he knows all the circumstances, demonstrates to the world that his opinion is not worth much.

Governor Mitchell of Florida says there shall be no prize fighting in the state. He knows the proposed "contest for points" between Corbett and Mitchell is only a blind. The courts will probably decide the matter.

An unsuccessful attempt was made at Kelso, I. T., to hold up a Missouri, Kansas, and Texas train. A switch was open and the train derailed. This alarmed the engineer, and, knowing there was a spring switch at the other end of the siding, he applied full steam and ran through.

George Parsons, who shot a tramp Vir. Nev., in June last, has been sentenced to twenty-one years at labor in the penitentiary. The upstart picked up an article of clothing belonging to Parsons and a lady pursued him and killed him. A judge characterized the act as cruel and unprovoked.

Oregon can justly boast of as clean a financial record and as solid a standing as any state in the Union. With a debt describable by the use of ciphers alone, she has $98,783.92 in outstanding warrants issued the present year, payment of which is provided by state levy, and redeemable at any time. During 1892 she received $672,578.47 and expended $576,366.24, including $87,156.16 deficiency. Her educational funds are in a most healthy condition, and in all other respects she is doing very well indeed.—Pacific Banker and Inventor.

It has been reported that the Southern Pacific company has laced armed men on their trains to keep the tramps from riding. This is getting pretty bad when such a thing is necessary, but it is doubtful if such an act will do any good, as it may only tend to excite the tramps to desperate acts. Just what to do under the existing circumstances is a problem. It is almost impossible to keep the tramps off without the assistance of armed men, and by using this power, the company takes the hazard of having its trains wrecked, property destroyed, etc. It is a perplexing question.—Ex.

The Salem Journal tells the following as an illustration of the character of church choirs: In a neighboring town after the new minister had converted almost everybody else he tackled the choir. Suffice it to say he will never do it again. He got them all up in front to sing and then knelt and directed a long prayer at them particularly. He prayed until everybody's knees-bones were sore and then asked for three or four others to follow in short prayers. A wicked black-eyed girl who sang alto who was all tired out and wanted to go home said, "Yes, or I want to get another half hour to rest." It tickled the unregenerate "young folks" so much that the meeting broke up.

J. B. Long, of the Amity Popgun, is now the business manager of the Oregon Populist. He brought a printer with him from Amity, and John Cartwright, the popular foreman of the Populist, will remain with him for the present. Mr. Long is a live, energetic man, and has two men at the case who are not afraid to work.

E. Adcox, the jeweler, is now located in his new quarters at the new drug store.

Thoughtlessness of Speech.

It is not the pen that woman should fear so much and try to control as it is the tongue. The greatest lesson that woman has yet to learn is to think before she speaks. In comparison with the thoughtless tongue the pen in a woman's hand is as harmless as a dove. All too prevalent in these days is the spirit of cruel and thoughtless criticism among women. Thoughtlessness of speech has done more to injure woman than any single element in her life. It has laid her open to the charge of being unreliable—and oftentimes justly so. It has kept from her confidences that were hers by right. It has stood in the way of her progress. It has placed her innumerable times in false positions. It has judged her as being cold where she was in reality affectionate; cruel where she was gentle. It is the one inconsistency in woman's nature that has baffled many a one anxious to believe in her.—Ladies' Home Journal.

A Famous Madhouse.

The woeful house of Dr. Blanche, where he died, was full of histories. The initials over its principal door—A. C.—are those of Antoine Caumont, duc de Lauzun, who built it, for the increase of his elegance, in 1610. The Princess de Lamballe entertained Marie Antoinette at her garden fetes under the great trees where Guy de Maupassant walked insane. Some poems we read, several songs we sing, were composed there.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Mrs. Edison's Roof Garden.

Mrs. Thomas Edison's favorite lounging place is the roof of her conservatory. An awning is stretched above it, and a French window opens from her boudoir on to it. Afternoon tea is served here by Mrs. Edison, and a divan with silk cushions is her favorite resting place on the roof.—Exchange.

Then He Got Mad.

"Yes, sir," said Mr. Gallacher, "it was funny enough to make a donkey laugh. I laughed till I cried." And then as he saw a smile go round the room he grew red in the face and went away angry.—London Tit-Bits.

The persistent cough which usually follows an attack of the grip can be permanently cured by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. W. A. McGuire, of McKay, Ohio, says: "La Grippe left me with a severe cough. After using several different medicines without relief, I tried Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which effected a permanent cure. I have also found it to be without an equal for children, when troubled with colds or croup." 50 cent bottles for sale by N. W. Smith, druggist.

BALD HEADS!

What is the condition of yours? Is your hair dry, harsh, brittle? Does it split at the ends? Has it a lifeless appearance? Does it fall out when combed or brushed? Is it full of dandruff? Does your scalp itch? Is it dry or in a heated condition? If these are some of your symptoms be warned in time or you will become bald.

Skookum Root Hair Grower

Is what you need. Its production is not an accident, but the result of scientific research. Knowledge of the diseases of the hair and scalp led to the discovery of how to treat them. "Skookum" contains neither mineral nor oils. It is a pure herb, but a delightfully cooling and refreshing tonic. By stimulating the follicles, it stops falling hair, cures dandruff and grows hair on bald heads.

Keep the scalp clean, healthy, and free from irritating eruptions, by the use of Skookum Hair Soap. It destroys parasitic insects, which feed on and destroy the hair.

If your druggist cannot supply you send direct to us, and we will forward prepaid, on receipt of price. Grower, $1.00 per bottle; 4 for $3.00. Soap, 50¢ per jar; 4 for $2.00.
