FOR SHERIFF.

Many offices have to be filled at the June election. No office to be filled, comes closer to the people than the sheriff's office. No officer has to deal so intimately with the people. No officer has greater opportunity to oppress or to favor the unfortunate litigants and the people at large than the sheriff. He can help or can embarrass you, when in trouble. His arm is the arm of the law, to be used in justice and kindness or injustice or oppression as the character of the man dictates.

Jackson has filled this office two years. Where is the man who can say that Jackson ever used his authority to oppress any man—friend or foe? Has he not always indulgent when his duty would permit? Has he not always gone in rain or storm to execute his orders? Has he ever been derelict in his duty to the county or to any individual? He has traversed mountains of snow, has invaded the camps of Indians, has traveled without sleep for days and nights, in pursuit of prisoners and has always caught his man. None have escaped. Is he honest? Look over his office records. Every book is accurately kept, every account is correctly balanced, no man has lost a cent. The county has never suffered one penny. No better sheriff has ever filled the sheriff's office. There were good men who wanted the office, but the democrats with one accord gave to Jackson. No clique no faction, no bosses worked for Jackson. The people wanted him and the people got him. Vote for the man of the people, an honest, poor boy, who without aid, made himself an honored, respected and capable man. All of this can be truthfully said of Lum Jackson.

Hon. W. MITCHELL delivered an address in Union Hall Wednesday evening in the interest of the republican party. There was but little in his speech beside trying to explain the tariff and waving the bloody shirt. He was followed by Hon. S. A. Dawson who also tried to give us something new on the tariff and to the populists a roast on flexible money. Then came our young friend, A. J. Johnson, of Scio, who did better than the others because he did not say much on account of a cold. The populists have offered to pay Mr. Mitchell's expenses if he would come back and speak again, as they claim he did them more good than harm, and we believe it. The republicans have better timber in the county than Mr. Mitchell—men who can make a good sensible address, and who can argue their cause with much ability than this imported gentleman. The voters of Linn county are too intelligent for this gentleman and have long since discarded many of his senseless ideas and are progressive, even if they are republicans.

The Pollard-Breckinridge scandal should now be left severely alone. The woman has gotten her verdict against the man. Both have been exposed and both have been equally disgraced. Neither can again hope to have the respect of decent people. The morbid sentimentality that induces some people to make a heroine of this woman, has worked great damage to the manhood and womanhood of America. It has kept before the gaze of the people, vice clothed in its most attractive garb—a public trial. It is time to dismiss these people and their mutual crime from the public gaze.

WHATEVER doubt may have existed, and there has been very little, about Mr. Cleveland's purpose to help Senator Dolph's re-election, is now removed, and from henceforth it is to be a clean-cut fight between Dolph and Penoyer on the senatorship, with the gold men of both parties favoring the former and the silver men of both parties supporting the latter. The combinations are peculiar, the republicans and the administration democrats being in one combine, and the silver democrats, silver republicans and the populist in the other combine.

REV. JOE WALDROP, in his paper, the Leader, speaking of the platform adopted by the Astoria convention, says: "The state platform is the most remarkable document yet given to the people of Oregon. It begins with the declaration of an 'abiding faith and confidence in the integrity, good faith and patriotism of Grover Cleveland,' and then follows up with the most ultra populist platform we have seen. To endorse Cleveland and populism in the same breath is a feat in political gymnastics that takes the cake."

Owing to the dispute between the North American Commercial Company and the United States Government as to the amount of rent to be paid for sealing privileges in the Pribiloff Islands, the company has withdrawn its bid to supply coal for the United States revenue cutters in Behring Sea this summer.

NATHAN PIERCE, or "Gov. Pierce," as his friends call him, is in the city for a couple of days. He was asked when he would go on the campaign and said he would probably remain at home and attend strictly to his ranching operations. —Pendleton East Oregonian.

THE DALLES Chronicle wants the date for taxes to become delinquent extended from April 1st to December 1st. Its proposition is a good one. In the spring money is scarce and it is the most inconvenient season of the year for property owners to pay taxes.

