Senator Tongue is to speak at Ashland on the Fourth.

A Dallas fishwheel caught 3000 pounds of bluebacks Friday.

It will take ten bands to satisfy Eugene's musical ear on the Fourth.

Sixteen dollars is about all a farm team will bring at a Corvallis auction.

Frank Arnold, of Pendleton has gone insane through loss of his property.

Albany's building and loan association put out its last loan at 76 month's interest.

Some 400 days work have been subscribed for improving the road between Salem and Turner.

Captain Sachs is making arrangements to establish a gun factory in Eugene for the manufacture of his hammerless gun.

W. H. Fletcher, father of the young man recently pardoned by the governor, has spent $6000 in his son's behalf since the crime.

Willamette university will send a party of some 35 professors and students to make the ascent of Mount Hood some time in August.

The flood caused many of the newspaper men in eastern Oregon to print their papers on manilla paper, because of a scarcity of news paper.

C. J. Atwood, the prize-winner orator of Willamette university, is also something in athletics, having won the first prize at rope climbing field day.

The Baker City Democrat states that the ore on the dump at the Emma mine, as experted by reliable mining men, will go from $100 to $300 to the ton.

Darr Phelps, a hand in the Pendleton scouring mill, used a pin to remove a splinter from his hand. Blood poisoning set in and he is confined to his bed with a dangerous arm.

C. N. Wagner, assessor of Grant county, had a narrow escape from death by lightning last week, near Beach creek station. As it was he was thrown from his horse and slightly injured.

The team of a Helix farmer, named McFerran, ran off a bridge throwing him, his wife, her son and his wife and little child from the wagon. Mrs. McFerran will probably die as she was frightfully injured.

Albert Shepherdson, an old gentleman at Grant's Pass, was recently struck in the right side by a spent rifle ball, and a painful flesh wound was inflicted. The bullet was fired from a gun in the hands of Ed Levier who had fired at birds.

W. A. Wells has leased from A. L. Maxwell, received of the Oregon Development Company, and will operate the grain warehouse at Wrenn, Blodgett, Philomath and Munkers, along the line of the Oregon Pacific.

Walter Rowe, the last of the young Dalles highwaymen, has given himself up and is in jail. He is not blamed, apparently as much as the others, and is thought to have been influenced. His parents are highly respected.

The stove as a safe-deposit vault for family valuables has again proven unreliable, this time at St. Helens, where the good wife of one of the house-holders made it the receptacle for two $20 gold pieces and a bank check for $40. A fire started in the stove by the husband converted the check into smoke and the coin into slugs.

Advices from Southern Alaska state that the settlers along the coast of the North Prince of Wales sound are alarmed over the Indian uprising. Two unknown white men passing down the coast in an open boat were assassinated and their bodies badly mutilated. The Governor has been requested to send a revenue cutter to prosecute the ringleaders.

The light draught steamer Eugene, which has been making weekly trips between Portland and Eugene, has demonstrated the fact that she will be able to run as far as Corvallis during the whole summer, giving the shippers along the Willamette a two-trips-a-week service, thereby saving them the exorbitant rates charged in the summer season by the railroads.—Independent.

The Astoria Budget man at least on paper is a regular Corbett. Hear him: The Budget picked no quarrel with the Herald or the deputy district attorney; but if he is hunting for a little notoriety and advertising we are just the boys who can give it to him. If you mean trouble, Mr. Deputy District Attorney and Defender of Crap shooters and Vags, just put up your dukes and jump into the ring with the rest of your kind, and we will proceed to give you the best we have in the shop.

A newspaper in Illinois recently brought suit against 43 men who would not pay their subscriptions, and obtained judgement in each case for the amount of each claim. Of these, 28 made affidavit that they owned no more than the law allowed them, thus preventing attachments. Then under the decision of the supreme court, they were arrested for petty larceny and bound over in the sum of $300 each. All but six gave the bonds. The new postal laws make it petty larceny to take a paper and refuse to pay for it.

