If a Bland dollar that contains 4124 grains of standard silver is worth 100 cents and a trade dollar that contains 420 grains is only worth 70 cents how much silver would you have to put in a dollar to make it utterly worthless? Don't all answer at once.

It may not be generally known that Uncle Sam prints one postage stamp that is not for sale, i. e., the second-class matter stamp. This stamp, new or cancelled, never passes out of the hands of the postoffice officials. Postage on periodicals is prepaid by the pound, in cash, and the receiving clerk cancels these special stamps to the value of the postage thus prepaid, and forwards the canceled stamps to the department as vouchers.

A Letter About the Midwinter Fair.

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 12, '94. I arrived at Frisco Saturday, the 10th. We traveled through a continual snow storm-it never let up snowing till we got near Sacramento, and from A Heppner man was fined $60 there we had warm, sunshiny weather. Everything here looks spring-like; fruit trees are in bloom, pleasure parties out on the lawn, etc.

The fair is all any one could expect, and is very good. To-day was Michigan day. It was a lovely day and a great many big guns were here-the governors of Michigan and Vermont, and one from Oregon-not governor but from Oregon all the same. This is a fast place for Oregon men and horses. I think we can suare Oregon Beauty's eyes with a log chain, when she starts up Market street; but she will compare with anything here in the horse line, and the people also, but the people in this state look at Oregan people as being back in the brush pretty well. They claim an Oregon man shaved off his beard here the other day and taking a stroll through the fair came across a large looking-giass and thought he had met the man before and went to shake hands with him, and brought his fist against the glass.

1 will just say to all my Oregon friends that the fair is well worth seeing, and a man can live cheaper here than he can at home.

I am located with one of the Oregon Wonders, in the '49 mining camp, which is a mining camp from away back. The crooked, narrow streets, log cabins, old stage stations, pack horses, mules and every thing in the packing line, gambling halls and dance halls, were all there. I saw cowboys, miners, and women of every nation in an old Mexican dance-saw them make one another dance by shooting at their toes. They had a sad accident Saturday. There were 35 or 40 women and men in an old '49 four-horse stage and got to making a great fuss, and driving in '49 style and upset. It was a '49 scene-14 badly hurt. 1 helped to turn the stage up off of them and pull them out. They were a horrible looking set. Some one turned in the fire alarm instead of the ambulance and the firemen came dashing up, and altouether it made it a '49 scene. The bad weather has been holding back the fair but now it is blooming out in all its glory. I have had men that have seen the Chicago fair, tell me that this beats it in a great many things. In the first place the location of the grounds is the finest in the world, almost; the electric tower is rhead of everything they had in that line. In fact in every line it is just as fine as it yould be, almost, and fan for the boys and pleasure seekers to beat the world-side shows by the hundreds; every novelty from a Chinese baby with no head, to a one-legged son and spring is rather timid; the early garden fiend has to nurse his sorrow alone as all his friends shout, "I told you so."

Society news and social scandal. Our season is mostly the winter sca-

The roads seem to be no worse than they can be and the citizens are preparing to tender the supervisor a vote of thanks for the able manner in which he summerfallowed the highway during the summer months. One mile of good graveled road each year will good road to Lebanon in a decade or less. Who will be first to make a start on this line and instead of trying to plough the hard road hed and make of it a permanent exemplification of the ignorance of the community in general and the "Boss" in particular. Work one mile good, Bro. Withers, Try this plan this year and trust to public sentiment for endorsement.

Since the Albany blow out, there seems to be an apparent falling from grace in the ranks of the "only party in our midst." Some content them selves by vowing vengeance, while others smile and say "it is the way in all new parties." A few vow they will vote for republican candidates as they will be all honorable men. It is too had that they should be so "out of shape," so to speak, in a year when they might gain great victories.

The young ladies have ceased to attend divine service since it was insinuated that people, not hogs, were wanted there. This may not be quoted verbatim but such was the intent told in our Elder Wayback language There are also a few boys whose ab sence would be generally noticed and appreciated by the writer if by none other. The church is no place for sinners, we long ago learned thatwell, there may be exceptions to the rule but it would be on contribution day. But in a church that has no debt staring it in the face the poor need not tarry in or around the outer door. "Go ye out into the highway and compel them to come in." don't mean that you start skirmishing around to find a highway in Waterloo -there is none.

A protest has been entered against the disposal of the school bonds, and once more we are compelled to chrouifle a stay in the game. Too had that men cannot tell when they have been beaten, but the Waterloo man is nothing if he is not contrary and we hope for many rich items in the future on this line.

H. W. Parker, the Nasby of this sink hole of iniquity, is suffering from many complaints. He received no nomination but this pleased him, but his old cow in a fit of anger laid down and died-but his loss is the poor's gain as they can now get cheap beefa rarity here.

J. B. Gibherdt is not at home but T. L. Rice and father returned from Grant's Pass Saturday and contention among the citizeus goes on apace.

High-Prived Dinners.

The Brownsville Times gives the following account of a trial which occurred at that place.

NO. 4

Ed Cox, of Sweet Home, and Geo. Pugh, of Folley, discarded every manly principle, for a time, at least, simply for the gratification of their stomache The particulars of the case are as follows: Mr. Hohn, proprietor of the Sweet Home store, had business in Lebanon Monday, and placed a box of sardines and a few crackers on a shelf near the door of his store, which he intended to take with him for a lunch, but neglected to do so. Mr. Hohn left an old gentleman in charge of the store, who noticed the sardines, but supposed they had been sold, and decided to watch and see who took them. Finally the above named boys went into the store, and possessing a larger appetite for sardines than they did to do right, decided to have a feast. Young Cox told the Fugh boy to get them while he watched the old man, which he did. The old gentleman who had charge of the store mistrusted that something was wrong, and asked Mr. Cox#if they had taken the missing treasure, and received an answer in the affirmative, the boy saying that George Pugh had bought them. When Mr. Hohn returned and inquired, for his lunch, he was informed of what had happened, whereupon he had warrants issued for their arrest. They were tried before Squire McDowell and fined five dollars each and costs, and in default of payment were sentenced to two and one-half days each in the county jail. Constable Chas. McDowell conveyed the prisoners to Albany, but when he arrived there young Pugh concluded to pay his fine, which he did, and was released, but Mr. Cox served his sentence. We were told that the boys were not considered bad boys, and they evidently committed this offense in an unguarded moment, not thinking that they were committing so great a crime.