THESE hard times are not profitable for the humorists. Mark Twain's bankruptcy is the logical sequence of times when all are weeping and none are laughing, and there is nothing so grim as professional humor.

CONGRESS is afraid to take any action on the Breckinridge matter, though the constitution plainly states the power of that body. If Breckinridge was unseated too many others equally as bad might be exposed.

A MASSACHUSETTS town finds itself in a novel situation. Its treasurer has resigned after serving twelve years, and has left in the treasury $300,000 that he cannot account for.

We had a republican speech Wednesday evening and oh! what a partisan thing it was! he went so far as to say that all the intelligence was in the East. He is a subject—of pity.

Mitchell Wednesday night said it made him sick to hear these little whipper snappers over the country talk fin-ance. Try a dose of populist caseria bark. Dr. Lamberson will administer the dose free.

We felt sorry for Mr. Dawson last night at the speaking. He thought one of his bulls was running at large once more, when Mitchell was making his fool talk.

Archie Johnson was quite hoarse last night singing the glorious golden time a comming when he takes his seat in the state senate. Poor Archie; your way there is beset with many thorns.

The Methodist Conference at New York, referred to a committee resolutions approving McKane's conviction and demanding Breckinridge's expulsion from Congress.

A young man who is compiling a history of Montana proposed to the Butte councilmen a few days ago to print a biographical sketch with a portrait of each man who would pay $20.

The bodies of two negro men were found floating in Mulberry creek nine miles from Selma, Ala., April 4th. The two bodies were tied together with a rope and their ears were cut off. They are believed to be the murderers of Mrs. Jessie Rucker, in Chilton county, several weeks ago.

THE MID-WINTER FAIR.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18, 1894.
TO THE EDITOR OF THE EXPRESS:

I am feeling a little lonely since my friend, Charley Smith, left for Oregon, although I still have company with Oregon Beauty. I took part in the grand parade through the city yesterday to the reception of Rex Felix, the king of carnivals. I assure you she was as much of an attraction as any one rig.

The king was received with regal honors upon his entrance to the city yesterday morning. The royal barge transferred the king and court from the good ship Argus in mid-stream to the Clay street wharf where landing was made. There the royal army received the king and went rushing up Market street and out to the park. The traveling bars of music were sought upon the towers and minarets of the City Palms, and there like no many lyrics sang out to the subjects of his royal majesty that he would never cease to love them.

It was 9:55 o'clock when the tug Fearless steamed out from the wharf with a party of ladies and gentlemen who had been invited to participate in Welcoming his Majesty. As the Fearless steamed toward the Golden Gate, she was saluted by the dipping of numerous flags and the sound of hundreds of whistles.

Uncle George, as they always call him, and the only name I have heard, delivered the address of welcome. He spoke as follows:

"Your Majesty, the pleasant duty has been assigned to me to bid you welcome. It is the first time since the discovery of this country Dan O'Connell that there has been a king among us. We have here the most beautiful land upon which the sun ever shone, the fairest women ever placed on earth to delight the hearts of men, a land of sunshine, fruit and flowers. For three days you will revel with all your court. The laws will all your merry company fullest license. May God guide you and your followers now and forever. Amen.

As the vessel approached the crowded wharves, again the whistles sounded bells rung, flags dipped and cries of "Long Live the King!" arose from the multitude. At the end of the wharf was a cannon which belched forth the royal salute as the imperial barge passed. The band once more struck up "If Ever I Cease to Love." At the landing the royal body guard was awaiting the king. It presented arms and cheered him loudly as he landed and the thousands of loyal subjects there assembled, joined in the hurrahs as they saw the merry monarch, Rex, accompanied by his jester, mount a six-horse dog-cart.

