MIDWINTER FAIR LETTER.

CALIFORNIA MIDWINTER INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION - DEPARTMENT OF PUBLICITY AND PROMOTION. (Weekly Circular Letter - No. 15.) The second month of the California Midwinter International Exposition is realizing every expectation.

Fete days are making a satisfactory impression. Vermont Day's success was duplicated in Michigan Day, which was celebrated on Monday, March 12. In this instance Blue Monday became one of the Red Letter days of the exposition.

The next great fete day of the exposition is to take place on March 17. It is to be St. Patrick's Day in the morning, afternoon and evening. There is reason to believe that the crowd inside the exposition grounds on that occasion will surpass anything since the opening day.

The '49 Mining Camp, by the way, continues to advertise itself in a striking manner, though its last advertisement was entirely unintentional and came near proving very disastrous. It is the custom of the camp to send its old '49 stage coach around the grounds several times a day loaded inside and out with the employees of the camp, including the dancing girls and their partners in the fandango.

Where Cold Snaps Are Rare. Whenever a cold snap visits Fort Myers, far down in subtropical Florida, the inhabitants, who have no method of heating their houses, come out into the streets and keep warm by sitting around great fires of wood.

A magnet which the great Sir Isaac Newton wore as a set in his finger ring is said to have been capable of raising 746 grains, or about 500 times its own weight of iron, and to have been much admired in consequence of its phenomenal power.

Quicksilver was first discovered within the limits of the United States in California in 1846.