Shortly after 1 o'clock Monday afternoon Ira Bowman, an old resident of Springfield, dropped dead near his home in the eastern edge of the village. The deceased gentleman was about 65 years of age and at the time of his death was engaged in mowing some grass in a small field. Bystanders saw him fall suddenly while whetting his sythe and going up to him found life extinct. A doctor was sent for but it was useless to attempt a revival. Mr. Bowman was a pioneer of the vicinity in which he lived.—Eugene Guard.

The Lincoln County Leader says that "The Pioneer rock quarry has been awarded the contract for furnishing the stone for the Parrot building in San Francisco, and as soon as the new channel machine arrives from the east, larger quantities of stone will begin to move. The machine reached Umatilla, but was stopped by the flood, and was sent around by Ogden and Sacramento. It is expected to arrive in a week or ten days, and its arrival will enliven things at the quarry, and improve business on the O. P."

THE FLOOD.

The flood took a turn Saturday after reaching a height of 33 feet above low water, and is now going down slowly. Some fears are entertained that the worst has not come yet, and that it will come up again with the warm June weather! But it is to be hoped that such fears will not be justified.

The work of cleaning up the inundated districts is closely following up the receding water. The temporary sidewalks are being removed in the night-time, to the water's edge, and the sidewalks are being cleared of the mud.

The extent of the damage done cannot be estimated, but it can be safely put down at $20,000,000, which will include the Snake and Columbia water ways. In this city the loss by destruction of property and loss of business will be at least $10,000,000. The city will be at an enormous expense to repair damage done streets and public property. The flood has been a source of revenue to boatmen who had crafts of every conceivable shape or style, and a great number of people took excursions through the overflowed city. The Chinese quarters which are submerged also have been a scene of merriment for the celestials, who have been indulging in boat races on the streets.

Several persons are reported missing and are supposed to be drowned, but this is not authentic, as it is known that many have left the city to escape the flood.

Stores that have been under water are being cleared and put into shape for business. Should the water continue falling at its present rate it will be a month before the lower docks are uncovered. Work is being given out as fast as possible to residents of the city, and strangers coming in from other parts are not employed, and it will be well for them to stay away.

Sauvies Island is nearly all covered and the damage is figured at more than $310,000. The Union Pacific track along the Columbia is destroyed for miles, and in many places the road bed will have to be changed.

The question of a sea wall around the city is talked of, but it is probably impracticable.—Portland Dispatch.

"Many of the citizens of Painesville Indiana, are never without a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house," says Jacob Brown, the leading merchant of the place. This Remedy has proven of so much value for colds, croup and whooping cough in children that few mothers who know its worth are willing to be without it. For sale by N. W. Smith, druggist.

Black Sand Mining.
 Mr. H. Rogers, of this city, has returned from Yaquina, where he has been investigating the new process of black sand mining on the coast. He says that the new machine invented by Isaac Banta is proving a great success. It is a chemical process. A long sluice box is used with a hopper and sieve to keep out the large debris in the sand. The chemical proportion is then placed in the bottom of the sluice box, which collects or precipitates the fine gold in the bottom of the box. Mr. Rogers says that miners who used to be able to take out 75 cents to $1 00 a day by the old process, are now taking out as high as $5 00, and under favorable conditions, $18 00 per day. About thirty-five men are at work, he says, on the South beach between Yaquina and Ahean, and most of the claims are taken for 14 miles down the beach. This new black sand mining machine is owned by Banta, Wink & Brasfield, and they are confident that they have a bonanza. They say that with this process they can save 90 per cent of the gold in all the black sand which abounds along the coast. Mr. Wink and Mr. Toner have gone down the coast to Port Orford, to put some machines to work there, and several miners have gone up the coast as far as Tillamook. If the new machines prove as great a success as appearances now indicate, black sand mining on the Oregon coast will develop into a profitable.—Herald.
