EPWORTH LEAGUE ANNIVERSARY.

The religious organization for young people, known as the Epworth League, whose success has been phenomenal, was, by a providential combination of circumstances, evolved a few years ago in the month of May. Every year since that time the various chapters in the Methodist Episcopal Church, and other Methodist bodies, both in the United States and foreign countries, which are enterprising and progressive, have observed the birthday anniversary of this organization with appropriate services. The following is the programme of the anniversary services of Beulah Chapter, of Lebanon, to be held at the Methodist Episcopal Church next Sunday, May 13, at 8 p. m., which will be very interesting and profitable: Vocal Voluntary. Opening Hymn. Prayer by Pastor. Anthem by Choir. Reading of Scripture. Singing by the League. Recitation by Dot Hope. " " Ralph Summerville. Solo by Callie Warner. Paper by Addie Simpson. Recitation by Blanche Warner. Solo by Hattie Warner, of Albany. Report of League Work by Ilda Elkins. Report of Junior League Work by Faye Randle. Song—Epworth League Battle-Hymn. CIRCUIT COURT.

Pursuant to adjournment, Judge Barnett held court Monday forenoon and transacted the following business: A Hackleman agt city of Albany: Defendant was given until first day of next term to answer. Same in J. H. Mullen agt city of Albany and J. A. Thornton agt city of Albany. Isaac Saltmarsh agt H. B. Miller et al. Findings dismissing suit and decree thereon. S. H. McElmurry agt Hugh C. Caldwell et al. Sale confirmed. Jacob Kees agt Lavina H. McCullough et al. Order for publication, and continuance ordered. J. A. McBride agt Bank of Oregon. Dismissed as per stipulation. John Leedy agt H. Middlestadt. Order of publication allowed. B. N. Berdman agt E. L. Beans and wife. Default and judgment. In estate of Martha Hunter. Continued. D. M. Osborne and Co agt S. P. Barger and wife. Continued. In the matter of the assignment of the Bank of Oregon to W. S. Thompson assignee, the petition for removal of assignee having been heard at the regular March term, Judge Barnett handed in his decision, with eight findings, of which the following is the substance: 1. That at the time and immediately before the assignment, W. S. Thompson was treasurer and Jay Blain secretary of the Albany Building and Loan Association, as well as cashier and assistant cashier of the Bank of Oregon. 2. That at the time of the assignment and immediately before Mr. Thompson, as such treasurer, had a deposit of $219.82, and Jay Blain as secretary $256, besides $250 due F. S. Crosby from the association, which had been deposited in the bank. 3. To secure the association, a large amount of promissory notes of the bank were taken and held by Mr. Thompson. 4. That said Blain and Thompson knew at the time that the bank was insolvent. 5. That money on the notes was collected and applied to the payment of the building and loan association deposits, the notes being surrendered. 6. Refers to transactions with the First National Bank of Portland. 7. Before the assignment, the Bank of Oregon collected money on notes held by the First National Bank of Portland while yet in their possession, but never remitted to said bank the money so collected, nor otherwise settled with it. 8. That after becoming assignee, said Thompson paid to said First National Bank in full out of money collected by him as assignee, from the assets of the Bank of Oregon. As a conclusion of law the court finds that said W. S. Thompson as such assignee is guilty of wasting and misapplying the estate of said Bank of Oregon and should be removed from his trust as such assignee. It is further ordered that D. H. James be appointed assignee of the said bank upon giving bond, that the goods, chattels and effects of every kind be delivered to him by said bank, also that said Thompson permit said James to have access to books, notes and other accounts for the purpose of making an inventory, and that a final account be filed by said Thompson by the next term of court. Matter of assignment continued. The Presbytery. The presbytery of the Willamette held a short session in this city Tuesday with Rev. Wm. Hutchinson, the moderator, in the chair. The relationship of Rev. Dr. Townsend and the Independence church was dissolved on account of the health of his family, he was placed at Newport. Arraignments were made for the installation of Rev. Mr. Hutchinson as pastor of the Salem church. Mr. D. J. McCullagh was given temporary license to preach and will be under the Presbytery. Mr. Bert Wight, of Lebanon, was taken under the charge of the presbytery while preparing for the ministry.—Herald. T. L. DAVIDSON. Mr. T. L. Davidson, the democratic candidate state treasurer, made a fine impression in his brief and manly talk to the people here yesterday. His joyful face, pleasing manners and good business record will make him many votes. He stands a good chance to be our next treasurer. He is a pioneer of '47, and entitled to all the credit that is due those sturdy old giants who have made Oregon what it is. He is a farmer and stock-raiser and should receive the support of the people. Pure blood Brown Leghorns, eggs $1 per setting—13. W. W. CHAFFORD, Tailor, Or. See Read Peacock & Co's new "ad."