The royal court took seats in carriages, the advance was sounded and the march to the City of Palms was begun. The column was as follows:
Naval battalion, N. G. C.
Single Corps.
Battery.
Band.
Lord High Marshal.
Royal Herald, mounted.
His Majesty, Rex Felix, and jester.
Royal Court in carriages.
Company A, Royal Guards mounted
Invited guests in carriages.
Company B Royal Guards mounted.
Royal Embassadors in carriages.
Company A, Marmalukes.
" B, "
" C, "
" D, "

From here the line of march to the park was crowded with tens of thousands of spectators. Rex was first to be arrayed all over red except in the crown, even the nose was red. The master of ceremonies looked like the devil and acted the part. His mask was fashioned on a mold between the face of a dog and a baboon. In fact, the whole mob were dressed in red, and looked like wild men of the woods.

The ceremonial of presenting the keys of the city was short and impressive. On a yellow, cat-seated throne, placed between the governor and mayor sat Rex Felix in all the magnificence of his oriental splendor. The nose of his mask had been painted a bright red to indicate the convivial spirit of his majesty.

On a small -hiken pillow lay the three golden keys to the city which were presented to the king by Miss Juliet Mitchell.

The fair is still the drawing card. The city is very much stirred up over the industrial army. I was at Oakland this evening when an army of 600 landed from the city. They joined an army at Oakland which makes 1000 strong. There were 250 women with them, all in line keeping step to the drums. There was a band of 800 left a few days ago, which is helping to quiet the city, although plenty of toughs, yet a man or two for breakfast every morning, yet the army carry banners of every description with them. It is a sight to see that man never saw before and should hope never to see it again. It is very dry and warm here. It has not rained to speak of since I came here. It is fine out on the bay now and altogether it is a nice place to live. R. M. HATT.

Has Saved His Life! Marvelous Cure!

HARNEY, OREGON, April 30, '93.
O. W. R. MFG. CO., Portland, Ore.

Dear Sirs: About a year ago I was laid up with rheumatism. I was in a terrible state. I could not turn over in bed without assistance. As there was no physician in Harney I tried various liniments, but they all failed. When my condition was very serious, as the pain seemed to be striking near the heart, your agent came along and had a bottle of Congo Oil. Hearing I was ill with rheumatism, he called upon me, and brought a bottle of Congo Oil. He commenced rubbing me with it, and in less than five minutes I was relieved; in half an hour I was able to swing my feet out of bed, and one hour I was down stairs. He left the bottle with me and I applied it several times. From that day to this I have not been troubled with rheumatism. I feel that I owe my life to the wonderful oil. All this can be verified by Fred Haines, of Harney, also the landlord of the hotel and several others. I always carry a bottle of Congo Oil in my grip now.

Yours very truly,
C. H. NORTON,

Diabetes Cured.

Wonderful Work.

A New Being Created!

Dear Sirs: If you could see the writer of this letter and note the wonderful change that has been effected in his case by taking Dr. Grant's Kidney and Liver Cure, you would certainly be astonished. I was a most wretched sufferer for three years, trying all kinds of medicine and getting no relief. The flow of urine was very excessive. I was very constipated and also covered with carbuncles, and felt at war with myself and the world at large; but, thanks to your wonderful medicine, I felt as though I was a new being, and I consider a wonderful cure has been effected in my case.

With my best wishes for your further success, I remain
Yours respectfully,

Scrofula Cured.

Twenty-seven Years.

Suffered all the time and sores constantly breaking out—Used Eleven Bottles of Dr. Grant's Sarsaparilla and Grape Root and Fitted a Cure.

Dear Sir: Ever since my eleventh year I have been sorely afflicted with Scrofulous sores breaking out on various parts of my body. The glands of my neck were the most affected. I have doctored with many physicians, but their medicine did not seem to do me any good. About a year ago I commenced taking Dr. Grant's Sarsaparilla and Grape Root and I felt that the first bottle was doing me good, so I kept on until I had taken eleven bottles, and am now completely cured, and have never felt so well in the last twenty-seven years. It certainly was a cheap doctor bill, as the total cost of the medicine was only $5.50. I now cordially recommend Dr. Grant's Sarsaparilla as the King of Blood Purifiers.
