Called From Our Exchanges.

A bill to establish an epileptic colony is before the New York legislature.

Japanese exhibitors at Chicago are despondent over the non-sale of their goods, and are appealing to the home government for aid.

Hilborn of California, has introduced a bill to provide for the establishment of a gun factory at Benicia Arsenal and the appropriation of $1,000,000 for that purpose.

A saloon-keeper at Butte City shook dice for a mine worth $35,000 and won it. Still there are people with the effrontery to assert that it is honest toil that counts.

Governor Mitchell, of Florida, will probably have an opportunity to redeem himself. Since the Corbett Mitchell mill came off successfully the Louisiana Lottery has concluded to take shelter under the benign influences of the land of flowers. Of course the governor will oppose it.

An Albany man boasting of his hens was telling how he had eight hens that laid 25 dozen eggs in a month. A friend sitting at his back figured out that each hen would have to average an egg and a fourth a day. He was considerably embarrassed when presented with the result.

The Salem Journal finds plenty of material in its own party to have fun with. It says: Col. J. B. Eddy, the Union Pacific railroad's member of the railroad commission is mentioned for state printer. A republican state ticket made up of that kind of corporation colonels, would draw like a mustard poultice.

Judge Long of Michigan, who is well enough to draw a $7,000 salary from the state, is so unwell as to unblushingly absorb a $72 per month pension. He has just won a fight against having the latter reduced to $50, and has thus strengthened the theory of evolution by demonstrating human kinship with swine.

What is a home without a newspaper? It is a place where old hats are stuffed into broken windows; where the wife looks like a bag of wool with a string around the center; where the husband has a tobacco juice panorama painted on his shirt bosom, and the neglected children wipe their neglected noses on their jacket sleeves.

The Eugene Guard says: The findings of Referee Watson in the celebrated Sheriff's case were received here by express, and on the package were the words, "C. O. D. $194.50." This afternoon the amount was paid and at 2 o'clock the papers were filed with the county clerk. The decision, etc., makes fourteen pages of closely type-written matter. The referee says that the sheriff is not entitled to receive constructive mileage, but says the proof does not show that he has. Claims that the sheriff was not entitled to fees from the county for collecting delinquent taxes under the law prior to that passed by the last legislature, but he was entitled to his expenses and disbursements. Therefore he was compelled to look to the taxpayers for the same. Under the laws of 1893, Watson holds the sheriff is entitled to fees. In several items the referee holds the sheriff was allowed fees in excess of what should have been charged, but that under the pleadings, and the same not having been segregated, he was unable to tell the amount. He then proceeds to recommend the dissolving of the injunction. At 3 o'clock, A. H. Kennedy, one of the attorneys for the plaintiffs, gave notice that he would file a motion asking that the report of the referee be set aside.

Penoyer, The Reformer.

Salem Capital Journal.

For a man who pretends to be a reformer and a champion of the people, and who wants to be United States Senator and political dictator of Oregon, Penoyer has quite a record:

Creates the present head of our great railroad commission.

Helps buy several hundred acres more of the Moody farm when the State already has more land than it knows what to do with.

Favors buying the $25,000 asylum site in Eastern Oregon, where plenty of sites and a bonus besides, can be had free gratis.

Never raises a hand to protect the people against boodling county officials and rotten banks all over the state, that are holding back and using several hundred thousand dollars of public taxes, while the State and counties pay interest.

Sits on the State board of school land commissioners when the two clerks before the present one each were able to salt down from $50,000 to $100,000 and yet can see nothing wrong.

The mental strabismus of a reformer and professed champion of the people must be great indeed to make such a record or even a small part of it. If Penoyer is the most honest and upright official in Oregon, God save the people!

A Page From a Physician's Diary.

At night the weary old doctor sat down and noted as usual the condition of his patients:

The ragman, picking up.
The editor, rapidly declining.
The dentist, may pull through.
The postmaster, must go.
The deaf mute, still complaining.
The painter, more bad signs.
The miser, barely living.
The major, rallying.
The cashier, gone.
The actor, on the last stage.
The butcher, less fat on bones.
The cobbler, mending.
The jail prisoner, will soon be out.

The lawyer, speechless.
The two grocers, on the verge of dissolution.

The musician, toning up.
The carpenter, improving.
Jones' boy, bad and growing worse.

The barber, saved by a close shave.
The banker, failing.

The bootmaker, will not last long.
The pugilist, striking improvement.—Ex.

A business man or citizen who does not patronize and support his local paper is standing in his own light. Every cent expended toward the support of his local paper benefits the town, and what benefits the town increases the business man's trade and helps the citizen's best interests.

Notice of Dissolution.

Notice is hereby given that the copartnership heretofore existing between C. E. Pugh and S. O. Wallace, under the firm name of Pugh & Wallace, is hereby dissolved by mutual agreement, S. O. Wallace retiring, C. E. Pugh retaining the entire business. All accounts due said firm are payable to said C. E. Pugh, he becoming responsible also for the indebtedness of said firm. Done at the office of C. E. Pugh, Lebanon, Or., Feb. 24th, 1894.

Letter From Amos Keeter.

LEBANON, Or., Mar. 8, '94.

MR. EDITOR: In looking over the EXPRESS last week I saw another communication from "Elder Wayback," and was glad to hear that he had broke loose again, for I like to read his ideas on the political situation and other things of interest he writes about.

I laid my paper on the stand the other evening and went out after some wood to put on the fire, and I heard some one coming up the road, singing. There is mighty small taters an' mighty big weeds.

An' too big perfessions an' too little deeds; An' there's too little readin' in too many pages. An' too little wisdom in too many sages, An' the men who work hardes, they git the least wages.

I went out to the road and I seen it was an old acquaintance of mine. He said that he had ben down to the republican club to hear the Dr. make a populist speech. He said he was a candidate, or in other words a lamb for the slaughter on the populist altar, and he did not get to hear the speech he wanted to hear, but heard much truth and sound doctrine that almost upstirred his populist faith, and were it not for the looks of the thing—he having just turned from a democrat into a populist—would now turn into a republican, which now seemed to be the only straight and narrow way.

The republicans seemed to be very enthusiastic and not much show to fuse with them; so like the Arab,

At sunrise and the break of day, He folds his tent and gently moves away.

AMOS KEETER.

"Perhaps you would not think so, but a very large proportion of diseases in New York comes from carelessness about catching cold," says Dr. Syrus Edson. "It is such a simple thing and so common that very few people, unless it is a case of pneumonia, pay any attention to a cold. New York is one of the healthiest places on the Atlantic coast and yet there are a great many cases of catarrh and consumption which have their origin in this neglect of the simplest precaution of every day life. The sensible advice is, when you have one get rid of it as soon as possible. By all means do not neglect it." Dr. Edson does not tell you how to cure a cold but we will. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will relieve the lungs, aid expectoration, open the secretions and soon effect a permanent cure. 50 cent bottles for sale by N. W. Smith, druggist.

For Sale.

I will sell on easy terms very cheap the following property:
1. My residence property—a good house, new barn, and 19 acres of very best land, with fine orchard—within the corporate limits of Lebanon, Oregon.
2. A farm, with good improvements, of 120 acres, one and one-half miles from Lebanon. Finest hop land in the county.
3. One house and house lots in J. M. Balfour's addition to Lebanon. Good house and good location.
4. Four head of good horses—Two work horses and two buggy horses. Two wagons and usual farming implements. Ten head of cattle.
All in good condition. Any man who wants a bargain can get it from me.
J. W. SCASLAND,
