M'KINLEY'S KINDNESS(?) REWARDED.

The return of the property of Mr. and Mrs. McKinley is a good illustration of a certain class of people in this country. Those who contributed this money evidently consider it more charitable to give to the rich than to help the poor.

Judging by the McKinley "raise" it would be a good idea for Phil Armour, or any other millionaire, to first have a bill introduced in congress raising the duty on some article so high that the duty—and the goods, too—would be totally out of sight, and then to make a judicious failure in business. The class of beings who were so quick to subscribe money for the truly christian object of restoring the McKinley property to its former owners surely would have no objection to keeping up the good work, and consequently such a patriot as we have described would not fail of having his immense property restored to him.

Is it possible that the truth of the scriptural quotation, "It is more blessed to give than to receive," holds good in a case of this kind? Or is it not more probable that the scriptural passage referred to would not apply to this case at all, as neither of the parties would have a valid claim on the desired blessings.

Truly, "the world do move," but it may not be in the right direction when money is given to the rich instead of the poor.

The Corvallis Gazette says: A number of our exchanges have reported that the Amity Poppun has suspended. According to Mr. Long, one of the publishers, this is not correct. The Poppun missed one issue on account of changes made in the mechanical arrangement of the office, and the Poppun will continue to pop in future as in the past. Mr. Long is a short little fellow but has rather lengthy ideas and not only controls the Populistic field of Amity and vicinity but now wields the rod of socialism over Albany and Eugene, a new plant having been sent the latter place recently. The territory of Yamhill, Linn and Lane counties is rather an extensive newspaper field to be controlled by a concern with no better mission to perform than that of advocating demo-populistic doctrines in this serial manner. Speaking of monopolies, how does this strike the average calamity howler?

Please, Governor Pennoyer, make up your mind as to what day you will allow the celebration of Easter in this neck of the woods. Our old hen is growing anxious, and if you can arrange to have it happen about the 25th of next month, all will be well.—Corvallis Gazette.

France has her anarchists and America has its congress.—Telegram.

With this issue the Express starts on its eighth year.

Ten days loss of time on account of sickness and a doctor bill to pay, is anything but pleasant for a man of a family to contemplate, whether he is a laborer, mechanic, merchant or publisher. Jas. O. Jones, publisher of the Leader, Mexico, Texas, was sick in bed for ten days with the grip during its prevalence a year or two ago. Later in the season he had a second attack. He says: "In the latter case I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with considerable success, I think, only being in bed a little over two days. The second attack I am satisfied would have been equally as bad as the first but for the use of this remedy." It should be borne in mind that the grip is much the same as a very severe cold and requires precisely the same treatment. When you wish to cure a cold quickly and effectually give this remedy a trial. 50 cent bottles for sale by N. W. Smith, druggist.

DYNAMITE IN THE DEB.

The Tregle Disaster Prepared by a Demented Russian Officer.

A shocking tragedy of a most remarkable character is reported from Vilna. Ivan Klakwitz, a customs officer of highly respectable connection, became convinced that his wife was in league with a neighbor to aid the latter in a lawsuit which was pending against him. There was apparently no justification for the charge. The lawsuit was tried in the local courts last week, and Klakwitz lost the case. He addressed the judge in an excited manner, and after making a rambling statement implicating his wife in an intrigue against him he left the courtroom.

Later in the day, however, he professed regret to his wife for his baseless insinuations and hasty temper, and asked his neighbor and his wife to dine with him on family. Thinking it better that a reconciliation should take place, the neighbor accepted, and a social evening was arranged for. At dinner there were present Klakwitz, his wife, his two daughters, aged 19 and 17 years respectively; a young son, aged 11; his wife's mother and his neighbor and his wife.

The dinner passed off very pleasantly until the third course, when Klakwitz rose, and ordering some more champagne to be opened said that he wished all present to drink a toast to a special dish he had prepared as a surprise for this agreeable occasion. He then left the room, and within two minutes returned bearing in his arms a large dish covered with a dinner cover, and placing it quickly on the table he lifted his glass on high and shouted, "To our next meeting."

He had scarcely spoken these words when a dynamite bomb, which had been hidden under the cover, exploded, and instantly killed every one in the room with the exception of the servant girl and the youngest daughter—the latter living, however, only long enough to tell exactly what happened. The servant died within two hours.

The unfortunate people who were the victims of this insane frolic were simply blown to pieces, and the walls of the room in which they were sitting were partly blown out. The explosion was heard for half a mile.—St. Petersburg Cor. London Telegraph.

A WONDERFUL GERM DESTROYER.

