CARNIVAL OF NATIONS.

The Carnival of Nations given by the ladies of the M. E. church, was a grand success, financially, socially and otherwise. The various nations were presented in national costume, and formed a picturesque and striking ensemble. The programme was of varied characters and the appreciation of the audience was manifested by repeated applause and frequent encores. The representative of each nation gave an historical sketch, or saluted the audience with his banner. The salute to the American flag was well rendered and formed a striking feature of the exercises. The grand march was an intricate and constantly changing kaleidoscope picture. The brilliant costumes intermingling in bewildering confusion, yet all the evolutions were executed with soldierly precision. Court Chamberlain C. B. Montague presented the different nations to the audience in his usual happy manner. It is but justice to say that all did well. Geo. Randle and Blanche Warner, in the role of Chinese, and J. Slater and Callie Warner as assable hued attendants from the banks of the Boriboola Gila, are deserving of especial mention. The autograph quilt was sold to A. A. Kees for $19. Needless to say that C. B. Montague won golden opinions as to his ability as an auctioneer, and his power to draw bids from unexpected sources. We are under the impression that he has kissed the barley stone during some of his travels. The success achieved was a happy surprise to all and illustrates the old adage, "where there's a will, there's a way," even to raise money during these hard times. The ladies are to be congratulated on the merit of their entertainment, and the repetition of the carnival on Saturday evening was a well deserved compliment.

CARD OF THANKS.

The ladies of the Methodist church desire to express their heartfelt thanks to Mr. C. B. Montague for his generous conduct in granting them the use of his building, and for his invaluable aid in drilling and conducting the grand march, also for the personal interest taken to make the occasion a grand success. No more courteous treatment could be desired at his hand than was received by them, and words fail to express our appreciation of his interest and generosity. To the orchestra for the excellent music rendered. To Miss Hattie Warner, of Albany, and to all those, who by their presence and assistance, contributed to the success of the entertainment we return our sincere thanks, realizing that this is but a feeble way of expressing our appreciation of their assistance yet appreciating the fact that "Kind hearts are more than coronets."

Our better halves say they could not keep house without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is used in more than half the homes in Leeds. SIMS BROS., Leeds, Iowa. This shows the esteem in which that remedy is held where it has been sold for years and is well known. Mothers have learned that there is nothing so good for colds, croup and whooping cough, that it cures these ailments quickly and permanently, and that it is pleasant and safe for children to take. For sale by N. W. Smith, druggist, 50 cents a bottle.

Those who never read the advertisements in their newspapers miss more than they presume. Johnathan Kenison, of Bolan, Worth county, Kansas, who had been troubled with rheumatism in his back, arms and shoulders, read an item in his paper about how a prominent German citizen of Ft. Madison had been cured. He procured the same medicine, and to use his own words: "It cured me right up." He also says: "A neighbor and his wife were both sick in bed with rheumatism. Their boy was over to my house and said they were so bad he had to do the cooking. I told him of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and how it cured me. He got a bottle and it cured them up in a week. For sale by N. W. Smith, druggist, 50 cents a bottle.

The Rock Hill Entertainment.

An entertainment was given last Saturday evening at the Rock Hill school house by the young people of that neighborhood and it was complete success. Following is the programme: Song—"Golden Slippers,"—Colored quartette. "The Windfall"—By several characters. Recitation—"How Renda Crossed the River," Miss Isa Smitty. "The Boy's Plot,"—By several characters. Song—"Don't Go Out To-night My Darling,"—By four ladies. "Too Much Side-show,"—By several characters. "Discove by a Collud Gen'leman," Chas. M. Anderson. "The Cat Without An Owner,"—By several characters. Declamation—"Mission Stars,"—Isa Smitty.

Following is a list of those taking part: Misses Emma, Mertie and Grace Winkley, Minnie Blackburn, Isa Smitty, Clara Temple, Belle Jackson, and Lydia Frum.

Messrs. Lester, Charles and Dee Blackburn, Otho and Hays Temple, Morris Jackson, Ernest Winkley, George Frum, Charles and Elmer Anderson.

Every one sustained their part well, making the entertainment a decided success.

Elmer Anderson as Jacob Schliker, the dutchman in "Too Much Side-show," brought down the house several times in his endeavor to find the boys who stole his watermelons.

Lester Blackburn as Kaiser Nagle, created considerable merriment while hunting for his "little white-and-odd-colored dog."

George Frum as Fred Smith, the bad boy in the "Boy's Plot," sustained his character grandly, making several decided hits.

Hays Temple, the ducky in "The Windfall," caused the audience to smile "out loud" several times in his many different comicalities.

All, in fact, without exception, deserve credit for the manner in which they carried their parts, but owing to lack of space we cannot give all in detail. Excellent music was furnished by the Burress orchestra.

Boy Drowned Near North Yamhill.

A distressing accident occurred near North Yamhill last Thursday afternoon. A little son of Cyrus Roberts, aged 4 years, went with his father to the field to plow. After being amused for awhile by following around the land with his father, the little fellow stopped to play near a creek that ran near by. On making the round Mr. Roberts missed the boy and immediately instituted a search, finding him cold and dead at the bottom of the stream. The water was only about 20 inches deep.
