WATERLOO NOTES. Health report. Ball and Bat. Council Doings. Fourth of July. Buggy wheels and Beer.

Dr. O, B, Reese

Granny Sundown.

Social news gathered from our neighbors.

Soda can now be obtained and the sick are convalescing.

The Calapoola nine played the Waterloo's a game on the diamond Sunday. Score, 20 to 13 in favor of the visiting nine. Jumbo deserves special mention with his all round playing.

Rice has stepped down and out, and the council have chosen Mr. J. C. Hutton to hold down the office of police judge.

The boys removed a wheel from the conveyance of a repeating bridegroom, in our city recently. The cause w beer. The gent not having the collateral (or for some other reason which we fail to learn) borrowed a wheel and left town with flying colors. The boys had all the fun but no beer. When a man allows a buggy wheel to be taken from the yard in daylight, he should dispense with glasses and get a little dog with a string to lead him. Pity is akin to love and on account of his sorrowing parent the wheel was re-turned. Boys, if you had taken the bride he might have redeemed her if you had only asked two glasses instead of a keg.

Aunty Sunshade seems to be moving loser to civilization, and learning to write about great men. She could not take a better text and one that would please more people (in "Sods,") than the one rendered a few days since. Keep right along sister, you will tell what little you know in a few items. How long since you discarded moccasins? Hey?

School has closed for the present. Mr. Wirt has accepted a call from Hamilton Creek and will teach them a. school to be proud of. A good teacher is required here this fall. Some one with more brains than this section possesses, wanted. Anyone who thinks he or maybe she has that article on an enlarged scale please call. (A good opening for "Sunshine," or "Cal.")

Pardon our silence, but in truth it was a great rest. We have been 'worritin'" over the probability of walking forth with a roll of blankets, after the mortgage that sits enthroned sbove our beautiful country palace (and in fact on top of all Waterloo) has been foreclosed. If anyone has saved 75 cents out of the Lebanon bank he should purchase this one-mule place and turn it into a branch asylum with the stock right on hand to start business with.

We pause, something the majority of readers did before reading the news D. O. LITTLE.

FOSTER ITEMS.

School closed last Friday at Foster. Prof. Grimes of the Lewis district and his school visited the Foster school and took part in the closing exercise. Everything went off harmonious and everyone enjoyed themselves nicely.

Mr. A. H. Yost and two sons were up on their homestead last week and returned Saturday evening.

Jno. Gillifand is quite poorly. Mrs. Levi McQueen is but little, if any better.

A force of hands are at work on the county road.

Mrs. G. B. Whitcomb and children think some of visiting her mother in Glendora, Cal., this summer. Mr. Whitcomb will stay in Big Bottom.

More next week. MART.

A Bicycle Race.

At Medford last Saturday an interesting bleycle race occurred between Lyle Rice, the well known Ashland operator, and a former resident of Albany, and George Parker of Medford. Rice is a heavy man, weighing about 225. The race was between Jacksonville and Medford, a distance of five miles, and won by Parker in 16 minutes and 8 seconds. Considerable money changed hands, and had not Rice fallen at the end of a mile would have stood some show of winning.

A Jall Break.

Ed Scott and George Hall, who have been in the Benton county jail several weeks, awaiting the action of the grand jury, broke out about 5 o'clock this morning by cutting away a portion of the arched door at the entrance to the the arched door as the entrance to the jail, with a pocketknife. The alarm was given by a passer-by and soon after the departure the sheriff and posse were in hot pursuit. About 3 o'clock this afternoon, the fugitives were overtaken in a wheatfield six miles west of town, and were captured without resis

Governor Pennoyer has more fun than any man in Oregon. The telegram gives the following, another evidence of the fact: Governor Pennor has been very reticent since the inte election but the news from Califonia has thawed him out. When seen this morning he was glancing over a newspaper while a broad smile played over his face. "I have just been reading the criticisms of the country press on what they call "defeated Pennoyerism," he said, "but it is only another case where all the asses think it is their chance to back up and kick at the dead lien."