Recent Investigations Which Have Opened a New Field in Medicine.

About 10 years ago a medical scientist advanced the theory that, in its normal condition, blood contained an element that instantly killed many forms of bacteria. In this healthy state blood has been injected into the veins of diseased persons for this purpose and has begun the work of destruction. The results had not been satisfactory, as the amount of blood required was so great as to make continued experiments unwise.

Recent investigations have confirmed the original idea, and a series of experiments of late conducted at the University of Michigan reveal most interesting possibilities. The destroying principle has been separated from the blood, and with it germs of cholera and anthrax have been killed. This element, to which the name of neucin has been given, is colorless and transparent. The vital essence of it seems tenacious of life, as high degrees of heat, even to the boiling point, do not seem to diminish its activity. If this discovery does all that it promises, it marks an incalculable advance in medical science. Injected into the veins of persons suffering from many forms of germ poisoning, it immediately begins its beneficent task of ridding the system of the enemy. Thus a new field in medicine is opened, the ultimate results of which even the most comprehensive mind can scarcely estimate.—New York Ledger.

The New Chicago Religion.

We learn from Chicago that the new Chicago religion is nearly ready for the market. One of the doctors engaged in compounding it says it is made of the choice elements of Mosaism, Christianity, Buddhism, ethical culturism, Mohammedanism, Renanism, Confucianism and other beliefs, both ancient and modern. Assurance of its solidity is given by its compounders, among whom are a Universalist, a Populite, two liberal rabbis, a Unitarian, a Hindu and an agnostic. The extracts have been made with care, so that it shall be suitable to every mind in all parts of the world. It has not yet been marketed, on account of the difficulty of getting a good name for it, a descriptive name that shall convey some idea of its elementary principles, and that shall be attractive to mankind. Why not end the trouble and struggle at once and give the new religion a boom by calling it Chicagoism?—New York Sun.

Not a Devoted Husband.

Our strangest mistakes are due to official red tape. A story was told in a London district court last week of a man who was unable to support his invalid wife at home. He secured for her admission to an infirmary seven years ago and paid 5 shillings weekly maintenance till a few weeks ago, when he learned that the woman died a few days after entering the infirmary, and he had been a widower seven years. Instead of finishing his conjugal neglect by losing seven years' contributions, the magistrate ordered the authorities to repay the full sum.

Saved by an Ironing Board.

Smoke from the hallway of 216 East Eighty-ninth street at 4 a. m. yesterday woke Feligo Carnego, who lives with his family on the ground floor. The flames prevented egress by the door. Carnego rose to the occasion and passed his wife's ironing board from the window across the area to the iron railing. Over this improvised bridge his own and several other families reached the sidewalk in safety. Others escaped by the roof.—New York World.

The Dictionary Habit.

"Yes, it's a good thing for a man to refer to the dictionary, but this practice can often be carried to excess," said a well known magazine writer. "Why, I've seen a man get so much addicted to this habit," he continued, "that he could not write an ordinary letter without turning to the dictionary three or four times in order to ascertain some big words that he could use. This, I think, is a very great waste of time, as he does not express his meaning a bit better than if he had used some shorter and really English words."

The Ruby as a Fruit.

The people of Burmah believe that the ruby is a kind of fruit which will ripen if you give it time. They say that most rubies do not ripen simply because they are not allowed to do so. If you want to "ripen" the ruby in your ring, according to the Burmah idea, you must take your ring and lay it in the sun for one month without disturbing it at all, and at the end of that time it will be "ripe" and good to eat.—New York Journal.

Hunting Lions.

Among the Arabs, where the lion is hunted with success, the hunter studies his beast before engaging in battle. If he is very fat, there is little danger in pot shots. If he is lean and spy, the Arab will maneuver for a coigo of vantage from which he can pour in three or four shots before coming to close quarters.—Exchange.

An Infallible Speech.

"Why, you're looking better already, Sir Ronald!"
"Yes, thanks to your delightful hospitality, I've had everything my doctor ordered me—fresh air, good food, agreeable society and cheerful conversation that involves no strain on the intellect."
—Harper's Magazine.

A Last Resort.

Little Boy—I want you to write me an excuse for being late to school yesterday.
Jeweler—Eh? You are not my son.
Little Boy—No, but mamma says I had plenty of time to get to school, so I guess the clock you sold her doesn't go right.—Good News.

In early times what is now Ireland was known as Scotia, and its inhabitants were called as Scots, or Scots. A branch of this Scotic stock invading north Britain ultimately gave its name to all of what is now Scotland.