William Galloway

The time has come, in the history of Oregon, when the people need for their chief executive an honest, sensible, economical man. Extravagant men and cranky politicians are not needed now. Men raised in affluence and wealth, like the talented Lord, and men who have been chronic office-seekers, like Pierce, are not wanted by the people. We cannot afford the former, and we are too proud to have the latter. There is now a man before the people whom the people need. That man is William Galloway, of Yamhill county; and the reasons for his election are many but simple. He came here across the plains when a boy and was reared to manhood amid the privations of early pioneers and was educated by money earned by his own hard labor. He has spent his life in Yamhill county, mingling freely with the people, whose friend he has ever been. His county once needed a judge—the first was then heavily in debt by mismanagement, while the other is now deeply in debt by lavish and unnecessary expenditure of public money. His republican county chose him for the judge, and he so administered its affairs that it is now out of debt and levies only a 13-mill tax. He was sent to the legislature and was appointed chairman of the committee that regulates appropriations. By his management the state's expense were cut to a low figure, and have never to this day been so ably and economically managed. He is needed in the governor's chair. His veto will check useless, and his integrity will insure the state a clean administration. He has publicly pledged himself to receive for his services as governor, only what the constitution allows, and his record warrants the public in believing him. He favors the re-enactment of the mortgage law. He believes in the Australian ballot law, and advocates the passage of a law doing away with the useless changes in the text-books in our public schools, thereby saving to the people many thousands of dollars a year. Oregon needs Wm. Galloway for her governor, the friend of the people.

HON. J. K. WEATHERFORD.

Hon. J. K. Weatherford is before the people for congress. He is well known all over Oregon. He came here across the plains when a boy, worked his way, educated himself by his own labor, equipped himself as a lawyer, and now stands at the head of the bar in this state. His integrity and ability were soon recognized. He was repeatedly elected to the legislature and was speaker many years ago, when almost a boy. His long record as a public man shows him to be thoroughly honest, intelligent and firm in his stand for the interest of the people against all forms of monopoly. He has been known in the legislature for years as the champion of the people, and has been cordially hated by the friends of monopoly. Weatherford should go to congress. He has what the people of his district need—honesty, ability and integrity. He is very partial to the interest of his people. He would work hard and well for a large appropriation for the Willamette and also for the bays and rivers on our coast. He believes in their speedy improvement, for, he argues, that by making these outlets navigable, the railroads will be forced to lower freights. His argument is good. A water-way competition is better than all the railroad commissions that can be elected with big salaries. He favors a canal across the Panama Isthmus—to cheapen the freight on wheat and other articles sent to a long distance. He believes in low tariff, is a protection to the laboring classes and argues well to that end. He has for years advocated the election of U. S. senators by the people and is on record in the legislature to that effect. He is heart and soul for silver and will strive to make it equal to gold in its purchasing power. In fact, he introduced resolutions in the legislature at several terms to instruct our senators to advocate the restoration of silver. He is heartily in favor of an income tax. Mr. Weatherford's personal character is above reproach; his political record has always held him close to the people; his ability, honesty and integrity would him a very desirable member of congress. He has a large republican majority to overcome, but no man is better qualified to accomplish it than is J. K. Weatherford, of Linn county.
