Princyille Review: There is scarcely any binding twine in this place, and little hopes of getting it in time for harvest, owing to the uncertainty of transportation companies being able to handle freight. But there are plenty of idle men in the country, and if farmers cannot get twine they can bind their grain by hand.

The editors of the Antelope Herald and Fossil Journal are indulging in some "complimentary" remarks about each other-in fact they are going at it in true "Western style." One of them styles the other a "cowardly shoe-peg and a sneaking, unprincipled, low-bred ass," while the other retorts, asserting that his adversary is an "up and-up cur."

The Scio Press comments on the Salem-Scio road: Indeed, this road proposition is a big one. It means as much for Scio as it does for Salem. It means better markets and better markets and better prices for the goods they offer for sale and it means better stocks to select from and lower prices for their purchases. This is a matter Scio should take a deep interest, for it is for her welfare.

The only event worthy of note did not happen last Sunday. There was no herse race and that should be published.

Some 500 persons were here Sunday. Some came to drink, others to see and hear the baptismal services, and others -oh, well, they just came. We notice Elder Wayback has taken to travel and was pleased to note his presence last week. He now has a shingle to east up his "spud account" We are truly sorry for the Lewis district if the present incumbent is the best that ever graced their palatial log school building. Better sign "taffy next time you scribble. The Leander of the Sodaville "Side View" takes exceptions because some one told the truth about the spring at his summer distort, "Honesty is the best policy," we will not say their spring is irretrievably rulned, but just at present the outlook and output is rather murky.

One of those ranters who have the only solid pull on the pearly gates, has fallen among us. They come periodically. Winters tried all that he knew how and made few converts in this vicinity. We trust that some may turn from taeir crooked paths and plant their pedals on that turnpike be let, and he had an idea his bid that leads, not toward Waterloo, but Zionward.

Something About Fish

Dr. H. M. Smith, United States fish commissioner, has recently came to the coast and in an interview with a newspaper man said: "Shad were first introduced into the waters of this coast in 1871, when 12,000 young fish were deposited in the Sacramento, under the asupices of California fish com-mission. Between that time and 1889, 609,000 young shad were placed in the Williamette; 300,000 in the Columbia and 100,000 in the Snake river. The aggregate cost of these plants amounted to less than $4000, while the shad fisheries established as the result of these meage rdeposits have already yielded the fishermen over $200,000,"

A PERSONAL BOYCOTT

CHICAGO, July 22.-Debs, -Howard, Keliher and Rogers, the American Railway Union officials, today issued an address to the public, the substance of which is as follows:

"It is almost universally conceded that the Pullman company, through oftrepeated reduction of wages, excessive rents and many other causen, has grievously wronged its employes and that, whatever may be said about the great strike which resulted in consequence of such grievance, the ar-bitary refusal of said Pallman company to submit to arbitration in any (even to decide if there were anything to arbitrate) is proof positive that company has no faith in the justice of he cause, and tears the disclosures that are certain to result from an honesa investigation, and in view of the heavy losses entailed upon the country, such obstinacy on the part of the Pullman company is deserving of the severest condemnation. -

"We propose that the Pullman company shall be brought to justice and in a way that shall necessitate a strike without its attendant itis. We have futh in the American people; they uphold justice; they love fair play, and now, we appeal to the great American public, to every man and every good woman, not to ride in a Pollman car until the Pullman company does justice to its employes. Let the cars run absolutely empty. Friends of labor, no lover of humanity will occupy a seat or berth in a Pullman car. Let this policy be inaugurated, and then we will see how long the railway companies will be bound by the contracts, as they induced the people believe, to haul Pullman care. We propose to continue the fight against Pullman company through good and evil report, and with out regard to consequences, until justice shall bedone. There will be no surrender. We will use every available and lawful means to press the contest.

"It is requested that all papers throughout the land, favorable to labor, to justice, to humanity, copy this statement full and keep it standing as long as possible."

The address concludes with an earnest appealed to the public for aid, and is signed by:

Eugene V. Debs, president; George W. Howard, vice-president; Sylvester Keliher, secretary; F. W. Rogers, edittor Railway Times.

The Oregon Senatorship.

Although the legislature will not meet for six months, there is considerable speculation as to the successor of Senator Dolph. The large republical majority assures the election of the man nominated at the republican enucus, even if a few should bolt. D. P. Tompson, who has made his lecture on Turkey a means of going about the state, would be acceptable to the silver men, as he is a prominent advocate of free collage, but his personal chareteristics do not win him many admirers or ardent supports. Senator Corbett is credited with an ambition to end his days as United States senator, but he is equally objectionable with Dolph to the silver men and his feeble health is against him, Sol Hirsch has never lost sight of the office nor forgotten his defeat for which the mission to Turkey was not a sufficient recompense. Two younger and more act publicans are mentioned for the place, C. W. Fulton and Thomas H. Tongue, Both are extremely popular, able, energetic and gifted with the rare quality of doing things for others cheerfully and earnestly, and neither has established a financial record that is objectional to the externists on either. There are no doubt others who will be mentioned or will keep their lightning rods in order. The situation is both interesting and perplexing.-Portland correspondent in Salem Statesman.
